Office of the Picayune, NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.) GEN. TAYLOR.

The following letter has been prepared by Gen. Taylor to correct any misconception which might possibly be produced by the recent publication of extracts from his private correspondence, and the appearance over his signature of replies to single and detached questions relative to his position before the public. The letter is a connected narrative of the series of circumstances which resulted in his becoming a candidate.

East Pascagoula, Sept. 4.

Dear Sir-On the 22d day of May last addressed you a letter explaining my views in regard to various matters of public policy, lest my fellow-citizens might be misled by the many contradictory and conflicting statements in respect to them which appeared in the journals of the day and were circulated throughout the country. now find myself misrepresented and misunderstood upon another point of such importance to myself personally, if not to the country at large, as to claim from me a candid and connected exposition of my relations to the public in regard to the pending Presidential canvass.

The utmost ingenuity has been expended upon several letters, and detached sentences of letters, which have recently appeared over my signature, to show that I occupy an equivocal attitude towards the various parties into which the people are divided, and especially towards the whig party as represented by the National Convention which assembled in Philadelphia in June last. Had these letters and scraps swers to isolated questions have been given up to the captious criticism of those who have been made my enemies by a nomination which has been tendered to me without solicitation or arrangement of mine; or of the manner in which select passages in some of my letters, written in the freedom and carelessness of a confidential correspondence have been communicated to the public press. But riven from the context, and separated from a series of explanatory facts and circumstances which are, in so far as impair the force of that declaration. this canyass is concerned, historical, they tive fabrications. I address you this letter to correct the injustice that has been illiberal process. I shall not weary you by an elaborate recital of every incident connected with the first presentation of my name as a candidate for the Presidency. I was then at the head of the American army in the valley of the Rio Grande. I was surrounded by whigs and democrats who had stood whom it was my destiny to conduct through scenes of still greater peril. My duty to that army, and to the Republic whose battion of the brave men under my command -all of whom knew I was a whig in principle, for I made no concealment of my political sentiments or predilections. Such had been the violence of party struggles during the late presidential elecunder the various interpretations given to did not subscribe to its tenets. I was unwilling to hazard the effect of such relationcommand when in front of an enemy comin itself, and it was as repugnant to my own feelings as it was to my duty. I wanted unity in the army, and forebore any act that might sow the seeds of distrust and discord in its ranks. I have not my letters written at the time before me, but they are all of one import, and in conformity with the views herein expressed.

Meanwhile I was solicited by my personal friends and by strangers, by Whigs and Democrats, to consent to become a candidate. I was nominated by the people meetings. I resisted them all, and continued to do so till led to believe that my opposition was assuming the aspect of a defiance of the popular wishes. I yielded upon an enduring basis. only when it looked like presumption to resist longer, and even then I should not have done so had not the nomination been presented to me in a form unlikely to awaken acrimony or reproduce the bitter-
