DR. SHERWOOD'S Vibrating Magnetic Machines.

By recent improvements in these Machines, their power is doubled in size of the same size, and the prices reduced to $12 and $14 each; the $12 sizes being greatly superior to the $12 sizes of other machines. They now run with more power and smoothness, and are better adapted for magnetizing patients than any other in use.

Physicians and others are cautioned against purchasing the imitations of these machines, as they will be found to be of little value. No premium has ever been obtained over these magnetic machines at the American or any other Institute, as is represented by the manufacturers of inferior machines.

Dr. H. H. SHERWOOD'S Compound Chloride of Gold, FOR SCROFULOUS DISEASES.

This remarkable medical remedy of the late eminent and well known Dr. Sherwood of New York, consisting of a preparation of magnetized CHLORIDE OF GOLD, compounded with various other materials with great care and by a laborious process, and of a BITUMINOUS PLASTER, have been tested by an extensive practice of twenty-five years' continuance, and may now justly be considered as more successful than any other known remedy in the treatment of CONSUMPTION in all its early stages, and of all Tuberculous or Scrofulous Diseases. For this class of complaints they are now extensively adopted by physicians in their own practice in various parts of the country. They are prepared by us under the direction of the Executrix of the estate of the late Dr. Sherwood, to whom, by his will, his medical recipes are intrusted in the same manner in all respects as heretofore, and are always accompanied by Dr. Sherwood's valuable medical treatise upon the treatment of Chronic Diseases, a work which was the result of many years of labor and research, and which shows in the clearest manner the principles upon which the operation of his remedies is founded, and their mode of cure. This work will enable any person to detect the nature and extent of scrofulous or tuberculous disease in himself or others, by pressure on the ganglions of the spinal nerves, on the spaces between the vertebrae along each side of the spine.

NORTH CAROLINIAN.

Wm. H. Bayne, Editor and Proprietor. FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. AUGUST 11, 1849.

Later From Europe.

The steamer Cambria arrived at Boston on Friday 3d inst.

The news is of some importance. Cotton continues to advance, and a great deal purchased on speculation; and of course prices in this country will advance. It was quoted at Liverpool, on 21st ult., at 5 1/2 pence per pound for uplands.

The Austrians raised the siege against Venice, in consequence of sickness among them. The Hungarians still hold their own against their overpowering enemies, Russia and Austria, and another defeat of the allies was reported.

INDIAN RAVAGES.

The Texan gives an appalling account of the atrocities of the Indians, upon the authority of Captain Lewis, which are represented to exceed anything that has occurred in Texas for the last ten years.

All the inhabitants have been forced to fly from their houses across to the western bank of the Rio Grande. Many have swam the river with their clothes tied upon their heads, while their wives and children have been dragged into captivity by the restless foe.

A large meeting of citizens of Huntingdon and Fishing Creek townships, Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, was held on the 7th ult., at which a series of resolutions were adopted, handing the Second Washington and his managers of the Post Office Department without mittens. Amongst others, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That removing the post office from Columbus, and removing our worthy whig friend, George Kremer, from the office, is an insult to the whig party, which demands immediate reparation.—Harrisburg (Pa.) Union.

DIED, suddenly, at his residence, in the county of Sussex, Va., on 19th July, Capt. James Seaborn, in the 73d year of his age. Capt. Seaborn, on the morning of his death, visited one of his neighbors and transacted business, returned home a short time previous to his death, and died without complaining or saying that he was the least indisposed. His death was so sudden and unexpected that his family did not even discover it until he was no more.

SHOEING HORSES.—At a meeting of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, some time since, Professor Sewel remarked that he frequently found old horses shod with a layer of leather, forming an artificial sole between the hoof and the shoe, recovering from severe affections, causing injury to the hoof—such, for instance, as contraction, brittleness, and cracks, or even disease of the foot itself, as thrushes, corns, cankers, &c., and permanently regain their original elasticity and firmness.

CURE FOR HEAVENS IN HORSES.—A farmer informs us that he has recently cured two of his horses, which had the heaves badly, by the use of the following remedy:—To three quarts of sweet milk, add a teaspoonful of sulphuric acid (oil of vitriol), and mix with the horse's feed. Give at first three times a week, and afterwards once or twice as there may seem occasion for a week longer. Our informant says there was little appearance of heaves after the first week.—Michigan Farmer.

The Hydrangea.—It is said, we know not how truly, that this fine flower, which is usually of a pink color, may be made to come out a beautiful blue, by merely filling the pot or box with swamp or bog earth.

CLEAR THE WRECK.

“One foot of solid ground Is worth a wilderness of scowling waves.” Dante.

“And friendship passed me like a ship at sea.”—Preston.

“Have axes by the masts, Mr. Boltrape, and see the gun-carriages chocked; it looks dirty to windward, and we shall have a night of it.”—My first Cruise.

A storm at sea is a thing to be remembered for years afterwards. By a storm we don't mean a catspaw of wind, a brisk gale, or a white squall; but we do mean a howling, peeling, dashing, crashing, straining, groaning, splitting, hair-pulling north-wester, which requires three days to disburden itself of its fury, and two days to become reasonably quiet again.

The expectation is, that the Pope will soon return to Rome.

trough out of a swill-pail, and the days of miracles are over.

The great discrimination used in selecting persons from among the people for appointments abroad is another evidence that the ship is in danger. When the cook and the Jack of the Dust are promoted to the quarter-deck, and posts below are filled by means of a lottery from the fore-castle—when honesty and capacity are sneeringly alluded to as words used during the canvass, for the purpose of catching gulls, and fidelity is a by-word and a reproach, well may the good man tremble, and the good wife turn over and ask, in hurried accents, “What is the matter?”

It is currently reported that the great Ohioan, the immortal Secretary of the Interior, who knows how to give and how to take away a contract for stationery—see the case of Wheeler & Co.—is about to go to Russia after court polish and bear's oil, and fit himself to run for the presidency in 1851. But it all won't do.

The Secretary of the Interior has just removed the following clerks from the General Land Office: Dr. Fraley, Mr. Foster, Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Causin, Mr. Minnix, Mr. Flood, Mr. Frazier, Mr. I. D. Vedder, Mr. Bestor, Mr. Pennybacker, Mr. Parker, Mr. Curran, Mr. Greenleaf, Mr. Whitacre, Dr. Brown, Mr. Slade, Mr. Ashton, and Mr. Hungerford.

This removal of some of the very best clerks in Washington, without the slightest cause—in a manner contrary to law—is on a par with all the other official acts of the Harrisonian Butcher. Mr. Ewing turned out two of the gentlemen above named before, when he was in office. He, however, was shortly afterwards ejected neck and heels himself, and, with the blessing of God and reasonable luck, he will be served in a similar manner at the next session of Congress, and the American people will say amen.

Zachary Washington, we would say to you as Tom Pipes said to old Commodore Truncheon when he wanted him to marry Miss Pickle—

“Zachary Washington, get up and be saved, Or lie still and be d—d.”

You cannot sleep with dogs without being troubled with fleas. You must clear your skirts of all leaches before the American people can implicitly trust you after dark. Then wake up, old soldier, grasp the sword of power and helm of state; send your council of administration to their lawful and their black-letter again, be yourself the President; act as your own good judgment, if you have any to speak of, impels you to act; do wrong a little if you cannot help it—much will be pardoned to the spirit of liberty; let us have a government strong and respectable; and if it must be a fizzle, let it be a pretty big one, and the devil take the hindmost.

The vessel may yet be saved, but it must be done by those who are out of commission. How past ages look down upon us! how Europe looks at us! how Mrs. Franklin honors us! how Russia loves us! how Austria, who is hungry for liberty, rejoices in our smiles, and courts our good opinion!—we, who could aid the Greeks by building frigates in New York harbor for them; aid Brazil by building the frigate Hudson, in Brooklyn; we who could, by our Clays, and our Websters, awake the spirit of chivalry for Greece, South America, and Poland; we who could present colors to the Polish legion on Boston Common, in presence of the U. S. troops from Fort Independence, brought some four miles to assist at the ceremony; we who permit foreign officers to do duty on board our ships of war, while we are at peace with their enemies; we who suffered the troops of old to be mustered on our soil and to march into Texas, who suffered lately a Yucatan, who furnished food for the Sultans, and the Albanian, and cherished the Russian rebel and the French traitor;—Oh yes! we, now we have a military man at the head of the government, must strange liberty in Germany, and become the willing tools of the tyrants of the Old World in fastening on the fetters of the bondman and the slave in the nineteenth century.

Well, “go it boys,” as they say in classic Mantua; and when you feel sorry, sneeze, that mankind may be aware of your conversion, and rejoice over you as they did over the ninety-ninth sheep of old, when honesty, fidelity, and capacity existed without the presence of the

“HEROIC AGE.”

THE TOBACCO CROP.—The Baltimore Sun states that, after the fine rains of the last week, the planters below Piscataway took advantage of the opportunity to set out many thousand plants, to replace those which had been destroyed by the dry season. It is the opinion of the Marlborough Gazette that few planters in its neighborhood will grow tobacco enough for their own consumption.

In accordance with previous arrangements, made by the citizens of Newbern, George S. Stevenson, Esq., of that place delivered an Oration on the 13th ultimo, commemorative of the life and eminent services of Ex-President Polk, Mr. Stevenson's effort is spoken of by both the Republican and Newbernian as every way worthy of the occasion.
