INSTRUCTIONS FOR USING GUANO, -In the application of this valuable manure, it is necessary to keep in view its powerful prope ties, and to exercise great care to prevent its coming into immediate contact with the newly sown seed or the foliage of plants and flowers It never should be placed in contact with s eds; for all seeds in the process of germinatio, give off a greater or less quantity of carbo ic acid and vinegar; and these acids, having strong affinities for the ammoniacal portion of the gnano, are apt to attract it so powerfully as to check and even destroy vegetation.
