

DULL TIME WAS PROVIDED FOR COURT GUESTS

Fine of $10 and Costs Was Heaviest Punishment Meted Out to Any of Defendants.

BUS DRIVER AGAIN UP FOR SOLICITING PASSENGERS

At End of Long Series of Continuances of Case Defendant Is Given Fine of $10.

There were no cases tried in Recorder's court Saturday morning which gave returns, in the way of excitement, to those who came to be entertained. All those tried proved to be void of much interest to the audience.

Harvey Prince, colored, was charged with boisterous cursing and he plead not guilty. The prosecuting witness told his tale about the alleged cursing, but he couldn't offer much evidence of much cursing. Two other witnesses who had been brought along to prove that Harvey did some boisterous cursing, testified that they heard none at all. A verdict of not guilty was handed down before the defendant had a chance to testify.

Albert East plead guilty to being drunk and was fined $5 and costs with one-half the fine returned.

Jim Sutt plead guilty to speeding and to passing a street car while it was unloading passengers. He was given two fines of $5 and costs each.

C. M. Smith, bus driver, plead not guilty to two charges, one of soliciting passengers on the city streets and the other of disorderly conduct. He had the cases continued until March 31 that he might get his witnesses into court.

R. W. Stuart also was allowed a continuance, until April 1, that he might get his witnesses into court in the case in which he was charged with injury to property.

The case against Julia Hackney was continued until March 30. She was charged with illegal possession of whiskey.

Lee Harris, a colored youth, who was up on three charges, was sent to the juvenile court because he appeared to be under 16 years of age. The boy's father stated that he was about 14.

R. N. Pickard plead guilty to failure to stop at a railroad crossing and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs. He also plead guilty to speeding and was fined $10 and costs.

Two of the old cases, oft continued and charging violations of a sanitary law, were again called. The Alston, colored, again had his continued because the plumbers were reported to be at work on making the water and sewage connections required. W. V. Fennell, colored, was fined $10 and costs on a similar charge. He has a chance of getting the "10-spot" back if he gets the necessary plumbing work done in a hurry.

Albert Barbee, R. J. Shaw and Arthur McDade, colored, were each called out and failed to answer in connection with cases in which they were previously tried.

BABY BOY AND HIS BROTHER IN WRIGHT REFUGE SOON TO BE REUNITED WITH FAMILY

Mother of Two Small Boys and Girl, Now Separated, Will Get Her Family Together to Have Family Together Again.

PHYSICAL DEFECTS REMOVED UNDER WRIGHT REFUGE CARE

Sunday School at Institution During Coming Month in Charge of Trinity Church.

During the coming month Trinity Methodist church will have charge of the Sunday school services which are held each Sunday at Wright Refuge for the benefit of the youngsters there. The Memorial Methodist church had charge of these services during the past month.

One Durham family will be reunited and made happy during the coming week, according to Miss Alice M. Pirie, superintendent of the Wright Refuge. For some time past there has been at the Refuge two brothers, one a baby and the other about four years old. An older sister of the two boys has been taken care of by friends of the family. Now, through Mothers' Aid, obtained from the state through the interest of the local welfare department, the mother of these three children will be enabled to have her three children with her again and they will be together again in her own home.

While the two boys have been at the Wright Refuge they have received the best of care and special attention has been paid to their physical condition. All physical defects, as had tumors, have been removed and they will go back to join their mother and sister glowing specimens of childhood.

Specimen Walls of Masonry Being Erected on the Duke University Campus for Comparison of Stone

Up on the northeast corner of Duke university campus a small group of stone and brick masons are busy erecting specimen walls. The sections of stone walls are faced in limestone and all of those erected to date present a pleasing effect. The sections are being erected for the benefit of those who will have the responsibility of deciding on the type which is to be used in the walls of the new university buildings erected in the future. At present there have been some seven or eight of these stone walls laid up and several sections of brick walls. Unless the building committee has a very definite idea of what it wants before it arrives on the scene to compare the various sections, the prediction is made that the job of ranking a selection from them is not going to be an easy one. All the stone sections are pleasing in effect. In one section the color tone approaches a lavender or lilac. In another the shade is of a rustic brown, while in another it is variegated, any of which when embodied in massive building walls, would be impressive.
