Village Courtship

Tapping at the window, Peeping o'er the blind;-'Tis really most surprising, He never learns to mind; Twas only yester evening, As in the dark we sat, My mother asked me sharply— "Pray, Mary, who is that?" Who's that, indeed!—you're certain How much she made me start, Men seem to lose their wisdom Whene'er they lose their heart.

Yes; there he is-I see him! The lamp his shadow throws Across the curtained window-He's stepping on his toes! He'll never think of tapping, Or making any din; A knock though even the slightest, Is more than looking in! Tap! tap!-Would any think it! He never learns to mind, 'Tis surely most surprising-He thinks my mother blind.

"Tis plain I must go to him; Its no use now to cough;-I'll ope the door just softly, If but to send him off! 'Tis well if from the door-step He be not shortly hurl'd-Oh, man, there ne'er was trouble, Till he came in the world! Tapping at the window, And peeping o'er the blind; Oh, man! but you are a trouble And that we maidens find!
