To all the world who use leather in any form: Oil of Tannin, or Leather Restorer. A new Chemical Discovery.

Most people know, that skins and hides are converted into leather by the use of Tarnin, extracted from certain barks, &c. When the force and strength of the Tannin is worn out, leather becomes dead, hard, dry, brittle, cracked, covered with a crust, &c. This all know. To restore then life, softness, moistness, strength, smoothness, and remove all crusts, fly, or blister - restore the tannin. This substance the leather never can recrive the second time; but the whole virtues of it are in this article, the OIL OF TANNIN, which penetrates the stiffest and hardest leather, if it has been 20 years in use, and if it tears easily with the fingers, it imparts at once a strength that is utterly incredible until seen. It becomes like new leather in all respects, with a delightful softness and polish, and makes all leather completely and perfectly impervious to water -- particularly boots, shoes, carijage tops, harness, hose, trunks, and in fact all things made of leather, giving a splendid polish, even higher than new leather has, and at least doubling its wear and durability, in whatever manne the leather is used. Phese are Facts. For sale by S J Hinedale, of this place; Atkins & Ce, Clinto ; Linstein & Bro., Kinston: Base & Sulfvan, Kenansville; DG Patterson, Little Rockfish; and McDewal & Co, Efizabethtown,

As the ceremony proceeded her whele countenance and frame bore evidence of the struggle going on to hold mastery over her feelings, but as the last and closing part of the heart-bursting grief rehoed throughout the chancl. Still the ceremony was conditeted, and the fair nevice entered the cloister, leav ing her sorrowing sister, as well as her other motherless and almost infant brothers and sisters, to i affet the world as they may. True, her trials and afflictions have, of late, been great, not only as regard- family affairs, but in that more dear and close relation, the severing of the lover and his betrothed. I will merely state that some few weeks a young and talepted member of the bar, es teemed and respected by all who knew him, was arraighed at the bar of the United States Di trief Court, charged with forging drafts on the government. The trial progressed, and though friends deserted him, one warm heart clung to the hope and belief in the innocence of her lover to the last. She looked with confidence to his honorable acquital of the infamous charge, but alas! she looked in vain .-The evidence proved to be of the most posirive and conclusive character, and he was convicted. A new trial was obtained, and all the quibbles of the law brought to bear upon the case; but the evidence was still stronger than that on the first trial, and the accused was sentenced to six years' imprisonment in the penitentialy. The finale of the matter, therefore, is, that young lawyer King is wearing check in the penitentiary, and his betrothed is shut from the world by the barred gares
