om the N. Y. True Sun. EFFECTS OF CHLIROFORM ON THE

Every body has herd of the astonishing effects of chloroforn in producing a state of insensibility to pan. We are acquaint-ed with several pers is who have inhaled it duing a touth-drying peration, and pain. It effects a pmplete paralyzation of the nervous systm. Several experi-ments have lately ten tried on the horse in England, with grat success, as will be seen by the following extracts: The experiment upon a horse of Mr Goodwin, veterinar surgeon to the Queen, was made at the Roal Riding School, in Twiggs, and Shields, with an escort of presence of Messrs Vilkinson, A. Cherry, dragoons, and the 2d and 7th infantry, Henderson, and Prcivall. The experiment was of an unutally interesting char- cient Aztec city, and I joined it. About acter. The anima a fine sleek looking two miles from Puebla a laughable incibay carriage horse, evidently lame, come dent occurred, though it came near ending snorting and prancing out of his stable, full in tragedy. The infantry were ascending of health and vigor and was led at once an easy slope, when two Mexicans came into the riding schol. Though naturally along with a powerful bull which one of disordered in his intellect; but whose conquiet and quiet and good-terpered, still, from his them held by a lasso over the horns, while present buoyancy of spirits, it required the other urged him along with a goad. some courage on the part of the strangers The animal became restive as the soldiers present to approachim. Such being the passed, and finally breaking away from in his hand, when he came up to Mr Mann Buggies, Gigs, Sulkies, case, it become a juestion how or what those who held him, charged the left flank, manner the chlorofrm was to be applied, carrying a soldier through the ranks on so that he might electually inhale its va-

por. After some ro and con observations and suggestions, i was determined to send for a common leatern muzzle; and to affix to such parts if it as were (when the when four of us civilians came along on muzzle was on thehead) directly opposed to the nostrils, two pieces of sponge, each the ground, and one of the Mexicans who of sufficient magnitude to imbibe an ounce got in front of the beast to beat him still, or more of the limid chloroform. This was done, and the muzzle so fitted up, put on. Everything being adjusted about the head, hloroform liquid from two feet of mud and water, gored and a bittle was pourd first upon one sponge, afterwards, upon he other by Mr Percivall, out of a bottle cutaining three ounces of the animal from his prey, when he turned the fluid, until abut two-thirds of the en- and put after us, more furious than ever. tirequantity, an ance upon each sponge, haddisappeared. the mouth, and that was owing to the

the slighest feeling; nor did even his lips exhibit more than a convulsive twitch when they were likewise punctured. His pupils were dilated. His pulse was distinct though weak at the jaw, and was not in the first instance accelerated, though it rose considerably afterwards. Not more than half a minute clapsed after the sponges were pressed against his nostrils before the animal showed himself affected by the chloroform; and in the next half minute he was in convulsions. In consequence of the muzzle having come off in the act of reeling, total insensibility did not continue longer than about a couple of minutes. From that time the pulse gradually but rapidly increased in frequency, quickly becomming 60, 100, and 120; while all the time consciousness and sensibility were found returning, and along with it unnatur-WAS COMMITTED to al heat of skin over every part of the body. In about five minutes after sensibility had returned the animal appeared and proved sufficiently recovered to have his bridle and cavesson adjusted, and to be walked slowly round the school. In half an hour afterwards he had returned to his stable and was eating with his wonted appetite his noon feed; nor did he appear aught the worse in any respect whatever from the experiment that had been practised on him

An interesting and most successful experiment with this beneficial agent was also tried on a lame horse, belonging to Mr Reid, of Nast Lothian. Dr Robertson and Mr P. Imlach, from Edinburgh, Dr Lorimer, from Haddington, and others, were present. About two ounces of the chloroform were poured on a piece of flannel cloth, below which was a sponge, the whole being placed in a tin case, which was tied over the horse's nose, and surof boarders and travellers. It table will be supplied with the best fare which our mark affords, and his bar room with the most choice liquors in short, every exertion will and in five minutes it was perfectly insensible. When in that condition, Mr Cockburn, veterinary surgeon, Haddington, performed the usually painful operation of cutting the nerves of sensation in both of its fore feet. On cutting the second nerve the poor beast made a slight movement, showing the chloroform was beginning to lose its effect; but a second application of another ounce, allowed the other two remaining nerves to be cut without a quiver. In twenty five minutes from the commencement the animal was again on his leganow perfectly band.

PRANKS OF A MEXICAN BULL. -In an interesting letter to the Philadelphia North American, dated Puebla, 5th August, we find the following humorous account of an impromptu "bull fight:" About a week since, Generals Scott, made an excursion to the site of the anthe opposite side of the road. The two men finally got hold of the lasso again, and were getting him along very well horses. Then he began to plunge and paw was tossed clear over the bull's back. The infuriated creature then pitched into the other, and throwing him in about ducked him for several seconds. All the horsemen rode up and succeed in driving As we had no arms and did not choose to have our horses ruined, there was some the 7th Regiment, and then charged again, making a pretty wide breach in the ranks.

After satisfying himself that the 7th was "no where" when he was about, he made a rush on the 2d. The boys bud fine to HENRY ERAMBERT, Agt.

Chloroform is said to be a good remedy against scolding wives. A friend of ours, says the Providence Transcript, keeps it constantly on hand, and says, " no family clenching of the jaws At this period the should be without it." The proper time horse had the spect of one momentarily for the husband to take it is when he sees

GOING TO BED:

Going to bed we have always considered as one of the most sober, serious, and solemn operations which a man can be engaged in during the whole twenty-four hours. With a young lady it is altogether a different sort of thing. When bed-time arrives she trips up stairs with a candle in her hand-if she has had pleasant company during the evening-with some agreeable ideas in her head—the candle is placed on the toilet, and her luxuriant hair speedily emancipated from the thraldom of combs and pins. If she usually wears "water curls" or uses the "iron," her hair is brushed carefully from her forehead, and the whole mass compactly secured; if not, why then her levely tresses are soon hid in innumerable bits of paper. This task accomplished, a night-cap makes its appearance, edged may be with plain muslin, or may be with levy lace which hides all, save her own sweet countenance. As soon as she ties the strings, probably she takes a peep in her glass and half smiles, half blushes at what she sees. The light is out-her fair, delicate form gently presses the couch-and like a dear innocent; lovely creature as she is, she falls gently into sleep, with a sweet smile on her still sweeter face. A man, of course, under the same circumstance, acts quite differently. Every movement in his chamber indicates the coarse rough mould of his fallen nature. When all is ready, he snuffs the candle out with his finger like a cannibal, and then jumps into bed like a savage. For a few moments he thinks of all the peccadilloes he may have committed through the day-vows a vow to amend soon-groans turns over-stretches himheavy breathing of the slumber.
