NORTH CAROLINIAN.

Wm. H. Bayne, Editor and Proprietor.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

OCTOBER 13, 1849.

Late From Europe.

Telegraphed for the Union. BALTIMORE, October 3, 1849.

The Canada arrived at Halifax at a quarter-past 9 yesterday morning, making the passage in less than ten days.

The commercial news, upon the whole, exhibits an active movement. Produce market fairly supplied, but demand for most articles inactive. Cotton trade languid at fair prices.

The political news presents no new feature. In breadstuff there appears to be great firmness exhibited, higher prices being paid. In cured provisions there is a moderate business at steady prices.

Advices from the manufacturing districts are unsatisfactory.

Comorn, though besieged, still holds out, and can defy the besiegers one entire year. The influence of Russia and Austria is being exerted to compel the Porte to surrender the Hungarian chiefs who have taken refuge in Turkey. But letters from Constantinople state that this has been positively refused.

The Pope has quitted Gaeta and proceeded to Naples. His reception was of a most strong and popular character. He will not go to Rome for the present.

The cholera is committing serious ravages at Trieste.

The newly appointed ministers were assembling at Madrid, but no notice seems to have been taken of events relative to Cuba.

The weather has been wet in England, but not materially affecting the crops. The late downward tendency in the corn market has checked the slight advances which had taken place. The favorable reports of the potato disease had caused this reaction.

Hop picking in England has been disastrous. One great effort had been made by growers to procure relief, from which movements a favorable change had taken place.

The mortality from cholera throughout England has declined one-half. Since its commencement 13,000 persons have been swept from London.

IRELAND.—The Potato disease is, beyond doubt, extending into several districts, though it has not by any means become general.

FRANCE.—A good deal of attention is directed to the Metropolitan council, which has commenced its sittings at Paris. Almost all the bishops and distinguished clergy in France are assisting at the council.

The cholera appears to have abated in Paris. The conspirators of June, 1849, are to be tried at Versailles on the 10th of October.

RESIGNATION OF THE DUTCH MINISTRY

—The papers announce the unexpected resignation of the Dutch ministry en masse. After deliberation, the King accepted their resignations, and gave instructions for the formation of another cabinet. The circumstances which led to this result had not transpired. Honor to Abdel Meschis! Honor to Turkish ministers! They have nobly done their duty, and refuse to become panderers to the vindictive bloodthirsting of Joseph and Nicholas. The Russian ambassador at the Porte demanded the surrender of the Hungarian officers, Kossuth, Dembinski, Perczel, Mesmerasses, and their companions. The Russian General had arrived at Constantinople—his mission being to bully the Sultan into compliance with the demands of Austria. A council being held, the Turkish government resolved not to surrender the Hungarian refugees to either the Russian or Austrian government. On this decision being communicated to the Sultan, he declared in the most emphatic and determined manner that the refugees should not be given up, let the consequences be what they might.

We are rejoiced to find that Cassa and his companions are furnished with passports from English ambassadors, and trust that every assistance and support will be rendered by England for the independence of his country against the attacks of Russia and Austria.

Latest intelligence to the London Sun says that Peterwardein surrendered to the imperial troops on the 5th ult. The Magyars decided still to hold out, but a majority overruled them.

According to the Vienna journals, 80,000 men are to besiege Comorn. The bombardment was to commence on the 13th, when the Austrians occupied a great part of the island of Schutt without resistance; but a part of the Hungarians were strongly entrenched before the fortress, and it was expected would give the Austrians battle. It was rumored at Vienna that Bem had fallen into the hands of the Russians. Several Hungarian officers had been put to death—some by the Russians at Arad and Temesvar.

Since the 15th, the demand for cotton has been dull. Sales for one week 28,000 bales. Committee's quotations for fair cotton remained unchanged. It is not likely that a further rise will take place, unless encouraging accounts from India are received.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.

The men lately assembled at Round Island have dispersed, the purpose for which they organized being defeated or postponed. Most of the men have returned to the city.

The Spanish squadron sailed from Havana about the middle of last month to guard the southern coast of Cuba. The standing army of the island is to be increased. Six thousand troops were daily expected from Spain.

CHANCE FOR SEAMEN.—A merchant of Boston has authorized an agent to charter $100 a month each to twenty-five seamen to go to San Francisco to bring home a ship which has been deserted by her crew.

OVERFLOW OF RED RIVER.—The Alexandria Republican states that the losses through the inundation will be immense. In that parish alone, if the crop of cotton be estimated at 25,000 bales, and of sugar at 10,000 hogsheads, with the usual quantity of molasses, the loss will be $1,700,000; and should the injuries done to the corn crop and property generally be taken into consideration, it will run up to $3,000,000. The Red River valley, instead of giving 150,000 bales of cotton, will not yield this year more than 30,000. Here is a loss of $5,000,000.

Who are the laborers in San Francisco?—A letter from San Francisco, in the National Advertiser says: "Men do any thing here for money, ex-Alderman Pickett, of your city is here with his family, and is running a scow and small boat about the harbor, and making money. Prof. Shepherd, of one of the Eastern Colleges, is driving a team at Sacramento city, and two young graduates of Yale College are driving teams about the city."

From the Sumpter (S. C.) Banner.

SHOCKING EVENT.

It has become our painful duty to record one of the most tragic events which the annals of our State presents, the death of John A. Colclough, Jun. On Saturday evening last he was called on by Mrs. Marshall, the wife of one Richard Marshall, to make some effort to protect her from the wrongs which had been inflicted on her by her husband. Prompted by the generosity of his nature, he immediately went, accompanied by his brother and brother-in-law, to the house occupied by Marshall, at a distance of some three or four hundred yards from his residence. Marshall being called, after some time came out to meet them in the yard—learning who they were and what had brought them to his house, he became furiously enraged, which was increased by the remonstrance and reproaches which they addressed to him. Being held by one of the gentlemen by the collar, he desired him to let him get his coat—was permitted to enter his house for the purpose—and as soon as he entered he seized his gun and fired at Mr John A. Colclough. The lead entered his head and he fell without a word. The gun, we understand, was loaded with duck-shot and a slug of lead. This occurred after night, but the moon was shining brightly. Marshall was immediately arrested and committed to Jail, where he will remain for his trial.

Of the criminal, stern justice, requires us to be silent; his case must be judged of by his country and his Creator. O John A. Colclough, it is no lying epitaph to say that he was the favorite of all who knew him.

MACHINE FOR OPENING OYSTERS.—The editor of the Evening Post, now travelling in Europe, says that the old-fashioned way of rapping the shell of an oyster, forcing a knife into the body of the unfortunate animal, and fetching him to light with a "Hot many sir" has been superseded in Paris by a machine. "Mr Baudou reformers the barbarities altogether. The oyster is turned over gently in a groove—the precious oyster is before you blinded by a light, without a gaping wound. There is no serious of raps to warn the oyster of his doom—no portion of the castle is breached but the vice is turned, the valves fly apart and blinded and bewildered, the live creature is consigned to tickle your palate with his dying agonies.

THE REMEDY AS BAD AS THE DISEASE.—A few days ago, near Germantown, Pa., a man went down in a confined well to clean it. The foul air overcame him, and he was seized with faintness. A rope was let down to him, which he was too weak to properly adjust around his body. In hauling him up, the rope slipped from under his arms, and caught him about the neck. His rescuers did not perceive the mishap until they drew him out. The poor man was so far gone with strangulation that he was restored with the utmost difficulty.

CARTHAGE HOTEL.

This House (formerly owned by Dr. S. C. Bruce) is kept open at present by the subscriber. Thankful for the liberal patronage received so far, he pledges himself to spare no pains to render travellers, that may call on him, comfortable during their stay.
