TILDEN AND WILLIAMS FIGHTING FOR DAVIS CUP, PULL GAME FROM FIRE

Smith and Graves Do Their Stuff In Ninth and Winning Marker Goes Over
Ending Spine—Tingling Fray Saturday

Gibson Allowed Nine Hits to Kiefer's Eleven and Struck Out Seven Men. Three of Them in One Inning But Lost Five to Four.

WHITTED PULLS BIG LEAGUE SLIDE AT HOME
Balls Came From Behind to Tie in Seventh Only to See Game Slip Out of Their Grasp When Smith Was Allowed to Stretch Single.

The Raleigh Capitals, on their metal, fought out a 5 to 4 victory over the Durham Bovines, yesterday afternoon at Doherty park.

It took the ninth inning to finally settle the old baseball argument, and erratic fielding in this hoop made the winning score possible.

Throughout the early stages of the game Raleigh had the best of the battle, due principally to a wild heave by Alec Gibson. In the final innings Gibson pitched like a master of the mound, and really deserved to annex a victory.

Both teams did some smart offensive work, and likewise the defensive operators were good. Durham's work was more brilliant than that of the Capitals at certain moments, but the glory of scintillating plays was taken away by inefficiency in other periods of excitement.

Both teams battled hard. The Goochman had a world of fight, and after being on the wrong end of a 4-2 score for some rounds managed to tie the count in the seventh. In the eighth neither team scattered the dust at the home pan, and in the ninth Raleigh capture.

A single stretched into a double by Carr Smith, and a stinging one base lick by "Whitey" Graves, spelled defeat for Gibson and Durham.

In pitching alone Gibson had a shade the better of Kiefer. This shade, however, was erased by the erratic fielding done by the Bovines. In the fifth inning Gibson fanned Sullivan, Graves and Barrett, and in the seventh frame made Smith and Graves (the men who did the climax stunt in the ninth) breeze their bats through pure atmosphere.

Some Nifty Features.
The game was sufficient to stir a healthy yell from an Alaskan fan. In the eighth canto Lennox gashed a bumper to Butts. The third sacker pegged to first, Whitted lost the ball in the sun, but by keeping his back to Umpire Ferguson fooled him into calling the visiting short stop out. Duke Duncan made sufficient protest and McDonald who was having enough to do to mind his business behind the home plate, had to be called upon to rule the play. Being a far-sighted gentleman he indicated that Lennox was safe.

There was another feature in the seventh when the Bovines tied up the score. Butts brushed a single to right and Stringfield and Whitted tumbled. Whitted had to race hard to do his scoring and fade-away slide due to a big league outfielder.
Some of the feature fielding of the afternoon was contributed by Stringfield and Henle, for Durham and Lennox and Johnson for Raleigh. It would be unsafe, however, to overlook the fact that at a critical moment Alec Gibson ducked his head and lifted his gloved hand skyward in time to intercept a hot line drive off Duncan's bat.

Raleigh Started It.
The visitors came pretty near driving Gibson to the showers in the opening frame. After Peals Johnson had ballooned to Dayton, Duncan drew a base on balls. Sullivan cracked a single to right and Smith followed with a single to center. Duncan scored. Ing. Graves connected for a single to left, Sullivan scored. Lennox concluded the frame by striking out.

In the same inning Durham annexed one run. Henle bunted and beat it out. Stringfield grounded to second and Henle was thrown out at second. Whitted poked a single into rightfield and Stringfield raced to third. Gooch, fled out to Duncan and Stringfield scored from third. Whitted was out at second and Butts grounded to short.

In the third canto the visitors made two runs, and Durham managed to get one score across. Sullivan first up, singled. Smith was safe on Whitted's error of his bunt, Sullivan going to second. Graves sacrificed and the runners moved up a base each. Barrett hit to Butts and Sullivan was thrown out at the plate. On Butts' error of Lennox's grounder, Raleigh filled the bases. Gibson tossed wild, and Smith and Barrett scored. Siner flew out to Dayton.

In this same inning Henle opened with a single to right. Stringfield followed with a single to center. Whitted grounded to short and a fast double play was perfected, with Henle scoring in the mean time. Gooch grounded out third to first.
Durham tagged the home plate twice in the seventh. Gibson reached first on an infield hit. Henle flew out to right. Stringfield grounded to short and Gibson was thrown out at second. Whitted got a long single to left center and Stringfield went to third. Whitted stole second. Gooch walked. Butts singled to left and Stringfield and Whitted scored. Dayton popped out to third.

Raleigh went to bat in the ninth with the score tied. Duncan flew out to right. Sullivan was thrown out catcher to first. Smith doubled to left, and Graves singled to center. Smith crossing the plate with the winning run. Gays was thrown out at second trying to advance on the throw home.

DEMPSEY IS IN REAL FIGHTING TRIM ALREADY

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Fighting seriously and with the business-like manner that characterized his public ring appearances, Jack Dempsey today did everything to Jack Burke the ace of his sparring staff, but knock him out. Before the end of two rounds, Burke was floundering aimlessly about the ring, and the champion pulled into a clinch, until he recovered.

Dempsey boxed two more rounds usual when, in addition to the sprit-ed two with Burke, he engaged in two rounds with Jack McAuliffe, Ray Newman and Farmer Lodge.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 1.—Luis Angel Firpo's secret workouts in the garage in the rear of his Chelsea cottage bore fruit today when the "Wild Bull" went through his most satisfactory workout since he started in training here for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey September 14.

Firpo worked hard and good. After the usual bag punching, rope jumping and shadow boxing, he waded into three sparring partners for two rounds each, sacked them with everything he had, and made them all the worse for wear at the end of their encounter.

AMERICAN TEAM IN MARVELOUS FINISH

By DAVIS J. WALSH.
FOREST HILLS, L. I., Sept. 1.—An American with his back to the wall is notoriously a tough hombre and at the conclusion of the third set of the Davis cup challenge round in doubles this afternoon, the American team of William T. Tilden, and R. Norris Williams, stood blindfolded and bound with unseen thongs, ready for sunset and the firing squad. The latter was composed of James O. Anderson and John B. Hawkes, of Australia, whose deadly shots had just completed the business of shooting down the Americans in two out of three sets, 15-17, 13-11 and 6-3, establishing a world record for games played in competitive tennis.
Then the transformation, as sudden as the tropic dawn, as complete as a prosecutor's indictment, in immaculate new fannels, Tilden and Williams returned to the courts of the fourth set. But they had more than new raiment. They were new men with a new and improved game, their speed was dazzling, their morale at the zenith in striking contrast to their demoralized state of a few minutes before, fairly burning up the court, their rushed through the impotent Australians in two straight sets, 6-3, and 6-2, for what was probably the most sensational triumph in the history of Davis cup play.
A crowd of 10,000, including among others General John J. Pershing, fairly lost its head over the outcome. It was not a very composed crowd at any time.
The outcome of the match means that America need only win one of the two singles matches on Monday to retain the Davis cup for another 12 months.

Twins Down "Shine" Moon Like Bootleggers Down Moosine and Patriots Lose Out 8 to 3

Harry Held Patriots Although They Stole Five Bases on Allison.

GREENSBORO, Sept. 1.—"Shine" Moon, Greensboro's recruit left-hander went into deep eclipse here this afternoon when the Winston-Salem Twins pounded his delivery for 14 hits, five of them doubles and finished with the long end of an 8 to 3 score.

Toward the latter part of the game while Moon was growing less and less effective, Harry for the Twins tightened and several times alighted Patriot rallies by bearing down. He had to, for the Patriots ran wild on the bases with Allison back of the plate stealing no less than five sacks, making their total for the two games 11.

Three doubles in the fifth by Marlette, Long and Black put the Twins in the lead and they were never headed.

Long did the most effective hitting for the visitors with four safe ones out of five times at bat. Carroll led the locals with three singles.

One of the largest crowds in weeks witnessed Moon's failure to shine as he did in his first two games.

Case Against Public Service Company Upon Spray Continued Again

Case against the Durham Public Service Company, for alleged violation of the city ordinance which forbids the use of the spray pond collecting system in their ice plant or electric plant as the case may be, was continued again Saturday and will be tried on Tuesday, Sept. 4th, if further continuance does not become necessary. The case is a test case which will determine the power of the city's measure to abate the alleged nuisance.
It is held the spray wets and damages surrounding property when the vapor becomes condensed and falls or is blown from the company's premises. The company on the other hand is fighting to prevent, they claim the absolute shutdown of the plant which manufactures electric current for the city.

TOO MUCH LIP

"WID" MATTHEWS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—The career of many a baseball hero is short-lived.

"Wid" Matthews of the Athletics is a shining example.

During the first three months of the race, when the Athletics were setting the pace in the American League, Matthews was the most talked of player in the majors.

For a time he featured the sport pages to the exclusion of all other members of the Athletics, some of whom were doing as much if not more to make the A's the sensation of the American League.

But prosperity, they say, went to the young man's head. From a youngster willing to listen to any and all advice, Matthews overnight refused to take orders from any one, even the great Connie Mack, declare some of those who ought to know.

That was entirely too much for Connie, the greatest developer of star players of all time.

"Wid," the headliner of the spring, now is a bench warmer with the Athletics. Recently he has not even been permitted to take part in batting practice.

In a certain game of several weeks ago the coacher at third yelled certain instructions to Matthews, which it is claimed he entirely disregarded.

Coming to the bench the coacher took issue with Matthews, whereupon "Wid" is said to have gotten very much excited.

At this stage of the game Manager Mack interviewed. Always fair, Mack took sides with the coacher, since he knew Matthews had openly disregarded instructions. Then came the blow-off. Matthews proceeded to argue the point with Manager Mack, punctuating his remarks with tobacco language.

No manager is fairer of kinder with his players than Mack. He never openly criticises them. It must have been a decided shock to Mack to have a raw recruit openly take issue with him. That was too much.

Exit Matthews from the picture. Already Mack has asked for waivers on him.

"Wid," while not a great ball player, got away big because he was always trying and was imbued with the winning spirit.

FIELDING FEATURES

Two Passes by Hunter Followed by Hit Batsmen Develop Into Two Runs.

DANVILLE, Sept. 1.—Danville made it two straights from the High Pointers today, by a score of 4 to 1, winning the game in the first five innings by taking advantage of every opportunity Hunter gave them, while Twombly, with brilliant support, yielded the only run in the eighth on Kane's and G. Thrasher two-baggers, both to centerfield.

Two of Hunter's passes and a hit batsman with which he opened the Danville's other run came in the third, when Dorman doubled to left center, advanced on Leard's infield single and counted on Ted Smith's fly to right. Beautiful catches were made by Trexler and Regan.

Leard's fielding sparkled, notably his play on Irbys' fast rap over second. Dorman also made a fine stop of Herndon's grasscutter and nailed his man. The visitors fielded steadily, but had few chances for brilliancy.

HOSIERY MILLS SINKS HOOKS IN GORMAN OUTFIT

The speedy Durham Hosiery Mills team defeated the Gorman nine by a score of 6 to 2, Saturday in a fast and exciting game at the Gorman ball park. Although marred by errors, the game was a good one and was full of thrills. Lee, at first, and Ashley, third sacker, did stellar work for the "Clery-makers, doing some pretty fielding, and hitting.
For Gorman, Holloway starred at his position on the initial sack, as well as when he came to bat. He wielded a mean club, hitting out a double and a triple during the course of the game.
Clifton, pitching for the hosiery mills team, struck out nine men, as against four blanks by O'Neal.
