Mr Gorrell opposed the bill as totally unnecessary in any point of view, and supported his views of the measure under debate, in a speech of some length, and warmly urged the house to reject the bill.

Mr J. G. Bynum answered the statements made by Mr Gorrell. He defended not only rived at New York, with London and Liverthe bill under debate but the other improve- pool dates to the 27th ult. ment bills passed by the House, and entered into calculations to show, that the different demands upon the public Treasury would come at such intervals as to remove any danger portant. of the frightful consequences apprehended by some people. Mr B. concluded by expressing his confidence that the resources of the State were equal to all the demands upon it.

Mr Winston addressed the House in oppos tion to the bill and reviewed the probable effeets this improvement would have on the other public works of the State. Mr W. spoke for a considerable time on the prospects of Beaufort and the general scheme of State improvements, and concluded by an eloquent appeal in favor of sustaining the present high character of North Carolina.

Mr Outlaw wished to address the House again in reply to some observation made with reference to favors received from the State. He had no favor to ask, no scheme to forward, his course was guided only by conscience and duty, and by so doing he had perilled his popularity at home. Mr O. reviewed the measures passed at the last and present Legislature, and argued from the record that Fayetteville had received more than her share. He strongly condemned the scheme of connecting Fayetteville with Beaufort, which he described as a wild dream, and contested the conclusion drawn by Mr J. G. Bynum with regard to the financial condition of the State. .

Mr Baxter offered an amendment which he stated was acceptable to the friends of the bill. Adopted.

Mr Barringer felt great regret in having, for the first time to vote against a bill of this description. He thought the State had gone far enough, and he was now willing to stop and survey the progress made.

J. W. Neal said he would vote against this bill under directions of the people he represented. He regretted this course, but was compelled by a sense of duty to his constituents to French and English prisoners, and the Allies oppose the bill under debate.

Mr J. G. Bynum offered an amendment

Terrific Exchement in a Church.

A large congregation, says the Oswego (N. .) Palladium, assembled at St. Mary's Church Catholic) on the evening of Sunday, the 4th just., to hear a discourse from the Rev. Mr Guerdet. The edifice was densley crowded, not less than 2,500 persons being present. Just before the sermon was concluded an alarm of fire was sounded in the street, when several persons went out. This caused some confusion. and the services were suspended temporarily doorway. At this moment a terrific cry was raised at the door that the "church was on fire." A panic instantly seized the whole audience. the crowd at the door rushed with terrific fright each other in a most frantic manner. Women with irresistible power in hopes of getting egress through and getting out that way. Some went to work battering down a doorway on the south side of the west end of the church, which was not used and had been permanently closed. Some fifteen minutes elapsed before the alarm was found to be false, when most of the congregation had got out. A number of the ladies were carried home in a fainting condition, and several were more or less injured, but we have heard of none being hurt seriously.

A bill was introduced in the House on Thursday last, by Mr Whitaker from Wake, to charter a Plank-road to run from Raleigh the most eligible and direct route to some point on the Cape Fear river. Another, we learn, was introduced asking an appropriation of $100,000 to build a road to Kingsbury, in Cumberland, from Raleigh. We hope one or the other will pass .- Raleigh Metropolitan.

Interesting from Havana.

We learn from the Havana correspondence of the New Orleans Picavune, that some time in January there was a seizure of arms at a with whom he, as a merchant, was most pecu-niarily allied. The prospect of great pecuniary man who was an intimate associate of the late Mountiide Oca, who, it is said suffered by the be ransacked—the government to which he owned allegiance was to be dethroned in Loui-cumstance served to put the Captain General be sacrificed and plundered. The No fewer than eight citizens of the United speaker, then, with an air of satisfaction and speaker, then, with an air of satisfaction and States are now in prison here. The two first, pride, announced the individual to be James named Winn and Chauncey, have been imprisoned many months under a charge of having been engaged in the African slave trade? Then there are Augustine, Montuo and Colin, who that the country owes its second independence, we all know are entirely innocent of any hand in the assassination of Castenado, with which they are charged. Then there are Captain Me-Culloch and J. Campbell, the captain and mate of the schooner J. W. White, and lastly Felix and Estrampes, who as you know are confined in separate cells, in the Moro Castle.

This lengthy detention and imprisonment of citizens of the U. States, without trial, is I presume, all right, and in accordance with the treaty with the U. States and Spain; although I have recently read to the contrary. Yet it must all be correct; otherwise the acting consul of the United State in this city would not be, as he is, "hand and glove" with the Captain General, with whom, I learn that Col Roberson, accompanied by Mr Gales Seaton, of Washington, died on Thursday last.
