THE FALL OF SEBASTOPOL.

In our last Saturday's issue we published a telegraphic dispatch conveying the startling intelligence of the taking of Sebastopol by the steamers Washington and America. Below ion with the know-nothing party: we give further details of the affair:

The bombardment was re-opened on the fifth and continued without interruption until the eighth when the assault commenced. The French attacked the Malakoff and the the night of the 9th: "The garrison of Sebastopol, after sustaining an infernal fire, repulsed six assaults, but could not drive the enemy from the Malakoff Tower. Our brave troops, who resisted to the last extremity, are now crossing over to the northern part of Sebastopol. The enemy found nothing in the southern part but blood-stained ruins. On the 9th of September the passage to the northern side was accomplished with the loss of 100 men We left, I regret to say, 500 men previously wounded on the southern side."

Plan of the Battle .- The plan of the battle appears to have been as follows:-

The place was attacked in four directions. The British troops attempted the storming of the Redan. The French attacked the Malakoff, the extreme right of the French made a diversion on the little Redan, and a united attack of the English, French and Sardinians were made on the Central Battery.
