THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION. We direct the attention of our readers to the proceedings of this body, which will be found in to-day's paper. It will be perceived that it was the Constitution? Suppose that a numerical well attended, forty-two counties being represented by a hundred delegates or more To say that the Convention was an able body, would scarcely be doing justice to the brilliant galaxy of distinguished men who participated in its the Constitution gives them to object, and to invidious discriminations, we would mention Hon. Abram Rencher of Chatham; R. P. Dick. Jas. C. Dobbin. The very fact that such men as an ample guaranty that its action would be based upon sound democratic principle. The resolutions set forth plainly the position of the Democratic Party of North Carolina. Its ancient platform is re-affirmed-Free Suffrage by legislative enactment is recommended-adherence to the Compromise is expressed-and opposition to any tion. So that after all the majority are not to change of the basis of representation in our State Legislature distinctly pronounced. The Democratic Party are unequivocally for the present basis. There is no evasion, no withholding of opinion on this vital question, in order to await the opinion of the majority. The whigs in their recent State Convention express no opinion in relation to measures of Constitutional reform, nantly driven by the popular voice nearly two passengers and about one and a half millions in effected. They are for leaving it to the people to say whether a Convention shall be called or which we would like to be enlightened by our not. Let the people note this diversity, and let | whig friends. The speeches | Party does not believe in the right of a mere delivered were characterized by great ability, as indeed would be expected from the very enunciation of the names of the speakers. The Democratic Party may well be proud of such a body.

FREE SUFFRAGE.

The ensuing Gubernatorial contest will be one eminently of principle. The people will be called on to decide whether they will continue in office David S. Reid, the projector and gallant champion of the great measure of constitutional reform, Free Suffrage, or elect the candidate of a party which dodges the Free Suffrage question, and takes refuge from it behind a proposition which places that party in a non-committal attitude, to await and take advantage of any turn which popular opinion may take. At the last session of the State Legislature, the Democratic tional majority, viz: three-fifths of each House. The Constitution requires that it shall be again passed by the two Houses, by a two-thirds vote, the Constitution. To bring this great measure to a successful consummation, it will be necessary therefore that the next Legislature shall contain a majority of two-thirds in both branches in favor of Free Suffrage. Let the people take made a part of the Constitution, that it have the requisite majority in the next Legislature. Let its friends continue its active and zealous advoeacy, and, in spite of all the efforts of our opponents to distract us with the cry of "Convention," this great measure will be triumphantly

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION. This body will meet in the city of Baltimore on the first day of June next. The delegates appointed to represent this Congressional District are as follows:

Col. Wm. McNeill, Saml. J. Person, D. K. McRae, W. C. Bettencourt, Dr. Thos. Bunting, 1. I. Faison, John A. Averitt, Sr, F. George, W. Winslow, J. T. Gilmore, D. Reid, O. R. Kenan,

T. S. D. McDowell. G. Meares. Delegates and others wishing to go to this Convention, are referred to the advertisement of Mr Peterson, the agent for the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company, which appears in this paper.

ERRATUM .- In last week's paper, in the article headed "Michigan Democratic Convention," in the 6th line from the last, instead of "so bold a thing," read "so bad a thing."

THE CONVENTION QUESTION,-THE POSITION OF PARTIES.

The seventh resolution in the series adopted " Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention whenever amendments are to be made to our State Constitution, they should be effected by a Convention of the people, elected on the basis of the House of Commons; and we are in favor of submitting it to the people to say whether such a Convention shall be called or not for the purpose of making a mendments to our Constitution? purpose of making amendments to our Constitution.

Is the principle to be established that a mere numerical majority may alter or reform the Constitution at pleasure? Our opponents answer this last query in the negative. They say they are for a Convention called on the federal basis, so that the East shall have in that body the means of self-protechave that control which the proposition of the Whig Convention would seem to imply. Let the people beware of this artful device by which it is attempted to lead their minds off from the great question of Free Suffrage, in which they are so deeply interested, and to reinstate the Whig Party in that position from which it was indig-

If, on the numerical majority to rule, then we ask why does it propose to refer the question of calling a Convention to a tribunal whose decision it does not recognize as binding?

A VISIT TO RALEIGH.

We had the pleasure of being present at the Capital of the State during the session of the late Democratic State Convention. We found the City somewhat altered in appearance, for the ravages of fire had left a large space on the east side of Fayetteville street in ruins, and we missed the elegant residence of L. O'B. Branch, Esq, which formerly adorned Hillsboro' street. But out of evil some good must come. The space lest vacant on Fayetteville street will soon be replaced by elegant and substantial buildings, and where before the buildings were of wood, Party, with the assistance of a few whigs, passed they are now to be constructed fire-proof, thus the measure of Free Suffrage by the constitu- contributing to the security of the ctty. Another benefit will also result. The facilities of getting water have heretofore been exceedingly precarious. The city authorities are having reservoirs before it shall be submitted to the popular vote constructed water tight, which are to be filled to determine whether it shall become a part of with water and reserved for emergencies. With these additional safe guards we hope our friends at the Capital will hereafter be free from the was the vote: ravages of the destroying element.

We had the pleasure of seeing in the Convention Messrs Holden of the Standard, Gulick of care, therefore, if they desire that it shall be the Goldsboro' Republican, Wilson of the Mountain Banner, and Starke of the Democratic Proneer. They are all young men of clear heads and stout hearts, and will do excellent service in the coming campaign.

Gov. Reid is in good health and spirits, and will be ready for the campaign in a few days. Of his success not a doubt seemed to be entertained by any in the Convention. The enthu-MARKETING -Everything in this line is siastic praises which fell from the lips of the speakers sufficiently evinces that he will meet with a cordial and energetic support from the Democratic Party east and west.

FOREIGN NEWS .- The steamship Atlantic arrived at New York on the 16th inst. There is no change in the Liverpool cotton market. In France it is stated that refusals to take the oath of allegiance to the Constitution and the President, are more numerous than were expected. Several members of the Council's General had refused, and some members of the Tribunal of Commerce had been suspended in consequence of their refusal to take the oath.

John S. Thrasher, who was recently pardoned by the Queen of Spain, came over in this steamer. We are requested by the Principal to state that the Examination in Robeson Institute will close on Friday the 28th inst., commencing on Wednesday the 26th. The friends of the Insti-

NEW JERSEY. This body recently assembled and passed resolutions re-affirming the ancient platform of the Democratic Party, endorsing the Compromise, complimenting Commodore Stockton and the democratic Representatives from New Jersey, and expressing a preference for Gen. Cass as the democratic candidate for the Presidency. The following are the 2d and 3d resolutions in the series adopted by the Convention :

New Jersey is a non-slaveholding State, but her democracy is untainted with free-soilism Her position on the slavery issue, sound, national and patriotic as it is, will be found to be the position of the great Democratic Party when its grand council shall meet for the purpose of ascertaining the views and wishes of the different branches of the party on national subjects.

> FROM CALIFORNIA.-The steamer Illinois arrived at New York on the 17th, bringing 320 gold dust. The shipments of gold from the 1st the 18th April amounted to three millions four hundred thousand dollars. The mining news was highly flattering. The Panama Railroad was soon to be opened to 8 miles below Gorgona. The government of New Grenada has declared war against the South Americans supposed to have assisted Flores in his expedition against Ecuador.

The steamer Sierra Nevada arrived at New York on the 18th. She brought 254 passengers, and $400,000 worth of gold dust.

HOMESTEAD LAW.

In our last paper we noticed that the homestead law had passed the House of Representatives by a very large majority. Some of the principal features of the bill are, that its benefits are restricted to the heads of families and citizens of the United States; that persons already having an estate in land, or having disposed of an estate in land in order to take advantage of this bill, are excluded from its benefits; that the land which may be entered in pursuance of this bill shall not be liable for debts contracted prior to the issuing of the patent therefor. The amount subject to entry by a single person is 160 acres. The following is the vote upon the passage of the bill by the House :

TO MISS S-. T-. Yes, there is happiness below. A vale of bliss and love, From sorrows free, from ev'ry woe, From thence we soar above; A region fair and beautiful, A land of flow'ry plains, Alittle earthly Paradise, Fann'd by celestial gales. There is a golden age in life, A time completely blest, An emblem of celestial joys, Of earthly joys the best. Then hope and bliss exquisitely, On all the present glow, And joys untold flit rapidly Before the raptured soul. Think of the golden ages, Think of the happy time, While earth was yet untainted And free from every crime; When all was love and streams o'erflowed,

And flow'ry fields bedew'd With nectar and with liquid gold. When gentle nymphs were true. Such happiness as this sweet girl, I fain would crave for you, And in this Eden of the world

I'd find a world for you. I wish you joy-all earthly joy-And joy from heaven above, May sorrow ne'er your peace destroy, May all your life be love.

The Empire State. In a national point of view, it is important as indicating the kind of legislation upon which the whig party meon to rely in their efforts to keep, if possible, during another four years, the control of the federal administration. The law itself, which is now finally pronounced unconstitutional, and doubtless no small part of the contracts made under it, must be regarded as a part, or at least a foretaste, of that legislative and executive "Galphinism," the full restoration of which that able whig journal (the New York Express) openly announces as the inevitable result of the triumph of the whg party'as now organized.

To show our readers the whole process of this matter, the efforts made by the democratic party to resist the law in all its stages, and the manner in which it has now been overruled by an independent and incorrupt supreme judiciary, we quote the following from the Albany correspondent of the New York journals:

"It is now fifteen months since that monstrous project-the canal bill of 1851-was begotter. The governor pronounced it unconstitutional in advance. The democratic party rejected it The democratic senators resigned to defeat it. The
