DEER HUNTER'S FATAL MISTAKE

Fires Into Party of Four, Killing Two and Wounding One

May's Landing, N. J., Nov. 2.—Eager to have a shot at a deer which he supposed was coming down an unused road in the gloom of the early dawn yesterday, Charles Norcross, of Iowa, N. J., fired into a party of four other hunters, killing two and seriously wounding a third. The dead are: Conrad Steelman, 28 years old, of Pleasantville, N. J., and John Yost, 32, Pleasantville. Injured: William Jarvis, Pleasantville.

Norcross, in the Atlantic county jail here awaiting the action of the coroner. He is badly broken up over his fatal mistake. According to Norcross' statement made to a justice of the peace at Minerva, he was standing behind some underbrush at the side of a road when he heard a noise. Not thinking that any other hunters were in the vicinity, and believing that the sound came from a deer walking down the road, Norcross says he raised his gun and fired one barrel of buckshot in the direction of the noise. Before he could lower his gun there was a shriek and jumping out of the underbrush he was horrified to see three men lying in the road.

Realizing in an instant the terrible mistake he had made, Norcross went after the other members of his party and the three injured men were placed in the automobile and rushed to Pleasantville. One of the victims died in six minutes and the other lived 25 minutes.

Norcross comes from a respectable family. He is said to be a man of good habits, is married and has two children. The victims were strangers to him.

Turks Demand the Surrender of Tripoli

Tripoli, Nov. 2.—A formal demand for the surrender of Tripoli was made today to the Italian commander by the Turks. An Arab desert force is closing in on the city. It is understood that the demand was promptly refused.

"BUFFALO BILL" RETIRES

DISBANES HIS SHOW AND WILL SPEND BALANCE OF HIS LIFE IN WYOMING.

Richmond, Nov. 2.—Col. Mm. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), retired from public life last night. His show was backed off to winter quarters and his Indians will return to the Tepees in what is left of the Red Man's land, while Buffalo Bill intends to spend his remaining years in the Wyoming Big Horn, where he helped make American history.

So far as public exhibitions are concerned, he has shot the ashes from the last cigar and chased the last Indian. During a career which began as a pony express rider, led him through more Indian battles than any other living white man and included 25 years as a showman Colonel Cody became known as one of the most picturesque figures of American frontier life.

The sobriquet "Buffalo Bill" he earned in the early sixties when he contracted to furnish buffalo meat to the laborers on the building of the Kansas Pacific railroad and in less than 18 months he killed 4,370 head.

NEW METHOD OF BUILDING ROADS

Superintendent Pollard Discovers New Material In County

ONE THIRD COST MACADAM

Natural Formation of Road Building Material Is Utilized in Building Durham County Roads With Mark-Success—Other Roads Will Likely Be Constructed of Same Material.

Superintendent Pollard, of the Durham county roads, is carrying on an experiment in road building that promises to furnish to the county a method of securing roads of the highest efficiency and durability at less than one-third of the cost of ordinary macadam.

Superintendent Pollard has discovered in several parts of the county beds of a gravel formation that can be utilized for road building just as it comes from the ground without crushing, mixing, or going through any of the other expensive processes that make road building material expensive. The gravel mixture is very much like the mixture prepared artificially in building sand-clay roads, only the gravel mixture has been prepared by nature. It consists of a peculiar kind of soil in which rather coarse gravel has been thoroughly mixed by geological forces. When this material is placed on the road, in the manner of placing macadam, it packs, the soil acts as a binder for the gravel and the whole becomes a mass apparently as solid and durable as cement.

Four and one half miles of this kind of road has been built by Superintendent Pollard on the Coles mill road in the vicinity of Huckleberry springs. The gravel mixture was placed on the road just as it came from the field where the formation is found. A part of the road has been down for more than a year and has been subjected to the heaviest kind of traffic. It is as smooth and well rounded today as it was the first day it was put down. The road resembles very closely asphalt or bituminous. It is not so hard as macadam, but is much more elastic. It sheds water perfectly and remains perfectly solid the year round.

Superintendent Pollard now has a force of hands at work on the extension of the road with the same kind of material. Similar gravel formations have been discovered in other parts of the county by Superintendent Pollard. Five miles of the Bahama road which the commissioners intend to have improved in a short time will likely be built of the material. The same material has been used in building roads in Wake county and it has proved to be very satisfactory in every way.

ROBBERS KILLED THEIR PURSUER

Counsel Building Richeson's Defense

Boston, Nov. 2.—John L. Lee, of Lynchburg, Virginia, and Philip Dunbar, of Boston, began work today building the defense of Rev. C. V. T. Richeson, charged with the murder by poison of Miss Avis Linnell, his former sweetheart, with which they will support the plea of "not guilty," beginning next Monday, when the juryman will be arraigned.

Richeson today resigned as pastor of Emanuel Baptist church at Cambridge.

Double Celebration At St. Mary's School

Haleigh, Nov. 2.—An especially notable feature of the observance of All Saints' day here was an address at St. Mary's College by Rev. Edward M. Parker, bishop coadjutor of New Hampshire, who is the guest of president George W. Lay, of St. Mary's. This was also Founder's day for this justly famous school for young women and the program had to do with this double observance—All Saints' and Founders' days.

To Abolish Charleston As a Torpedo Station

Washington, Nov. 2.—The government is preparing to withdraw most of the vessels from the Charleston navy yard and ultimately abandon it as a torpedo station. Some of the boats which have been at the naval review at New York will not return to the station.

WITNESSES CALLED BY GRAND JURY IN RICHESON MURDER CASE.

Wild eyed and trembling, the Rev. Clarence Richeson heard the announcement of his indictment for murder in the first degree for the death of Miss Avis Linnell. The little courtroom in Boston was packed when the indictment was read. The indictment contained several counts, which described various ways in which the minister is alleged to have given the Linnell girl the cyanide of potassium which, it is charged, ended her life. Among the witnesses who have been called thus far, Baker, the brakeman, who says he saw Richeson and Avis Linnell at the South Station, Boston, before she took the fatal cyanide, gave the most damaging testimony. Portraits of others who were called are shown above.

To Get First Hand Information Governor Wilson After Atlantic City Politicians Will Distribute Remaining Funds During Next Year

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 2.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson in a speech here last night flayed the "bosses" of Atlantic City, saying that he would see to it that "nothing must be omitted which will clear our politics of those who debauch them."

Among other things the governor said: "Atlantic City is famous all over the United States and for a greater part of the world for its charms and its shame. The whole continent looks with pity on Atlantic City because you have submitted to bossism. You have stood cowed and submissive and let it exist." He referred to the men responsible for the "bossism" of the city and state as "lawless plunderers."

In conclusion he said: "You have men of unimpeachable life, of honor, established reputation; big and honorable business men of pure privilege and public life crowding the streets of Atlantic City and county, all of them walking like driven sheep under the grip of the management of a little group of men from whose domination they could escape with but the slightest assertion of independence. A handful of men against a population; a body of crooks against a great, self-respecting population. The thing is incredible. The truth is a terrible whip. Only draw the whip from under your coat and see the dogs sink."

COMPLAINT FILED IN DIVORCE SUIT

Mr. J. W. Burroughs Asks Separation from Wife

SENSATION IS PROMISED

Alleges Marital Infidelity as Grounds for Divorce—Mrs. Burroughs Will Fight to the Last—Names of Prominent People Will Be Brought Out When Case Comes to Trial.

The complaint in a divorce proceedings by Mr. John W. Burroughs, manager of the Academy of Music, against his wife, Mrs. Kate Wilson Burroughs, was filed at the office of the clerk of the superior court Wednesday evening. The complaint alleges marital infidelity as the ground for the divorce.

Messrs. Bryant and Brogden are to represent the plaintiff in the case, and Manning and Everett are to represent the defendant. The defendant and the co-respondents will fight the case to the last in order to vindicate the defendant of the charges brought against her. The names of a number of prominent Durham people will be brought into the case, although the principal co-respondent is not a resident of the city. The case promises to be the most interesting that has been tried in the Durham superior court for some time.

Mrs. Burroughs comes of a prominent family of Bridgeport, Conn. She is the daughter of an Episcopal rector that holds a prominent place in church circles. She is now at her New England home, to which she went from Durham last spring. Her family will fight the case strenuously, and it is very probable that her brother, who is a prominent attorney will appear in her defense.

PRESIDENT TAFT REVIEWS FLEET

Climax Reached in the Great Naval Demonstration

New York, Nov. 2.—America's greatest naval demonstration came to a climax today with the review of the majestic war fleet by President Taft and officials of the Navy department on board the Mayflower. The inspection of the line of war vessels, stretching for seven miles along the Hudson river was a fitting close for the president's transcontinental journey.

President Taft was met in Jersey by Secretary of the Navy Meyer and they boarded the Mayflower together and had breakfast aboard. The president showed pride in the great armada, which is the biggest ever reviewed by a president of the United States.

The Government Moves Against The Armour's

Washington, Nov. 2.—The department of justice today made its first move against the Armour interests, alleged to have affected a corner in wheat, tying up 62,000,000 bushels, or 60 per cent of the entire supply. The facts of the case were laid before the federal grand jury in Chicago.

Total Destruction Manila Threatened

Manila, Nov. 2.—The city was today threatened with total destruction by a fire which caused a million dollar loss. At noon it was thought the entire city would go, but soldiers saved the balance to the city after a hard battle with the flames.

M'CULLERS CASE IS THROWN OUT

Wake County Health Officer Wrangle Not Settled Yet

Raleigh, Nov. 2.—Judge R. B. Peebles today dismissed the injunction proceeding of Dr. J. J. L. McCullers against the Wake county commissioners seeking to compel the commissioners to recognize his appointment as county superintendent of health by the state board of health and the county board of health. This turn in the case was on a motion to dismiss by County attorney H. C. Beckwith on the ground that the proceeding was defective in that the individual members of the board of commissioners and not the commissioners as a board were named as defendants.

It is possible and, indeed, probable that the proceeding will be rendered with this defect in the proceeding cured.

This is the suit in which the county commissioners and the county board of health could not agree on the county physician and his pay and under the act of the last legislature the state board of health through its secretary named the county physician and his pay arbitrarily, the pay being on a fee basis that would make the revenue far more than the commissioners would consent to pay. They insisted, too, that since the new law made the county physician devote much time to school inspection, a part of the pay should come from the school and not the general fund.

This fight has been dragging along in court and seems to be no nearer solution. The desire is to get a test case up to the supreme court so that the right of the secretary of the state board to step into the breach such as this was in Wake and decree just what the statute of the state board as related to the counties of the state in such matters is.

Revolution Recognized And Hostilities Cease

Peking, Nov. 2.—The national assembly formally recognized the revolution today and at the request of Li Yuan Heng the revolutionary leaders suspended hostilities.

Dispatches from Shanghai say a massacre by imperial troops is in progress in Hankow.

English Authoress Dead.

NO DIVIDEND BY A. T. CO.

DIRECTORS HOLD MEETING, BUT DECLARE NO DIVIDEND—COUNSEL MAKES STATEMENT.

New York, Nov. 2.—The American Tobacco Company directors held their regular monthly meeting here yesterday. Ordinary this would have been the day that action would have been taken on the common stock dividend, but the statement given out three months ago convinced Wall Street that there would be no further dividend on the common stock, and none was declared yesterday.

After the meeting DeLancey Nicoll, who was the big man in constructing the trust's disintegration plan said: "Our work in connection with the case is now finished. Everything depends upon the decision of the circuit court, and when that decision will be reached I cannot say. There is no truth in the report that we are preparing an alternative plan of disintegration to use in the event of our original being turned down by the court."
