PROSPECTUS OF THE

SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER For the Year 1856. July to December. TWENTY-THIRD VOLUME.

In issuing the Prospectus of the Twenty-Third Vol-ume of the SOUTHERN EITERARY MESSENGER, commencing with the July No., the Proprietors rely solely on the encouraging letters and promises of the friends of the Messenger to aid them in extending its circulation, and they beg to assure the public that no exertions will be remitted on their part to maintain the high character of the work, and to challenge the putro tage of all who value sterling literary merit For Twenty-One Years, the Messenger has endeavored to reflect faithfully the Southern mind, while disdaining all narrow and sectional views, and has been alone among the monthly periodicals of America, in defence of the PECULIAR INSTITUTIONS OF THE SOUTHERN STATES.

To this office it will be devoted, and will be prompt To this office it will be devoted, and will be prompt to repel assaults upon the South, whether they come under the specious garb of fiction, or in the direct form of anti-slavery pamphlets. At this critical juncture, while our enemics are employing literature as their most potent weapons of attack, the Southern people will surely not withhold their encouragement from a work whose aim it shall be to strike blows in their de-

For a single copy, if paid in advance, per annum, $2 00 HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHE.

It cures Nervous and Debilitated Sufferers, and removes all the Symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Gen-eral Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet. Wakefulness, Dim ness of Vision. Languor, Universal Las-situde of the Muscular System, and often Enormous Appetite, with Dyspeptic Symptoms Hot Hands, Flushing of the body, Dryuess of the Skin, Palled Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, frequedtly Black Spots Flying before the Eyes. With Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Atten-tion, Gleat Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society.

Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more Dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a Hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follows Lo-s of Power, Fatuity and Epileptic Fits—in one of which the patient may expire. Whe can say that these exercises are not frequently followed by these direful diseases—Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Sonsumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should o sound of the voice occur, it is rarely

Who is Confeuted?

One day, as the Dervish Almoran, the wisest of all the followers of the Prophet, and the oracle of the Chief Mufti of Stamboul, was sitting in a shady grove by the side of a bubbling 4 81 fountain, on the shores of the Bosphorus, trying to find out the true road to happiness, in order that he might benefit his fellow creatures by communicating the discovery, his speculations were interrupted by a man richly clothed, who, approaching, sat down and sighed heavily, crying out at the same time:

"Oh! Allah, I beseech thee to relieve me of 29 55 life or the burdens with which it is laden." 47 Almoran, who was a sort of amateur of misery, bocause it afforded him the pleasure of administering consolation, approached the man of 15 c5 sorrow, and kindly inquired the cause of his

"Art thon in want of food, of friends, of health, or any of those comforts of life that are 90 82 necessary to human happiness? or dost thou lack the advice of experience, or the consolation of sympathy? Speak, for it is the business of my life to bestow them on my fellow creatures." "Alas!" said the stranger, "I require none of these. I have all and more than I want of everything. I have all the means of happiness but one, and the want of that renders every I 82 other blessing of no value." "And what is that?" asked the Dervish. "I adore the beautiful Zoleman; but she loves another, and all my riches and honors are as nothing. I am the most miserable of men; my life is a burden, and my death would be the greatest of blessings." Before Almoran could reply, there approached a poor eleature, clothed in rags, and leaning on his staff, bowed down to the earth with a load of misery He sat down moaning, as if in great pain, and casting his eyes upwards, exclaimed: "Allah! be my star, for I have none other." The Dervish went to him, and kindly said: "What aileth thee poor man? Perhaps it nav be in my power to relieve thy distress.

What wantest thou?" "Everything," replied the beggar, "health, ood, kindred, friends, a home-everything. I m an onteast and a wanderer, destitute of every comfort of life. I am the most miserable of mankind; for in addition to my own sufferings I see others around me revelling in these luxuries for lack of a small portion of which I am perishing."

At this moment a third man approached, with weary steps and a languid look, and cast ing himself down by the side of the fountain. stretched out his limbs at free length, and yaw ning desperately cried out: "Allah! what shall I do? What will become
