

The Bark of Life.

My bark of life o'er the waters of strife, Has long been sailing slow; With rudder lost, and tempest-tossed, It bears its weight of wee.

Like a troubled dream does my voyage seen So rough has been its course; For against my bark the billows dark Have spent their simost force.

As a living grave, o'er the sullen wave,
Listles my back moves on;
And clouds of ill are hovering will,
Though the ireful storm be gone.

Now all around a gloom profound Enshrouds the circling air Of hopes bereft, my back is left A prey to false despair.

But see from afar, heaven's polar star, The beacon of grace shines clear; And the radiance bright of that blessed light Dispels each sloomy fear.

Faith springs the gale that fills my sail, And wafts me towards the shore-That land of peace, where troubles cease, And sorrow is no more.

War and Love.

War and Love hath various cares; War sheds blood and Love sheds tears ; War has swords and Love has darts; War breaks heads and Love breaks hearts.

War makes foes, Love makes friends; War's soon o'er, Lover never ends; War makes wrath, Love makes strife; War takes wealth and Love takes life.

War moves bo'd, Love moves sly; War makes us rave, Love makes us cry; War's ruled by men, Love's rul'd by the fair; War needs many soldiers, Love needs but a SUICIDE BY A HORSE.—A horse, at Louisville, becoming restive in his gear, reared, pitched, floundered, &c., and in his operations dashed his brains out upon the pavement. Strange that horses will act so much like rational beings -Northern Paper.

STOPPING A HORSE. - As a horse harnessed to a char-a-banc was yesterday running off at full speed down the Faubourg St. Maitin, a locksmith boldly placed himself in the middle of the street, and, in spite of all the warnings of the bystanders, quietly awaited the arrival of the frightened animal. On the horse reaching him, he, with the greatest presence of mind, seized it by the nose with such force, as to throw it to the ground. A crowd soon assembled round, in the midst of which the bold locksmith walked away. A woman had been knocked down by the vehicle in its progress, but was not seriously injured .- French paper.

PROSPECTUS.

The publishers of the Globe have recently given to the country an exposition of the motives which prompted the attempt by the federal party to prostrate their establishment, by the lawless abrogation of their contract as printers to the Senate. They showed that there were already six federal newspapersto which a seventh is about to be added -- published at Washington-all devoted to the dissemination of Federal principles, and the defence of Federal measures. And to make this overwhelming battery of Federal presses at the seat of Government tell with more effect throughout the Union, the character of the Globe was to be tarnished, its means impoverished, and its political influence destroyed, by a sweeping denunciation of infamy on the part of the federal leaders in the Sepate by throwing the dead weight of an expenditure of $40,000 in preparation to do the Congressional work, on the hands of its publishers, (the printers whose contract was violated) and by having this whole work of defamation and ruin accomplished by the judgment of the Senate of the Union to give it the sanction of the highest tribunal known to our country. The work was done by a caucus packed ma-Globe are left to sustain their establishment by the patronage they may receive from political friends for the papers they publish. Sooner than ask or receive the sort of lumping contributions by which the banks and federal politicians sustain their presses, we will abandon the publication of the Globe, if it cannot be supported by the regular supscription price friends whose circumstances do not justify a subscription to a daily paper, will patronize the cheaper publications issued by us-the Extra Globe, and the Appendix-we shall be enabled to maintain, as heretofore, our corps of Congressional Reporters at the cost of $3,000 per annum, and to draw to our aid

The political aspect and bearing of the measures before Congress during the special session will be fully developed, and when the proceedings are considered of much interest to the public, they will be given at length. The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE and APPENDIX will begin with the extra session of Congress, to commence on Monday, the 31st of May next, and will be continued during the session. The Congressional Globe will give an impartial history of the proceedings of both Houses of Congress; and the Appendix will contain all the speeches on both sides, of important subjects, at full length, as written out, or revised, by the memas the business of the two Houses furnishes matter for a number.
