LARGE SALE OF VALUABLE LANDS.

On the SECOND MONDAY in February 1857, at the Court House in the town of Fayetteville, the undersigned will offer for sale, on a credit of one and two years, several tracts of LAND in the counties of Cumberland and Harnett.

One tract on the Western bank of the Cape Fear River, below Smith's Ferry, containing about fifteen hundred and sixty-five acres—the Plantation of the late Henry Elliot. There is a life-estate in two hundred and fifty acres of this tract, which will not be offered for sale. The interest in reversion will be disposed of on the sale day, separate from the other portion of the Plantation.

50 acres on Lower Little River, known as the Gibson place.
85 acres on Lower Little River, former residence of Alex'r Williams, Jr.
45 acres near Elliot's Mills.
55 acres on the Juniper.
300 acres on Little Mill Creek.
600 acres on Gibson's Creek—the Sinclair place.
340 acres near McArthur's Bridge. Also the Saw Mill Timber on 300 acres adjoining.
500 acres on Black Branch, near W. J. Kelly's. And the Saw Mill Timber on 140 acres adjoining.
350 acres near Munroe's Bridge, North side of the River.
10 acres, including the Mineral Spring near the Mills formerly Col. Murchison's.
300 acres on Cross Creek, near the Fayetteville and Western Plank Road.
50 acres on the North Prong of Anderson's Creek.
Also, an undivided interest, being one-third of two Lots in the Town of Fayetteville, on Rowan Street, known as the Armstrong lots, and in 28 acres of Land on the South side of Little River, near Elliot's Mills.

—ALSO—

At the same time, on a credit of six months, will be sold—
12 shares of Stock in the Fayetteville and Western Plank Road.
40 shares of Stock in the Fayetteville and Raleigh Plank Road.
— shares in the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company.
10 shares in the Cumberland Academy. And an undivided interest in the Chemical Apparatus thereto.

These sales are made under a power in the Will of the late Henry Elliot.

THE FLOATING BALLS OR KNUCKLE WASHING MACHINE.

The subscriber having purchased the Right of the above Machine for the Counties of Cumberland and Harnett, is now ready to furnish such as may be desirous of obtaining a Right. The machine is simple, both in its structure and operations, and should any portion of it fail, can be easily and speedily repaired by any person having the use of tools. I do not claim for this machine more than what it is able to perform with that description of labor which almost every family is able to supply, without at all interfering with the ordinary duties. In the first place a child 12 or 15 years of age can perform all the labor, after having seen it operate a few times, and if the directions are adhered to, will do as much work in one day as three or four women in the ordinary way, and the work will be much better done. Below will be found a certificate from those who have purchased and now have in use one of these machines.

ISHAM BLAKE.
April 12, 1856. 93-tf

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., April 9, 1856.

We, the undersigned, having purchased of Mr Isham Blake one of the above machines, cordially recommend it to the favor of the Public. It washes very rapidly, and the work is much better done, than is usually done in the old way, and with less wear to the Clothing. It far exceeds our expectations, and has only to be seen in operation to satisfy the most skeptical of its utility and economy. We have no doubt of its being generally used wherever introduced.

W. J. Anderson, John D. Starr,
Wm. McLaurin, Joseph A. Worth,
A. P. Hurt, A. J. O'Hanlon,
Jas. G. Smith, David Wemyss.

We in company with several other gentlemen, saw a four dollar bill which was very dirty and much defaced, put in and washed out by this machine, removing all the dirty appearance of the bill, and leaving it perfectly legible, which shows there is little or no rubbing produced in washing the articles.

PROSPECTUS
SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER
For the Year 1856. July to December.
TWENTY-THIRD VOLUME.

In issuing the Prospectus of the Twenty-Third Volume of the SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER, commencing with the July No., the Proprietors rely solely on the encouraging letters and promises of the friends of the Messenger to aid them in extending its circulation, and they beg to assure the public that no exertions will be remitted on their part to maintain the high character of the work, and to challenge the patronage of all who value sterling literary merit. For Twenty-One Years, the Messenger has endeavored to reflect faithfully the Southern mind, while disclaiming all narrow and sectional views, and has been alone among the monthly periodicals of America, in defence of the PECULIAR INSTITUTIONS OF THE SOUTHERN STATES.

To this office it will be devoted, and will be prompt to repel assaults upon the South, whether they come under the specious garb of fiction, or in the direct form of anti-slavery pamphlets. At this critical juncture, while our enemies are employing literature as their most potent weapons of attack, the Southern people will surely not withhold their encouragement from a work whose aim it shall be to strike blows in their defence.

The Messenger will, as heretofore, present its readers with Reviews, Historical and Biographical Sketches, Novels, Tales, Travels, Essays, Poems, Critiques, and Papers on the Army, Navy and other National Subjects.

With a view to ensure a larger circulation of the MESSENGER, the Proprietors though they intend greatly increasing the size of the work, have reduced the price of Subscription, which is now only

Three Dollars per annum, in Advance,

OR FOUR DOLLARS IF NOT PAID BEFORE THE FIRST OF JULY IN ANY YEAR.

CLUBS—Remitting as Fifteen Dollars in one letter, will be entitled to Six Copies.

The Editorial and Critical department of the Messenger will continue under the charge of

JOHN R. THOMPSON, Esq.,

And will embrace copious notes on current literature and reviews of all new American or Foreign works of general interest and value. The Editor's opinions will be always fearlessly and honestly avowed.

The Business Department is conducted by the undersigned, to whom all communications of a business nature must be addressed.

DOBBIN HOUSE!

POWERS & TROY, Proprietors.

The Proprietors of the Establishment announce to the public that owing to the constantly increasing patronage extended to them, they have been induced to add to the accommodations by the addition of an extensive Dining Room on the lower floor, and suite of Rooms on the second floor; this enabling them to accommodate all who may favor them with a call. And they pledge themselves to an increased exertion to give satisfaction to their patrons.

Spacious Stables attached and careful Ostlers in attendance.

The eligible location of the Establishment, with the experience of the Proprietors in providing for the comfort of their patrons, they hope will secure to them a liberal share of the travel.

The Western and Southern Stages arrive at and depart from this House.

Carriages in attendance on arrival and departure of Steam Boats, for the accommodation of passengers. Horses and Carriages furnished at any notice for carrying travellers to any part of the adjacent country.

Dr. H. McLean, vs. Malcom Baxter.
Attachment Levy on Land.

Judgment nisi for Sixty dollars and interest from 22 December 1854 and costs.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit filed by the Plaintiff that the Defendant Malcom Baxter is not inhabitant of this State or so absconds or conceals himself that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him—and William J. Brown Constable returned into Court at this term an attachment against the said Malcom Baxter with the following endorsement to wit: Levied on a tract of Land, containing Ninety-seven acres more or less as the property of Malcom Baxter, lying on the waters of Richland Swamp about one mile from Philadelphus Church, and joins the lands of Daniel McMillan, Mary Graham and others on the east side of said Swamp in Robeson County October 10th day 1856. It is therefore on motion, ordered by the Court, that publication be made in the North Carolinian, a newspaper printed in the town of Fayetteville, for six weeks successively, notifying the said defendant to be and appear before the Justices of the next Court of Pleas and Quarter Court House in the town of Robeson at the February next, then and there to show cause, if any he can, why judgment final shall not be entered against him and the lands levied on condemned to be sold to satisfy the plaintiffs demand and costs.

CRAIN'S CREEK ACADEMY.

MOORE COUNTY, N. C.

The Trustees are happy to announce to the public that the 6th Session of this Institution will open on Monday the 12th January next, under the supervision of Mr Archibald McLaughlin as Principal.

Mr McLaughlin is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, and his testimonials are of the highest character, warranting the Trustees in giving assurance to all who may feel disposed to patronize the Institution, that they will have the advantages of systematic and thorough instruction.

The Academy is situated nine miles east of Carthage near the Fayetteville and Western Plank Road, in the midst of a very healthy, moral and intelligent neighborhood, and it will therefore be free from many of the disturbing influences which so much endanger the health and morals of students in Town and Villages.

In order that the benefits of the Institution may be within the reach of all, the following low rates of tuition per session, payable in advance, have been adopted:

English, according to advancement, $10 to $15.
Lat. Greek, French, and higher branches of Mathematics, $15.

Excellent Board can be obtained at Mr Arnold's at $7, and other houses in the neighborhood.

Political Aspect of the World.

Fifteen years ago, and Miller, the Prophet, or the interpreter of prophecy, was dreaming that the Millennium was about to dawn. Now it seems, instead, as if Satan were about to be loosed again for a season. A little while ago, and war was thought a horrible thing, and men seemed universally about to beat their swords into plough shares. But now the pruning hooks are fast learning the utilities of the bowie knife: China is desolated by civil war, and the Cape of Good Hope by the Hottentots. Burmah has just been rent in twain, and Persia, is at this moment the seat of active war. Russia and England seem as if about to fight a pitched battle in the heart of India, decisive of the fate of a larger portion of the world than that which followed the fate of all Alexander's battles; and hundreds of millions of dollars in one war, seems greater in unrest than ever. Turkey, where the war begun, is worse off as to debt; as to independence, and as to territory, than before the war begun. While the other great powers have been figuring in the Principalities Austria holds the stakes, and like the monkey with the cheese, chews it up, while the others quarrel. It used to be thought that the five great powers had the control, at least of Europe, and yet little king Bomba laughs at them all, England and France included. The fact is, there is not one of the great powers that has the control of anything just now, or that know, on what side they will be a month hence on any great question that may present itself. Take England: Does she know whether or not she is drifting again into a war with Russia? She has no idea. Not at all. Nor is there a Frenchman who knows where France will be a month hence—whether in the arms of Russia against England, or with England against Russia. If we come over to this continent, look at Mexico, with civil war raging internally. Like a regular volcano, it is deep down in her heaving breast, and sending for three thousand Americans, to come to her succor. Central America is as badly off as any country can conceive, and none can tell if Walker will be in power one week hence, or what will be the result of his government, ultimately on the destiny, not of Central America alone but of this whole continent. There is no doubt Mr Soule has concocted with him the scheme of some Southern confederacy to seize Cuba and re-establish the slave trade and slavery. They reckon on the support of the South, but with what reason is not so plain. Such is the situation of things on this little globe at the present time.

PLATE GLASS POLISHING.—We had the pleasure, yesterday, of witnessing the operation of newly invented machinery for grinding and polishing plate and glass for mirrors and windows. It is at once a model of simplicity and effectiveness. The grinding apparatus consists of a circular disk of cast iron, ten feet in dimater, revolving in a horizontal plane, by the usual mechanical arrangements of pulleys and gearing. On this disk the frames containing the articles to be polished are placed, and each of them is held by two arms, to which an ax is secured, leaving the frame free to revolve under the action of the disk. Sand and water are then supplied, and the plates are worn to a level, the uniformity of the motion securing a perfectly even reduction of the surface. We witnessed the grinding of one of the thick slabs of glass furnished by the Williamsburgh Manufactory, a specimen resembling which was exhibited for some time in the vestibule of the City Hall.

In about two hours all the inequalities were reduced to a plane. The polishing apparatus involves the same general mechanical features, with certain modifications, which have been found necessary. It is impossible to explain the various advantages of the machinery. It can be seen at No. 100 Walker street, during the present week, and those who are interested in new mechanical improvements will enjoy a rich treat from witnessing its operations.

In order to show the extent of the demand for plate glass, we were informed that the value of the polished plate glass, imported at this port alone, in ten months, was four millions of dollars. The total importations per annum into the United States cannot be less than eight millions square feet of polished glass. Without doubt the new machinery will effect an entire revolution in the manufacture.

It is purely one of those great American inventions to whose supremacy the world yields tribute and that works a revolution in the branch of industry it is applied to.

It ranks in importance with Woodworth's Planing Machine and McCormick's Reaper.

In perfect simplicity, the ease and certainty with which it does its work, are the first impressions realized on viewing its operation. There is no intricate gearing and cogging; nothing to demand any other attention than a common laborer can give, nothing to produce wear and tear or derangement of the action.

The natural, mechanical and mathematical laws are allowed to do the work, and as in all cases when nature works, the labor is performed without the cost entailed where artificial means are resorted to for attaining the result. Its action illustrates the simplicity and harmony with which Nature works out great results.
