THE COMPOSITION OF MILK AT VARIOUS TIMES OF THE DAY .- Professor Boedeker has analyzed the milk of a healthy cow at various times of the day, with thew vie of determining the changes in the relative amount of its constituents. He found the solids of the evening's milk (13 per cent.) exceeding those of the morning's milk (10 per cent.), while the water contained in the fluid was diminished from 89 per cent. to 86 per cent. The fatty matters gradually increase as the day progresses. In the morning they amount to 2.17 per cent., at noon 2.63 per cent., and in the evening 5.42 per cent. This fact is important in a practical point of view; for while 16 ounces of morning's milk will yield nearly half ounce of butter, about double this quantity can be obtained from the evening's milk. The casein is also increased in the evening's milk, from 2.24 to deserted. The pillar in the centre, the cross of 2.70 per cent.; but the albumen is diminish-atree.
