

From the Southern Literary Gazette. NAMES.

ANTHONY, or Antony, is from the Latin. It signifies flourishing. It was rendered famous by Markus Antonius. It was the name of Vandyke, the celebrated painter.—Shakspeare has given it the impress of his pen That is enough.

AGUSTUS is also from the Latin and signifies increasing. Since it was borne by the first of the Imperial Caesars, it has been a great favorite in princely palaces. Princes, however, have no monopoly of it.

CAESAR is used as a Christian name, and thus claims a place here. It is believed to signify well hunted. The German Kaiser and the Russian Czar are traceable to the same source.

HILARY, merry, cheerful, is a fine old monish name, which deserves to be recovered from the dust and rubbish of the monastery and again be heard among men. Who would have a better name.

BONIFACE is a well-doer, but alas! he can do nothing but keep tavern since Narquar used the name in the Beau Stratagem. "Old Will Boniface" is "pretty well known upon the road, as the saying is," but nobody but a landlord would have the name.

CLEMENT signifies mild or merciful. It is from the Latin.

CONSTANTINE, another name from the Latin, signifies resolute, standing firm.

PHILIP is of Greek origin and has the meaning of a lover of horses. It was the name of that prince of politeness, Chesterfield. Sir Philip Sidney also adorned it.

MARTIN is from the Latin and signifies martial. It was, not inaptly, the name of the great Reformer, Luther, whose words were half battles.

LIONEL has the meaning of a little lion, and is also from the Latin.

THEODORE is a fine, harmonious name, from the Greek, and signifies Gift of God. A name so appropriate and so beautiful should be more common. Its feminine form is THEODORA.

"Since we know her for an angel, Bearing meek the common load, Let us call her THEODORA—Gift of God."

EMMA is of German origin and has the meaning of a good nurse. It is one of the prettiest of modern names and is too seldom used. In the form of Imma, it was borne by Charlemagne's fair daughter, about whom one of the rarest bits of historical romance is recorded:

Eginhard, the Emperor's Secretary, loved the fair princess Imma, and his affection was returned. The lovers dared not meet openly, on account of the plebian rank of Eginhardt, and they held stolen interviews in the apartments of the princess. While they were together one night, there was a light fall of snow, which covered the ground. Here was a dilemma; as Eginhard was obliged to cross a court yard in order to reach his own rooms and his footsteps in the snow would betray his visit to Imma. Behold what love will plan and execute! The princess Imma, notwithstanding the expostulations of her lover, took him on her back and carried him across the court, well knowing that her footsteps would not excite suspicion. But it happened that Charlemagne, who had risen from his couch, was standing at his open window, which overlooked the court yard, and saw, in the moon-light, the love-stratagem of his daughter. His breast was filled with mingled rage and admiration. He laid the matter before his council, where opinions were divided, and the Emperor at length decided in favor of mercy and gave the hand of his noble daughter to her lover. Such, in brief, is the story of Eginhardt and Imma.

"And rising from his throne of state, Good Charlemagne, with rapid stride, As if he felt the deed was late, Led Eginhardt to his trembling hand, And laying in his trembling hand, The long and closed-linked iron band, He called on every warrior there To join and bless the happy pair."

Mary E. Lee. ROSALIE is from the rose et lis, the rose and lily is a favorite name. The following lines so full of pathos, constitutes a beautiful tribute to it:

I love to forget ambition And hope in the mingled thought Of valley and wood and meadow— Where whilome, my spirit caught Affection's holiest breathing— Where under the skies with me, Young Rosalie roved, are drinking From joy's bright Castaly.

I think of the valley and river, Of the old wood bright with blossoms— Of the pure and sweet address Unsprung to our bosoms; I think of the lonely turtle, So tongue with melancholy, Of the hue of the drooping moonlight, And the straight pure and holy.

Of the beat of a heart most tender, The sigh of a shell-tipt lip, And soft as the land tones wandering Far leagues over ocean deep, Of a step as light, in its falling, On the breast of the beaded sea, As the fall of the fairy moonlight, On the leaf of yon tulip tree.

I think of these and the murmur Of bird and katydid, Whose home is in the grave yard express, Whose gablet, the honey reed— And then I weep, for Rosalie, Has gone to her early rest, And the green lipped reed and the daisy Suck sweets from her maiden breast.

ADELNE and Adelaide are from the German. They are only different forms of the same name, which signifies a princess. They are very pretty names and fall gracefully into the poet's verse. Witness the following from Tennyson:

Some honey converse feeds thy mind, Some spirit of a crimson rose In love with thee forgets to close Its curtain, wasting odorous sighs All night long on darkness blind. What aeth there whom waitest thou With thy soft shadow'd brow, And those dew-lit eyes of thine, Thou faint smiler, Adeline?"

ADA. Chambers, to whom, in a series of Articles in the Edinburgh Journal, we are largely indebted for etymological facts, derives this name, well known as that of Byron's daughter, from the Saxon Edith happy. The original form he says, was Edithor Eade whence Ada.

Sketches of North Carolina. BEAUFORT, FERN, LINCOLN CO., N. C. October 25, 1850.

A WORK will be published by the undersigned this Spring, entitled as above, giving an accurate account of each County in our State, its History, its Colonization and Revolutionary History, a Biography of its distinguished citizens, an accurate list of its Representatives from each County, its Towns, Rivers, Population, Resources, Products, and Topography.

The undersigned has for some time been collecting and compiling the material for this work. The archives of our own State have been carefully examined, and copies extracted from its records. He has procured from the offices of the Board of Trade and Plantations in London many valuable documents. Rare and valuable works have been purchased from abroad touching the early history of our State, and each County, which have never seen the light. He has been kindly aided by gentlemen in different sections by copies of original documents and faithful traditional statements, highly important and interesting.

He does not aspire to the position of the Historian, but hopes from records and statistical facts to afford materials to other able hands for this pleading and less laborious duty. This work, it is hoped, will be useful as a book of reference to the statesman and scholar, and man of business or leisure. Occasional extracts have been published in the Standard and other papers of this State, over the signature of Tacitus.

The History of North Carolina is yet to be written. The remarks which one of the ablest Historians of the age (Bancroft) has been compelled to make, that so carelessly has the History of North Carolina been written that the nation and the date of its Colonization is not known, is a reflection upon us. An examination of the early history of the counties of North Carolina shows a record of the most patriotic and industrious struggle. This record is now covered by the dust of age and unknown by neglect. It is a debt which the present generation owes to the past as well as to the future to preserve these materials; for it often occurs in the history of our race, that facts known to one generation are controverted by the next, and the succeeding period are considered as unauthoritative, unworthy of historical faith. Our Necklenburg Declaration of Independence, in May 1775, had almost been an illustration of this truth.

"These are deeds which should not pass away, And names that must not wither; though the earth Be trodden and the stones beneath them have decayed, The enslavers and the enslaved their death and birth."

This work will be illustrated with a Map of the State, from latest surveys, and including the most beautiful scenery. It will contain about 500 pages, and be furnished at one dollar a copy. Subscriptions will be received at one dollar a copy, in different parts of the State. J. H. WHEELER.

P. S. Editors of the different Presses in the State are requested to send the names of the Editors of their papers to this work a sketch worthy of its influence and importance. Those Editors who publish the above four successive numbers will receive a copy of the work as a return for such notice. J. H. W.

WANTED, an intelligent boy as an apprentice to the above business. July 20, 1850. y

A. A. MCKETHAN Still continues to carry on the CARRIAGE BUSINESS in all its branches, at the OLD STAND. He returns thanks for the liberal patronage he has heretofore received, and hopes, by a strict attention to business and a desire to give entire satisfaction, to merit a continuance of the same.

He has on hand a very fine assortment of Carriages, Barouches, Buggies, Rockaways, AND SULKIES, finished, and a very large assortment of work partly finished, which, for elegance of shape and finish, compare with any other work of the kind.

Persons wishing to buy, would do well to call and examine the work, as he is determined to sell low for cash, or notes on short time. All work warranted for twelve months, and repaired free of charge, should it fail by bad workmanship, or any other cause. Repairing faithfully executed at short notice, on very reasonable terms. January 19, 1850.

FOR THE REMOVAL & PERMANENT CURE OF ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM.

Among the many and important discoveries of this generation, is one whose fame will be written, as with a sunbeam, in the history of the past. SANDS' SARSAPARILLA stands forth alone, and by its own works proclaims its power—that most eloquence so irresistibly affecting in the appeals of the suffering for relief have been answered. Thousands of diseased bodies have been cured by this invaluable medicine, such as are not furnished in the records of time.—These things are not done in secret places. They are brought before the world to substantiate, beyond doubt, the healthy virtues of this preparation; and the facts unfold, although gigantic, are as plain as the light of day. The Sarsaparilla is combined with the most effectual aids, the most salutary productions, the most potent simples of the vegetable kingdom; and its unprecedented success in the restoration to health of those who had long pined under the most distressing chronic maladies, has given it an exalted character—furnishing as it does, evidence of its own intrinsic value, and recommending it to the afflicted in terms the afflicted only can know. It has long been one of the most important desiderata in the practice of medicine, to obtain a remedy similar to this—one that would act on the Liver, Stomach, and Bowels with all the precision and potency of mineral preparations, yet without any of their deleterious effects upon the vital powers of the system. Although possessed of powerful healing properties, it is entirely harmless, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—When in perfect health, no effect is produced by its use, except an increase of appetite; but when disease is seated in the frame, and carrying fast its victim along the path of life, then its mysterious influence is felt and seen; it excites new life and vigor, and brings health and strength to the suffering and diseased.

SCROFULOUS AFFECTION OF THE EYES. A. B. & D. Sands—Gentlemen: I would not presume to write to you, if it was not my duty to let the public know the almost miraculous effect your Sarsaparilla has had upon me. My limbs were covered with ulcers, sores, so that I could not walk during the whole Spring and Summer. In this situation I commenced the use of your Sarsaparilla, and after taking two bottles was entirely cured. I must also tell you of another wonderful cure. My brother was afflicted with this scrofulous disease, so bad, his physician told him the loss of his sight was inevitable, and permanent blindness seemed to be his fate. Three bottles entirely restored his sight, and we cannot but recommend all similarly afflicted to use Sands' Sarsaparilla. Yours truly, BENJ. F. HUCKNER.

For sale by J. H. Hinsdale, Fayetteville; by Dr. A. C. Evans & Bro., Wilmington; by P. F. Pescud, Raleigh; by Dr. A. Molloy, Cheraw; and by Druggists generally throughout the United States and Canada. Aug. 1, 1850.—3t

HOTCHKISS' VERTICAL WATER WHEEL.

There are several hundred of these wheels in operation in different counties in North Carolina. For proof of their great advantage over the common water wheel, or any other wheel, now in use for saw mills, we confidently refer to those who have applied them to their mills. We can recommend them particularly for their superiority in cases of a low head of water, or back water.

We still keep a supply of Wheels, suitable for different heads of water, at Wilmington, Newbern, Washington, Edenton, and Fayetteville. The wheels may also be had of E. A. Brevard, Lincolnton, and Uriah Wells, Petersburg, Va.

Persons wishing to obtain the right to use the wheels, will be served on application to D. McNeill & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.

$100 REWARD.

We will give $100 reward for a negro man named HANNIBAL, if delivered to us at Halifax Court House, Va., or $50 reward if secured in jail in Fayetteville, or any other jail, so that we get him again. The said negro man Hannibal is about five feet high, rather a brown complexion, has a scar over one of his eyes, and has one or two of his front teeth out. About 25 years of age. We will give the above reward to any person who will secure the said negro so that we get him again. POINDexter & EDMONDSON, Sept. 14, 1850. 603-4f

ENCOURAGE HOME MANUFACTURES. HOUSTON & OVBRY

Saddle, Trunk & Harness-makers, South side Person st., 5 doors east of Cape Fear Bank.

Respectfully return their thanks to their friends and the public generally, for the liberal share of patronage they have received, and hope by steady application and strict attention to business, still to merit a continuance of the same.

In addition to their former stock, they have just received from Baltimore and New York, a new supply of Saddlery, Hardware, Skirting and Harness Leather, long and sheep Skins, Saddle Bags, Carpet dog, hog-skin horse and mule Collars, Port Folios and hand-Trunks. They have now on hand, and still continue to manufacture, ladies' and gentlemen's Saddles, boys do, bridles and martingales, silver, brass, and Japan mounted carriage Harness; do, buggy and sulky do, Pope & Frazier's self-adjusting Pad-Trees; with a good assortment of Whips of every description. We invite our friends and the public to call and examine our work before purchasing elsewhere, as we will sell the above-named articles as low as they can be bought in any establishment in this place.

Having had 28 years experience in the business, we flatter ourselves with the hope that we can give satisfaction to our customers. All work done by us warranted for any reasonable length of time. Prompt attention paid to repairing saddles, bridles, harness, &c. Sept. 14, 1850. y

LANDS FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers his PLANTATION for sale, containing 500 acres; 150 of which is cleared and in a high state of cultivation. The farm is beautifully situated with a neat Dwelling House with four upright rooms with a fire place attached to each, and all necessary out-houses, with gin and cotton press. This land is of the best cotton lands in the Eastern part of North Carolina—well watered and as healthy a situation as can be found, as there has never been a case of fever on the place. The stand is one of the best in Robeson county for a store, having been one of it occasionally for the last 30 years. I will exchange the land for young Negroes; or any person wishing to buy may have the lands for less than the valued proceeds of it for two years. I have also another Plantation two miles from the above, containing 575 acres with about two hundred cleared, which is fine cotton land—very healthy, well watered, and very finely timbered. These lands will be sold at a very great bargain. Come quick or you lose it. For particulars, refer to Malcom Purcell, W. C. McNeill, near Floral College; Col. A. S. McKay and J. H. McRae of Richmond county. ZACHARIAH FULMORE, Alfordville, Robeson Co., N. C. } Sept. 12, 1850. 603-4f }

SOMETHING NEW!!

And the best article known for cleaning and polishing Brass, Britannia, Tin, Glass &c. Every family will have it when they know its value.

MOUNT EAGLE TRIPOLI. Directions for Use on Metallic Surfaces.

Rob the finished surface with a little of the Tripoli on a damp cloth. Finish with a dry fine cloth or wash leather. On Brass, use oil or alcohol; Silver and Gold may also be cleaned and polished with a soft brush, slightly dusted with the Tripoli, and used dry.

For Cleansing Glass Plates or Windows. Slightly moisten the cloth for the Tripoli, with water or alcohol; rub into the glass and follow immediately after with a fine dry cloth.

For Cleansing the inside of Glass Chimneys for Lamps and Gas Burners. Attach to a stick or wire of sufficient length, a piece of sponge or wisp of cotton, then moisten with water or alcohol, and add a little of the Tripoli; this rubbed on the glass will effectually remove smoke, or burnt stains and grease, and leave a beautiful lustre. Simply rinsing in water completes the process.
