THE MORALS OF HANGING. We do not know from what work the following terrible passage is extracted. We find it in the Albany Daily Advertiser. It bears harder against punishment by death than a whole acre of homily.—Globe.

We cannot close our brief notice of the events of the gale without paying a well merited tribute of admiration and applause to Mr Amasa Styron, for his noble daring in behalf of his suffering fellow-citizens.—During the latter part of the late gale, and at a time when others stood aloof from the perilous undertaking, Mr. Styron put off alone in an open pilot boat, and succeeded in saving the lives of three crews who were in imminent danger.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, Duplin County, Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, July Term, 1839. Isaac Taylor, vs. George H. Glisson, and Jonathan Sullivan, Sr. Levy on Land.

FOR SALE, A Valuable Tract of LAND. THE subscriber wishes to sell that valuable tract of land on which he now resides, containing 562 Acres, with a comfortable Dwelling House, and all the necessary out houses, on the road from Fayetteville to Greensboro' 4 1/2 miles from Fayetteville, and 1 1/2 from Tesson's Bridge; with about 150 acres of cleared land, the balance well timbered, and nearly all adapted to the culture of Corn, Cotton, Oats, Wheat, Tobacco, &c. Some first rate meadow land, which might be made valuable in the production of hay as any quantity of that article can be sold for cash on the road.

AN APPELLING SITUATION. In Cooper's Naval History, we find the following interesting description of a scene on shipboard, which illustrates in a striking manner, the effects of discipline in a man-of-war.

With a perseverance which does him everlasting honor, the dauntless Styron again put to sea in his boat, determined to save the crew of the William Gray, or perish in the attempt. Her situation was so exposed, the breakers making an entire breach over her—that he could not approach nearer than about twenty yards of her, to leeward, where he anchored. He leaped among the breakers, encouraged the crew to throw their baggage overboard and accompany it, assuring them that—the boat being to leeward,—all would be saved. After some hesitation they complied, reached the boat, and were saved.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE. THE plantation on the Cape Fear River, recently owned and cultivated by John M. Dabney, better known as the "Northwestern Ferry plantation." Embracing in all about 2260 acres—such of it in a high state of cultivation, and well fenced, the balance well timbered with Oak, Hickory and Pine. It has on it two comfortable dwelling Houses and other convenient out buildings, the water, streams on which are now standing a Mill and Gin House. The Ferry is also included and being on the best road to Chapel Hill and Hillsborough, with but little attention might be profitable property. Distance from Fayetteville about 32 miles. Capital sites for Cotton Factories, the plantation is susceptible of a division into two or three parts, which would be made to suit purchasers. If the above property cannot be sold at private sale before the ensuing Fall it will then on other notice be disposed of at public sale. Persons residing in the low country and others desirous of purchasing a healthy situation and valuable plantation would do well to examine it. For further particulars apply to JAMES C. DOBBIN, Esq. July 6, 1839.
