THE Subscribers having witnessed the successful operation of these wheels, were induced to purcliude the right of using them in the state of North Carolina; and they now offer for sale individual rights, at FIFTY dollars, or rights for a whole county, on reasonable terms.

Pesid a being generally adopted in the Northern In the southern States. We have sold about 100 Rights, 30 of which are in successful operation in Comperland county.

These wheels are more durable, and more easily kept in order when properly put together than the fluiter wheel. They will save one-third of the water, and run will in back water, when there is a head above. The speed of the saw is increased to more than double the strokes per minute. We refer, am ng others, to the following gentlemen, some of whom have had the wheels in operation 12 months or more; and from many of them, and ofhe s, we have received certificates expressing their high approbation of the superior advantages of these over the flutter wheel, and stating that their saws will cut 2500, 3000, 3500, and even as | Per

What a pity it was that "night appronched" to rob him of the victory within his Agency Office, Wells Building, 62 Wall st., grasp. In the hurry of his retreat, after the buttle of the 9th, he did not find time to issue his bulletin, detailing the incidents of that eventful day.

"NORTHERN DIVISION. General-in-Chief .- Constant is my pur pose of preventing Gen. Taylor from effecting a junction between the forces he was taking from Sania Isabel and those which he left at the fortifications opposite Matamoros, I set off to-day from the Tanques del Ramireno, from which place I address to your Excellency my last despatch, and I marched towards Palo Alto us soon as my spies informed me that the enemy had left Santa Isabel determined to introduce into their fortifications a number of wagons loaded with provisions and artillery. I arrived opposite Palo Alto about one o'clock, P. M., and saw that the enemy was entering the place. With all the forces I had I proceeded to form my line of battle on a my right flank, with a quagmire on the left difficult of penetration. Scarcely had we fired led the men that fed the dogs that lay in the our first gun, when the second commande: - house that Zack, built. in-chief, Gen. The forces under my command were 3000 men and 12 pieces of artillery; those of the invaders were 3000 men or a trifle less, and a superior force of artillery, as they numbered 20 pieces of 16 and 18 pounders.

The battle commenced with such ardor that most, during which the enemy endeavoured to follow their course towards Matamoros, in order to suspend the siege of their troops at the fortification, and with such object they set fire to shrubbery and grass so as to form opposite their line a thick smoke by which they succeeding in hiding themselves from our view; but I, through necessary operations, defeated their object on two different occa-

I was anxious to make a charge on the enemy, because the cannon balls caused great loss on our files, and I ordered Gen. Don Anastasio Torrejon to execute it with the greater part of the cavalry, on our left flank, in order to give the charge at the same time with the infantry and the rest of the cavalry, on the right flauk.

I was waiting the moment in which Gen. l'errejon should commence the charge, and that the enemy should begin to feel its effect, in order to give the impulse on the right; but the effort was checked by a counter movement of a portion of the cuemy's force that defended a marsh, which prevented the attack.

Some of our companies were impatient on account of the loss we had suffered, and they commenced to get out of order, asking that I should give the command to advance at once, the number of whitema'es between the ages of 21 or retreat. At such a moment, I ordered a and 45 living in their families-alse, all fee ne- coumn of cavalry, under command of Col. groes living on their land with their consent-the Don Cayetano Montero, to charge with the view that the parties thrown out of order should they may have posse-sed on the 1st of April last. resume their position, and in all possible manner murch on the enemy, who, sowing to the great distance at which they stood, had time to fall back on the reserve; and night INPIA RUBBER BRIDGE .- Mention has approaching fast, the battle ended, and we

CANDIDATES.

We have already seven candidates in the field for the next Legislature, and there is a strong probability of we don't know how many more. We have long been of opinion that our State Constitution should be amended in one or two particulars. We think that it should be so amended as to permit the different Counties to be represented, not in proportion to their population, but in proportion to the talent they possess. If this could be effected, we think that Randolph alone, would be critiled to at least fifty members. There are more than fifty who are ready, willing, and anxious to represent their fellow citizens. Many of them too, have had strong solicitations which, we all know, it is difficult to resist. We have not had any, as yet, but we think we could in a short time, if we would just express a willinguess. But we will anticipate our numerous friends, and assure them, that, even if the Herald were out of the so few of our talented men are permitted to answer the calls of their countrymen. De-"It consists of large bags, or pantons, which may be better explained by the calcu- plorable! Many a worthy is compelled to something like cotton bags in shape, made of lation of the Commander-in Chief of Artill- remain in obscurity in consequence of this can, perhaps, be more easily accomplished. We will have Randolph erected into a new State with a Legislature of her own; and then, there will be ample room for a display

If either of these plans could be adopted, we think it would be nothing amiss to have dates for the Legislature in Wayne county: the pay of members reduced a little. There Curtis Brogden, Col. With the origin or meaning of this queer expression we are wholly unacquainted, but the idea which it suggests to our mind, we will Palo Alto, opposite the enemy's Camp, May illustriate by the following story.

Ouce in the olden times, there lived in the goodly city of Cincinnati, a certain gentleman, who was noted for his wealth and eccentricities. He had a beautiful daughter, the winning of whose heart was the chief ambition of all the young men in the country .-Among the many who had never been introduced, and therefore only admired in the abstract, were a couple of Kentucky bloods from Lexington. They were bosom companions: but, as fate would have it, both were striving for the same and, viz: an introduction to the fair unknown. They finally concluded, however, that they should become acquainted at the same time, leaving the more distant luture

In process of time they made their appearauce in our city, but as they had brought no letters with them, and were unacquainted This is the leader that rose in the morn, to with the aristocracy, the commencement of their principal amusement was to walk by the mansion where resided the Buckeye charmer, and this they did in the morning, at noon, and in the quiet evening of every day.

On an occasion it so happened that they chanced to walk within bailing distance of the old gardener of the mansion, who was busily engaged in trimming some grape vines, when the idea suddenly entered their noddles that This is the Captain not shaven or short they might employ his services to advantage.

"Halloo, old cover, bere's a silver dollar, and now we want you to give us a heiping

" That's rather e puzzling question, young genilemen. But hold! I'll give you my adhappy to gratify your wishes."

"Thank you, thank you old Covey, we stop at that Hotel, and the game is opening beautifully. Good afternoon, John."

A couple of days passed away, during which time there had been certain manceuvers carried on which we will leave to the for the long desired introduction finally arrived.
