The stormy winds were wailing. They knew that peril hovered near; They prayed "Oh! Heaven deliver;" But a wilder blast came lrowling past, And soon with sob and shiver, They struggled in the icy grasp Of that dark, rushing river.

And fiercely round their lonely bark

"Cling fast to me, my darling child" An anguished voice was crying, While silvery clear, o'er tempest drear, Rose softer tones replying: "Oh! mind not me, my father dear-I'm not afraid of dving! Oh! mind not me, but save yourself, For MOTHER's sake dear father! Leave me and hasten to the shore, Or what will comfort mother?"

The angel forms that ever wait, Unseen on man attendant, Flew up, o'erjoyed, to Heaven's bright gate, And there, on page resplendent, High over those of heroes bold, And martyrs famed in story, They wrote the name of that brave boy, And wreathed it round with glory.

God bless the child-aye, he did bless That noble self denial; And safely bore him to the shore, Through tempest, toil and trial. Soon in their bright and tranquil home, Son, sire and that dear mother,

For whose sweet sake so much was done, In rapture met each other. CORPORATION BONDS Of the Town of Fayetteville for Sale.

We have received, through the hands of a friend, as a present, a can of tomatoes, which he tells us was prepared last summer according to the plan recommended by Dr. Arthur. The Can is one of his patent and, having opened it without difficulty by pursuing his instructions, we found this delightful vegetable possessing all the rich flavor which belongs to it when first taken from its vines. It is the first of Arthur's patent Cans for preserving fruit and vegetables that we have seen. Nothing can be more simple; and judging from the specimen of its efficiency in accomplishing all that it promises, we do not hesitate to re-
