The Mother's First Gift,

And her tears are streaming fast, For she sees the present only. While she thinks of all the past;

When her first borns answering kiss

Filled her soul with such a rapture

That it knows no other bliss.

Oh, those happy, happy moments!

They but deepen her despair,

For she bends upon the cradle,

And her baby is not there.

There are words of comfort spoken,

And the leaden clouds of grief

But her wavering thoughts will wander,

And of all that might have been;

Tells her heart in tones of anguish,

Wear the smiling bow of promise,

Till they settle on the scene

Of the dark and silent chamber

For a little vacant garment,

Or a shining tress of hair,

That her baby is not there!

But her tears no longer flow;

And forgets all earthly woe;

Saintly eyes look down upon her,

Stills her spirit with a whisper,

And while her soul is lifted

"It cannot be—it cannot be;

But, dearest, you must surely see

It never can be done in this,"

She pointed to her bristling dress,

Proof against every fond cares-

A silk and velvet Malakoff!

Ah me, she looked so very stout,

I paced my lady round and round

In vain, in vain,-'twas perfect all;

The slender one that once I knew!

In hope some loop-hole might be found,

She stood "the fashion of the day,"

Whose rampart, bastion, tower and wall,

Might hold beleaguring hosts at bay.

Curtained, and fringed, and fortified, A whalebone "harness on her back," And the' hemmed in on every side,

Intrenched securely from attack.

Resolved to prove a firm adorer;

Found force and strategy in vain,-

Laid seige to and sat down before her.

"Starving," I said, "wont make her thinner,

Sapping and mining must not be,-

I, Greece will ne'er retire without her,

Will lie encamped ten years about her.

The changing modes my wooden horse!

Dr. Seth S. Hance, Baltimore Md.—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in relating a case of spasms or fits, cured by your inualvable Pills. My brother J. J. Ligon, has long been afflicted with this awful disease. He was first attacked while quite young. He would have one or two spasms at one attack at first; but as he grew older, they seemed to increase likewise. Up to the time he commenced taking your Pills, he had them very often and quite severe, prostrating him body and mind. His mind had suffered seriously: but now; I am happy to say he is cured of those fitd. He has enjoyed fine health for the last five months past. His mind has also returned to its original sprightliness. All this I take great pleasure in communicating, as it may be the means of directing others to the femedy that will cure them. Yours respectfully, &c.

No person who is saffering from Fits, or Spasms, should neglect sending to Dr Hance, after this for a supply of his inestimable medicine.
