

From the Spirit of the Times. New Lullabies for Old Nurses.

Hey! diddle, diddle! The Bank and the Biddle Nothing's left in the dish but the spoon ! All the silver of late Has been chang'd into plate!

And the gold shines away in the moon ! Nickery, nickery, knock ! Let cotton save the stock !

The master stroke,

The Bank is broke!

Nickery, nickery, knock was an old Banker who lived in a stew! He'd so many stockholders he did'nt know what

He kept them awhile with his promises cram'd, hen kicked them all soundly, and bid them b

> Sing a song o' sixpence, A pocket full of lies! And tive and thirty millions, All scattered to the skies ! When the Bank was opened, There was nothing in to show ! Wasn't that a pretty thing

For Cowperthwaite and Co."

SAUNTERING JOE. Would you see a man that's slow? Come and see our footman Joe. Most unlike the bounding roe, Or an arrow from a bow, Or the flight direct of crow, Is the pace of footman Joe. Snails, contemptous as they go, Look behind, and laugh at Joe. An acre any man may mow, Ere across it crawleth Joe. Trip on light fantastic toe, Ye that tripping like, for Joe; Measur'd steps of solemn wee, Better suit with steady Joe. Danube, Severn, Trent and Po. Backward to their source shall flow, Ere despatch be made by Jon. Letters to a Plenipo, Send not by our lootman Joe. Would you Job's full merit know, Ring the bell, and wait for Joe; Whether it be king or no, 'Tisjust alike to lazy Joe. Legal process none can show If our lawyer move like Joe. Death at last, our common for, Must trip up the heels of Joe; And a stone shall tell--" Below. Hardly chang'd, still sleepeth Joe; Loud shall the final trumpet blow, But the last comer will be Joe."

Miscellaneous.

From the Ladies' Companion.

The Rescue-an Incident of the Revolution.

BY ROBERT HAMILTON. It was an autumnal evening; the forests had begun to don their mantles of gorgeous colors. The fields, shorn of their harvest treasures, lay like golden lakelets in the rich and mellow sunset. The noble Highlands, like giant warriors, clothed in their panoply of rock and foliage, threw their sullen shadows far out upon the bosom of the glorious Hudson, who, rolling on in his path of beauty, gleamed like a fallen rainbow in the innumerable tints of incidental glory. Far in breast, when she grasped him firmly by the the distance towered the venerable Cro'nest, arm, and, pointing to it, said in a whisperbegirt with a diadem of purple and gold. The first star was twinkling on the brow of twi- mingled with the company, who appeared to light, deep dark clouds were encircling the recognize and welcome her as one well zone of creation, rock and mountain, tree known and esteemed. and shrub hill, dale, valley, and rivulet, all were several persons attired in the military costume of that period, who, with well-measured strokes of their oars, made it dart over stern was seated a man of about fifty years of age; his head was uncovered, and revealed to view a wide and capacious browhis features were marked and masculine: by a closeness of the lips, gave to him a look of determination, yet which in no way impaired the mild and merciful expression, that reigned over his general aspect. Like the others in the boat, he wore a dark blue coat, the throat, heavy golden epaulettes, buckskin val. small clothes, high military boots, with spurs of steel, while a beit of buff encircled his waist, in which was fixed a straight sword. Such was the costume of the personage who was destined to achieve the liberty of his country, and to burst the fetters of oppression. Reader, need we say who it was! In your "mind's eve," does he not stand before you! Is not his name the watch word of your independence, and his memory enshrined in the heart of every son of freedom! It was George Washington.

As the barge gained the opposite bank, one of the rowers leaped ashore, and made it fast to the root of a willow which hung its broad thick branches over the river. The rest of the party then landed, and uncoverly returned their courtesy.

Washington. "Be cautious—look well that you are not surprised. These are no times the same moment the English anthem, "God coat being fan-tailed, it was what, we believe, furewell, departed along the bank of the riv- cers drew their swords; but Washington, ment as the feasters at a crowded public fes-

"That evening a party was to be given at the house of one of his old and valued friends, to which he with several other American officers, had been invited. It was seldom that dale, said, "Speak, sir; what does this his coat, which was very tight, was held togethmode of preventing insects ascending the he participated in festivity, more especially mean?" at that period, when every moment was tations of Ruby Rugsdale, the daughther of George, I arrest you!" a few hours, with his presence.

wreathy dalliance; at other places, the arms barge, stood revealed before him. hand forbade him to proceed.

advance, she darted into the bushes, leaving I swear I will not forgive him."

him lost in amazement. "There is danger," said he to himself, never yet deserted me;" and resuming his sacrifice of his life. path, he shortly reached the mansion of Rufus Rugsdale.

His appearance was the signal for joy among the party assembled, each of whom vied with the other to do him honor. Although grave in conneil, and bold in war, yet in the bosom of domestic bliss no one knew better how to render himself agreeable. The old were cheered by his consolatory words; the young by his mirthful manner; nor even in gallantry was he wanting, when it added to the virtuous spirit of the hour. The protestations of friendship and welcome were warmly tendered to him by the host. Fast and thickly the guests were assembling -the smile, the laugh, and the mingling music, rose joyously around. The twilight was fast mergind into night, but a thousand lamps of sparkling beauty gave a brilliancy of day to the scene-all was happiness-bright eyes and blooming faces were every where beaming; but, alas! a serpent was lurking among the flowers.

the guests, and suspending the dance. Washington and the officers looked at each other in surprise; but their fears were soon dispelled by Rugsdale assuring them it was only a discharge of ordinance in honor of his distinguished victories. The joy of the moment was again resumed, but the gloom of suspicion had fallen upon the spirit of Washington, who now sat in moody silence apart from the happy throng.

A slight tap upon his shoulder at length roused him from his abstraction, and looking up, he perceived the person of the Indian standing in the bosom of a myrtle blush, close to his side.

"Ha! again here!" he exclaimed with astonishment, but she motioned him to be silent, and kneeling at his feet, presented him with a boquet of flowers. Washington received it, and was about to place it in his "Snake! snake!" and the next moment

Washington regarded the boquet with woncommingled in one hazy softness, rendering der; he saw nothing in it to excite his suspicit a scene of indescribable lovelines, beauti- ion; her words and singular appearance had with a quick impatient step, evidently much ful as in those days of primitive innocence, however, sunk deeply into his heart, and annoyed by a crowd of boys who were followere sin was known, or desolation and decay looking closer upon the nosegay, to his sur- ing close at his heels, not in the obstreperous had fallen upon the blossoms of our earthly prise he saw a small piece of paper in the mirth with which they would have followed a Eden. Such was the evening when a barge midst of the flowers. Hastily he drew it crazy or a drunken man, or an organ grinder was seen to leave the promontory of West forth, and confused and stricken, read, "Be- and his monkey, but in the silent and curious Point, in the neighborhood of which we lo- ware! You are betrayed?" It was now wonder with which they would have haunted a cate our narrative, in the year 1782. In it apparent that he was within the den of the Chinese bedecked in full costume. I instanttiger; but to quit it abruptly, might only draw ly knew the individual to be Randolph from the consummation of treachery the speedier the descriptions. I therefore advanced toupon his head. He resolved, therefore, to wards him, that I might make a full observathe golden waters like a ray of light. In the disguise his feelings, and trust to that Power tion of his person without violating the rules which had never forsaken him. The festivi- of courtesy in stopping to gaze at him. As ties were again renewed, but almost momen- he approached, he occasionally turned totarily interrupted by a second sound of the wards the boys with an angry glance, but cannon. The guests now began to regard without saying any thing, and then hurried on his mouth, which was peculiarly characterized each other with distrust, while many and as if to outstrip them, but it would not do. moody were the glances cast upon Rugsdale, They followed close behind the orator, each whose countenance began to show symptoms one observing him so intently, that he said ot uneasiness, while ever and anon he look- nothing to his companions. Just before I ed from the window out upon the broad green met him, he stopped a Mr C---, a cashlawn which extended to the river's edge, lier of one of the banks, said to be as odd a with broad buff facings, closely buttoned to as if in expectation of some one's arri- fish as John himself. I loitered into a store

"What can detain them!" he muttered to noke orator for a considerable time, and realhimself. "Can they have deceived me? ly he was the strangest looking being I ever Why answer they not the signal? At that beheld. moment a bright flame rose from the river, again waving her hand as forbidding him to my oath, and now in the presence of Heaven, speaker he ever heard, has also a very small printers to the Senate. They showed that

Like a thunder bolt fell these words upon the hearts of the wife and daughter. They after a short pause, and recovering from his sank lifeless into the arms of the domestics, quenting the bookstore of one of the largest semination of Federal principles, and the an especial favorite, and domesticated in the with Mr ———, the bookseller, and they held the Globe was to be tarnished, its means imfamily, had overheard the intention of Rugs- long chats together; the orator of Roanoke poverished, and its political influence destroydale to betray the American general, and oth- showing off with great courtesy. Mr ____ er valuable officers, that evening, into the was quite a pompous man, and rather vain of the part of the federal leaders in the Senatehands of the British; for which purpose they his acquaintance who used to stop in his by throwing the dead weight of an expendihad been invited to "this feast of Judas." Hating, in her heart, the enemies of Ameri- with a friend, he espied Randolph advancing gressional work, on the hands of its publishca, who had driven her tribe from their na- towards him, and told his friend that he would ers, (the printers whose contract was violated) Washington as we have described, but failing Randolph, declined. in her noble purpose, she had then recourse to the party left in possession of the boat.

Scarcely had she imparted her information, and the shadows of the night closed around, when a company of British soldiers were disof the spot where the American party were in the cause of liberty, and knowing that immediately action could alone preserve him, into the face of the astonished bookseller. In the midst of the hilarity, the sound of a they rushed upon and overpowered them, bound them hand and toot, and under charge of two of their companions, sent them to the American camp at West Point. Having disguised themselves in the habiliments of the enemy, they proceeded to the house of Rugsdale, where at the appointed time and sign, made to them by the Indian, they opportunely arrived to the Relief of Washington, and to the confusion of the traitor.

Thus was the father of his country, by the interposition of divine providence, who in his own words "never deserted him," saved from captivity; and but for which America might, to this day, have been pressed by the foot of oppression, and her children have bowed the knee to a foreign power.

John Randolph, of Roanoke.

From a volume of sketches now preparing for the Press, by the author of Clinton Bradshaw, S.c.

"Great wits to madness nearly are allied,"

I remember some years since to have seen

John Randolph in Baltimore. I had frequently read and heard descriptions of him, and one day, as I was standing in Market, now Baltimore street, I remarked a tall, thin, unique looking being hurrying towards me close by, and unnoticed, remarked the Roa-

His long thin legs, about as thick a a strong illuminating, for a moment, the surrounding walking cane, and of much such a shape, scenery, and showing a small boat, filled with were encased in a pair of small tight clothes, "All's well," he continued; "in three the limbs of the wearer. Handsome white riched the other. minutes I shall be the possessor of a coronet, stockings were fastened with great tidiness and the cause of the Republic be no more." at the knees by a small gold buckle, and over Then gaily turning to Washington he said, them coming about half way up the calf, were male witness, whom the opposing counsel Come General, pledge me to the success of a pair of what, I believe, are called hose, could not silence, so far kept him at bay, our arms." The eye of Rugsdale at that coarse and country knit. He wore shoes. - that, by way of browbeating her, he exclaimmoment encountered the scrutinizing look of They were old fashioned, and fastened also ed, "Why woman, there is brasa enough in Washington, and sunk to the ground; his with buckles—huge ones. He trod like an your face to make a kettle!" "And sauce hand trembled violently, even to so great a Indian, without turning his toes out, but enough in yours (she instantly rejoined) to degree as to partly spill the contents of the planking them down straight ahead. It was fill it." ing, saluted their commander, who respectful- goblet. With difficulty he conveyed it to the fashion in those days to wear a fan-tailed his lips, then retiring to the window, he wav- coat with a small collar, and buttons far apart "By ten o'clock you may expect me," said ed his hand, which action was immediately behind and few on the breast. Mr Randolph's zette says. "Those persons who have for save the King," burst in full volume upon the the knights of the needle call swallow-tailed "Depend upon us," replied one of the ear, and a band of men attired in British the collar was immensely large, the buttons uniform, with their faces hidden by masks, behind were in kissing proximity, and they "I do" he responded, and bidding them entered the apartment. The American offi- sat together as close on the breast of the garpick them." cool and collected, stood with his arms folded tival. His waist was remarkably slender; on his breast, quietly remarking to them, so slender that, as he stood with his arms a "Be calm, gentlemen; this is an honor we kimbo, he could easily, as I thought, with his Antomological Society, Mr James H. Fen-white cravat, in which his chin was occasionwhite cravat, in which his chin was occasionally buried as he moved his head in conversent time some which has been melted for upthe host, he had consented to relax from the may be cut to pieces, but surrender we will sation; no shirt collar was perceptible; wards of a year, and has been exposed to all toils of military duty, and honor the party, for not. Therefore give way," and he waved few hours, with his presence.

After continuing his path for some distance his sword to the guard, who stood with their large. Mr Randolph's complexion was product to price nimsent weather without undergoing the slightest upon the size of his, as they were then worn change. Having melted the Indian rubber, with his presence. After continuing his path for some distance along the river's side, he struck off into a along the river's side, he struck off into a let a piece of cord or worsted be smeared they attempt to escape. In an instant were cisely that of a mummy, withered soften along the river's side, he struck on into a line and along the river's side, he struck on into a line and they attempt to escape. In an instant were cisely that of a mummy, withered, saffron, with it and then tied several times round the line are of a de their weapons reversed, and dropping their dry and bloodless von could not have along the river's side, he struck on into a line are line and they attempt to escape. In an instant were cisely that of a mummy, withered, saffron, with it and then tied several times round the narrow road, bordered thickly with brush their weapons reversed, and dropping their dry and bloodless; you could not have placed their weapons reversed, and dropping their dry and bloodless; you could not have placed their weapons reversed, and dropping their dry and bloodless; you could not have placed their weapons reversed, and dropping their dry and bloodless; you could not have placed their weapons reversed, and dropping their dry and bloodless; you could not have placed their weapons reversed, and the apin's point on his face where you would not have placed their weapons reversed, and the apin's point on his face where you would not have placed their weapons reversed, and the apin's point on his face where you would not have placed their weapons reversed, and the property of their weapons reversed their weapons reversed. wood, tinged with a thousand dyes of a departed summer—here and there a grey crag parted summer—here and there are grey crag parted summer parted summer—here and there are grey crag parted summer p parted summer—here and there a grey crag party whom he had left in charge of the thin, compressed and colorlege, the chine sticky, that the insects will be prevented, and not have touched a wrinkle. His lips were generally captured, in their attempts to pass peeped out from the foliage, over which the green ivy and scarlet woodbine hung in barge stood revealed before him "Seize that traitor!" exclaimed the com- of his face, which was small; his nose was ty ordinary size fruit-trees. of the chesnut and mountain ash thet in the following the following straight, with nothing remarkable in it, except night. Suddenly a crashing among the let him be a spectacle between heaven and perhaps it was too short. He wore a fur cap, night. Suddenly a crashing among the shades, cloves branches was heard, and like a deer, a young learth." The wife and daughter clung to his branches was heard, and like a deer, a young learth." The wife and daughter clung to his branches was heard, and like a deer, a young learth." branches was heard, and nike a deer, a young branches was heard, and heard was branches was heard was Indian girl bounded into the path, and stood oath had passed his lips, that never again quite small, a characteristic which is said to in a silk bag, is a choice article for a lady's surprise, laid his hand upon his sword—but should treason receive his forgiveness after have marked many men of talent, Byron and toilet. the Indian only fell upon her knee, placed her that of the miscreant Arnold. "For my own Chief Justice Marshall, for instance. Judge finger on her lips, and by a sign with her life," he said, while the tears rolled down his Burnet, of Cincinnati, who has been alike noble countenance, at the agony of the wife distinguished at the bar, on the bench, and "What seek you, my wild flower?" said and daughter, "for my own life, I heed not, in the United States Senate, and whom I given to the country an exposition of the mothe General. She started to her feet, drew a but the liberty of my native land—the wel- have heard no less a judge and possessor of tives which prompted the attempt by the fedsmall tomahawk from her belt of wampum, and fare of millions, demands this sacrifice—for talent than Mr Hammond, of the Gazette, eral party to prostrate their establishment, by imitated the acts of scalping an enemy—then the sake of humanity, I pity him;—but, by say, was the clearest and most impressive the lawless abrogation of their contract as

> Once, when Randolph was in the city of to which a seventh is about to be added-pub-Baltimore, he was in the daily habit of fre- lished at Washington-all devoted to the dislooking over his books, &c. In the course at the seat of Government tell with more ef-It appeared that the Indian girl, who was of Randolph's visits he became very familiar fect throughout the Union, the character of shop. Subsequently, being in Washington ture of $40,000 in preparation to do the Con-give him a shake of the hand at any rate."

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

" A bookseller?"

"Yes, sir," again.

"Ah! I bought some books from you?" "Yes, sir, you did."

"Did I forget to pay you for them?"

" No, sir, you did not." "Good morning, sir," said the orator, liftng his cap with offended dignity, and pass-

This anecdote does not show either Randolph's goodness of head or heart, but it shows his character.

Another anecdote is as follows: The Hon. Peter -, who was a watchmaker, trifling tax for his own advantage, will susand who had represented B--- county for many years in Congress, once made a motion to amend a resolution offered by Mr Randolph, on the subject of military claims. Mr Randolph rose up after the amendment had been offered, and drawing his watch from his fob, asked the Honorable Peter what but not my motions. You understand tictics, sir, but not tactics !"

Dean Swift says-'It is with little souled people as it is with narrow necked bottles, the less they have in them the more noise they make in pouring out."

Novelty .- To see two women pass each other in the street without each turning round to see what the other had on.

How TO CHOOSE A WIFE .- "The Patriarch," a Magazine just published, offers the following receipt for the selection of a wife: in its place," said the patriarch to his daugh- bers themselves. They will be printed as fast ter. Select a wife, my son, who will never as the business of the two Houses furnishes step over a broomstick." The son was matter for a number. It is certain that we obedient to the lesson. Now, said he, pleasantly, on a gay May day, to one of his will be weeks in the session. They will be companions, I appoint this broomstick to issued in the same form as the Extra Globe, choose me a wife. The young lady who will and a copious index to each. Nothing but not step over it shall have the offer of my the proceedings and speeches of Congress hand. They passed from the splendid saloon will be admitted into the Congressional Globe to the grove; some stumbled over the broom- or Appendix. stick, and others jumped it. At length a young lady stooped and put it in its place. The promise was fulfilled. She became the wife of an educated wealthy young man, and he the husband of a prudent, industrious and cian, giving, as they do, at an extremely modlovely wife. He brought a fortune to her, erate price, a complete epitome of the political and she knew how to save one. It is not easy to decide which was under the greatest persons, making rapidly towards the shore. so tight that they seemed part and parcel of obligations. Both were rich, and each en-

BALM OF GILEAD BUDS .- The Salem Gamany years kept a junk bottle of buds steeped in spirit, say: that no one who knows the efficacy of this liquid for healing wounds, would be without the article. Now is the season, before the buds begin to open, to

TO PREVENT INSECTS CRIMBING UP FRUIT-TREES .- At a late meeting of the er by one button, and, in consequence, an trunks of fruit-trees. Let a piece of Indian means," replied the traitor, placing his inch or more of tape, to which it was attach- rubber be burnt over a gallipot, into which it fraught with danger; nevertheless, in respect to an old acquaintance, backed by the solicito an old acquaintance

Rose leaves dried in the shades, cloves

PROSPECTUS.

The publishers of the Globe have recently there were already six federal newspaperssurprise. "That Indian's manner betokens and when they recovered to consciousness, booksellers in the place. He made some defence of Federal measures. And to make me no good, but my trust is in God; He has Rugsdale had atoned for his treason by the purchases from him, and was very curious in this overwhelming battery of Federal presses , ed, by a sweeping denunciation of infamy on tive forests, she resolved to frustrate the de- introduce him to the "great man." His and by having this whole work of defamation sign, and consequently waylaid the steps of friend, however, knowing the waywardness of and ruin accomplished by the judgment of the Randolph declined. Senate of the Union to give it the sanction "Well," said Mr ----, "I am sorry of the highest tribunal known to our country. you will not be introduced-I'll go up and The work was done by a caucus packed majority of Federalists, and the editors of the Up he walked, with outstretched hand, to Globe are left to sustain their establishment salute the cynic. The aristocratic Republi- by the patronage they may receive from politicovered making their way rapidly towards the can (by the bye, how often your thorough- cal friends for the papers they publish. Soonbanks of the Hudson, within a short distance going Republican is a full blooded aristocrat er than ask or receive the sort of lumping in his private relations) immediately threw contributions by which the banks and federal waiting the return of their commander. Bold his hands behind him, as if he could not "dull politicians sustain their presses, we will abanhis palm" in that way, and gazed searchingly don the publication of the Globe, if it cannot be supported by the regular supscription price "Oh, oh!" said he, as if recollecting him- of the paper. If such of our Democratic cannon burst suddenly upon the ear, startling stripped them of their uniforms and arms, self, "you are Mr B———, from Balti-friends whose circumstances do not justify a apply to subscription to a daily paper, will patronize the cheaper publications issued by us-the Extra Globe, and the Appendix—we shall be enabled to maintain, as heretofore, our corps of Congressional Reporters at the cost of $3,000 per annum, and to draw to our aid some of the ablest pens in our country. We trust, under these circumstances, and at a time when the greatest interest of the country, and its future destiny, are put at stake upon the events with which the first year of the present Administration is pregnant, that no individual who has the cause of Democracy at heart, will hesitate to meet this appeal, when at the same time he will feel assured that this tain in triumph at Washington the long-tried and faithful press of his party.

The EXTRA GLOBE will be published weekly for six months, commencing on Wednesday, the 19th of May, and ending on the 19th November next, making twenty-six numbers, the last of which will contain an o'clock it was. He told him. "Sir," re- index. Each number will contain sixteen plied the orator, "you can mend my watch, royal quarto pages. It will contain principally political matter. The political aspect and bearing of the measures before Congress during the special session will be fully developed, and when the proceedings are considered of much interest to the public, they will be given at length.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE and APPENDIX will begin with the extra session of Congress, to commence on Monday, the 31st of May next, and will be continued during the session. The Congressional Globe will give an impartial history of the proceedings of both Houses of Congress; and the Appendix will contain all the speeches on both sides, of important subjects, at full "A place for every thing and every thing length, as written out, or revised, by the memwill publish more numbers of each than there

These works being printed in a suitable form for binding, with copious indexes, will form a valuable, indeed, a necessary, appendage to the library of the statesman and politiand legislative history of the period.

Subscriptions for the Extra Globe should be here by the 26th May, and for the Congressional Globe and Appendix by the 6th of June next, to insure all the numbers.

TERMS. For 1 copy of the Extra Globe " 6 copies " 12 do " 25 do And so on in proportion for a greater number. For 1 copy of the Congressional Globe, or Appendix 50 cents. " 6 copies of either $2 50

And so on in proportion for a greater number. Payments may be transmitted by mail, postage paid, at our risk. By the regulations of the Post Office Department, postmasters are authorized to frank letters containing money for subscriptions to newspapers. The notes of any bank, current in the section of country where a subscriber resides, will be received by us at par.

" 12 do

No attention will be paid to any order unless the money accompanies it.

BLAIR & RIVES. Washington City, April 20, 1841.

MABBLE PAOPORT, By JAMES FOSTER.

Liberty Point-Fayetteville, opposite THE JACKSON HOTEL. May 4.

A NEW SCHOOL.

N Monday the 5th of October, the subscriber will open in this town, a school for boys, where the various branches of English and Classical studies will be taught. The charge for Tuition will be $10 25, per term, for all engaged in Classical studies and the higher branches of English, or $11 per annum. For the ordinary branches of English studies the charge will be $8 25 per term, tuition in all cases to be paid in advance, and no student received for less than a term. The year will commence on the 5th of October, and close early in August, with no intervening vacation except an occasional recess of a few days. No deduction will be made for absence unless by special agreement. Having taken a commodious house, the subscriber will accommodate a number of hearders at $140 per annum, including lodging, room, fuel and lights. SIMEON COLTON.

Fayetteville, August 13, 1840. * .* Favetteville Observer and Wilmington Advertiser will please copy four weeks.

POTATOES. GEO. McNEILL.

Feb. 12, 1841.

FLOUR MILL.

Blunt's Creek mill has been thoroughly repaired.

Wheat will be received and ground with despatch. For terms GEO. McNEILL.

江宇 Cash paid for wheat. Nov. 20, 1840.

PIANO FORTES.

GOOD Assortment of Piano Fortes may con-A stantly be found for sale at the Female Semiary. Enquire of the PRINCIPALS of the SEM-INARY, or of Con. S. T.HAWLEY. Fayetteville; Nov. 30 1839.

Timber and Lumber Agency. II E subscriber will attend to the sale of TIMBER, LUMBER, &c. in the Town of Wilmington, North Carolina, for all persons who may favor him with their commission. He pledges himselfto procure forthem at all times the highest prices for such articles as they may trust to his nanagement. He isi n ro way connected with the Steam Mills, or their Agent; and will give the best security for the faithful discharge of his duties as Agent. MILES COSTIN. Wilmington, N. C. Feb. 23, 1839.

MILL STONES.

THE Subscriber having recently opened a new L quarry of superior grit, is prepared to furnish any number of Stones, either at the quarry or at the store of C. J. Orrell, Fayetteville. The quality of the Moore county Stones is so well known as not to need description, and the Subscriber will warrant all stones sold by him. If they should not prove to be good, another pair will be furnished without charge. The price is lower than hereto-

Persons wishing to purchase, can apply in person, or by letter addressed to Carthage, Moore county, N. C. with description of the size wanted. JESSE SOWELL. Moore County, April 20, 1839.

THE FRANKLIN LIBRARY IS now open, and Stockholders can obtain books, JNO. D. WILLIAMS, Librarian. Fayetteville, Jan. 23, 1841.

SYRUP

9 barrels Camps' refined Syrup. 9 barrels New Orleans TREACLE. GEO. McNEILL. December, 18th.

LIME.

60 Casks Thomastown Lime, for sale, GEO. McNEILL. Feb. 12, 1841. 103-tf

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, BLADEN COUNTY. County Court, February Term, 1841.

Margaret Henry, Si. Fa. to subject M. McBride, Administrator Real Estate. of Elizabeth McBride.

T appearing to the satisfaction of the Court. that the defendant, Peter McBride, is not an inhabitant of this State, It is therefore ordered that publication be made in the North Carolinian, printed at Fayetteville, for six weeks, giving him notice to appear at the next term of said Court, to be held on the first Monday of October next, tien and there to plead, answer or demur to the plaintiff's petition, otherwise it will be taken pro confesso and heard

Witness, DAVID LEWIS, Clerk of our said Court at office, this fifth Monday of March, A. D. DAVID LEWIS, Clk.

LAFAYETTE HOTEL. Fayetteville, North Carolina.

HIS ESTABLISHMENT will be open after the 1st of August, under the management and direction of the Subscriber. The House has been thoroughly repaired, and will, in a few days, be well furnished; and every effort will be made to render it worthy of patronage. EDWARD YARBROUGH.

August 3, 1839. The Augusta Chronicle (weekly,) Raleigh Register and Standard, Wilmington Advertiser, Greensborough Patriot, Salisbury Watchman, and Cheraw Gazette will insert the above three months and forward their accounts to the subscriber.

E. Y.