YES, GET MARRIED. ADVICE BY DOW, JR.

Young man! if you have arrived at the right point in life for it, let every other consideration give way to that of getting married. Don't think of doing any thing else. Keep poking about among the rubbish of the world till you have stirred up a gem worth possessing, in the shape of a wife.

Never think of delaying the matter; for you know that delays are Jangerous. A good wife is the most constant and faithful companion you can possibly have by your side, while performing the journey of lifea dog isn't a touch to her. She is of more service, too, than you may at first imagine. She can smooth your linen and your cares for you-niend your trousers, and perchance your manners-sweeten your sour moments as well as your tea and coffee for you-ruffle, perhaps, your shirt bosom; but not your temper; and, instead of sewing the seeds of sorrow in your path, she will sew buttons on your shirts, and plant happiness instead of harrow teeth in your bosom. Yes-and if you are too confoundedly lazy or too proud to do such work yourself, she will chop wood, and dig potatoes for dinner; for her love for her husband is such that it will do any thing to please him-except receive company in her every-day clothes. When a woman loves, she loves with a double distilled devotedness; and when she hates, she hates on the high pressure principle. Her love is as deep as the ocean, as strong as a hempen halter, and as immutable as the rock of ages. She won't change it, except in a very strong fit of jealously; and even then it lingers as if loth to part, like evening twilights at place. To preside over a deliberative as all means: All the excuses you can fish up against 'doing the deed,' ain't worth a spoonful of pidgeon's milk. Mark thisif, blest with health and employment, you are not able to support a wife, depend upon it, you are not capable of supporting yourself-Therefore, so much the more need of annexation; for, in union, as well as n onion, there is strength. Get married, I repeat, young men! Concentrate your affections upon one object, and not distribute them crumb by crumb, among a host of Susans, Sarahs, Marys, Loranas, Olivias, Augustas, Betsies, Peggies and Dorothies-allowing each scarcely enough to nibble at. OIL OF POPPY SEEDS.

Dr. Smith, in his editorial correspondence to the Boston Medical Journal, in a recent letter written from Switzerland, speaking of the agricultural products of that and the adjoining country, says: "Immense crops are raised here of articles wholly unknown to American farmers. and perhaps the kinds best fitted to particular localities, where grain and potatoes vield poorly under the best efforts. One of these is poppies. Thousands of acres are at this moment ready for harvest, which the traveller takes for granted. as he hurries by, are to be manufactured into opium. They are not, however, intended for medicinal use at all, but for a widely different purpose. From the poppy seed a beautiful transparent oil is made, which is extensively employed in house painting. It is almost as colorless as water, and possesses so many advantages over flax-seed oil, that it may ultimately supersede that article.

Where flax seed cannot be grown, poppies often can be, even in poor sandy soil. Linseed is annually becoming dearer, and the demand for paint oil is increasing. THE UNION FESTIVAL IN KENTUCKY .- With white lead, poppy oil leaves a may be used for other purposes, and even
