BY JOHN G. SAXE. Of all the notable things on earth, The queerest one is pride of birth, Among our "fierce Democracy !" A bridge across a hundred years,

Without a prop to save from sneers-Not even a comple of rotten Peers-A thing for laughter, sneers and jeers Is American Aristocracy!

Depend upon it, my snobbish friend, Your family thread you can't ascend, Without good reason to apprehend You may find it waxed at the other end By some plebeian vocation! Or worse than all, your boasted line May end in a loop of stronger twine

That plagued some worthy relation! Because you flourish in worldly affairs, Don't be haughty and put on airs, With insolent pride of station!

Don't be proud, and turn up your nose, At poorer people in plainer clothes, But learn, for the sake of your mind's repose, SEBASTOPOL TAKEN AT LAST. That wealth's a bubble that comes and goes, And that all proud flesh, wherever it grows, Is subject to irritation.
