Persons who advertise in the newspapers should always mark their advertisements with the number of insertions; otherwise they often forget and let the advertisement run longer than necessary, and when the bill comes to be settled, there is something said about the cest. And when an article is advertised for sale, when it is sold, the advertiser should attend to taking it out of the paper, because it misleads the readers of the paper, besides running him to more cost.

BROOKVILLE ACADEMY.

This long established institution being situated in a healthy and beautiful country, at Brookville, Montgomery county, Md., remote from the seductive scenes of vice, offers unusual advantages for the education of boys.

By a law of the Legislature, expressly enacted for the benefit of this institution, and in which respect it stands alone in the State, the sale of all spiritous liquors is prohibited within two miles of the village.

Extract from the report of the Committee of the Fayetteville Academy, North Carelina, over he Classical and Mathematical Department of which he presided many years, having been appointed when nineteen years of age:

"The system of education now pursued may be divided into two branches—the useful and ornamental. The useful embraces all the elements of learning, from the simplest rudiments to some of the highest branches of the Mathematics, and is designed particularly to qualify students for our University.—This, in the Male Department is under the care of Messrs Sandford and Hustead, young gentlemen of regular Collegiate education and high literary and moral attainments. From these gentlemen we cannot withhold this passing tribute of praise (alike the dictate of our gratitude to them as Teachers, as well as admiration of them as men) that their talents and usefulness in the Academy and their exemplary deportment in society, have called forth the spontancous and universal approbation of this community. And we believe we but speak their sentiments, when we hope that the bosom of our society will always afford an adequate encouragement to make our town their home and abiding place.

A HARD HIT. - The National Intelligencer, in passing a eulogy upon the manner in which Mr Fillmore has been administrating the affairs of the nation, indulged in the following remarkable allu-"His able and patriotic management of public affairs will constitute one of the brightest leaves in the administrative history of the nation. The ship of State was nearing, if she was not already among the breakers; the storm-cloud, collected by the fell spirit of fanaticism and sectional ism. hung darkly and portentously over the general metting, May 30, 1851, notice is hereby destinies of the country, when, by an extraordinary visitation of Providence, he was called to pilot her."

CURIOUS SCENE IN A CHURCH. - For ome weeks past a series of discourses has been in course of delivery at the Sunday evening services in St. John's Church, Upper Charlotte-st., Fitzroy-square, the subject being the "Message of the Church." Sunday. June 22, the special topic for the day was the "Message to the Poor," and the sermon was preached from Luke 16, by Rev. C. Kingsley, the well-known author of "Alton Locke." In his discourse the reverend gentleman eloquently enforced the peculiar views which attract so much attention to his published works. He dwelt most emphatically upon the wrongs and miseries of the poorer classes, attributing their vices to their poverty and ignorance, and those again to the injustice they suffered at the hands of the rich; while to the latter he assigned, by direct implication, the responsibility of all the social evils that prevailed to so lamentable an extent. The discourse was listened to with extreme surprise by a very crowded congregation, who, nevertheless, little expected the unprecedented event that occurred at the close of the service. After the preacher had concluded, Rev. Mr Drew, the rector of the parish, who had occupied a pew beneath the pulpit, rose in his seat and addressed the audience just as they were about to disperse. A most painful duty, he said, had devolved upon him in having to condemn the discourse just delivered, and which he had never anticipated hearing from a pulpit. Mr Drew then, with some emotion, proceeded to administer a brief but stern rebuke to Mr Kingsley, whose sermon he declared contained matter that was questionable in doctrine, perpicious in tendency, and untrue in fact. He regretted that exhortations of so dangerous a character should The Courier and Enquirer of this morning have been offered to the members of a announces that Mr Webster will resign his seat | Christian Church.
