There's Rest for all in Heaven.
BY FINLEY JOHNSON,
Should sombre clouds of sorrow rise,
And shadows o'ers us fling,
And hopes that once have taken root
Die in their early spring;
Should every joy and bliss of life
Fade like the hues of even,
We still have this sweet solace left—
There's rest for all in heaven.

Life's pathway should seem to us
A dull and beaten track,
And all our deep and holy love,
By grief be driven back;
If we're like the weaned dove,
O'er shoreless ocean driven,
O let us raise our eyes above—
There's rest for all in heaven.

The Indian's Reply to a Challenge.
The Indian has more sober sense than the white man. When the white man is challenged by a reckless and desperate enemy, he thinks it is more honorable to shoot his enemy through the heart than to decline the combat; and so fearful is he of the charge of cowardice, that he will take the field, risk his own life, stain his honor with the blood of a once loved friend, when a candid expression of his feelings would have healed the breach, and restored him in the confidence of his friend. The duelist may possess some physical bravery, but he lacks the moral courage of the Indian, who, when he was challenged, replied:
"I have two objections to this duel affair; the one is lest I should hurt you, and the other is lest you should hurt me. I do not see any good that it would do me to put a bullet through your body; I could not make any use of you when dead; but I could of a rabbit or turkey. As to myself, I think it more sensible to avoid than to put myself in the way of harm; I am under great apprehension that you might hit me. That being the case, I think it more advisable to stay at a distance. If you want to try your pistol take some object, a tree, or anything about my size, and if you hit that, send me word and I shall acknowledge that if I had been there you might hit me."

Not so Bad.
A young man, clad in homespun, was standing in Court street day before yesterday, devouring a doughnut, when he was accosted by one of a half dozen genteelly dressed city idlers, with "Jest come down a?"
"Yes; gess I have a great place this, ain't it, yeen?" said the courtly man.
"This so, bab; how's your marm?" asked the city slick, bent on sport with greeny.
"Wall, she's pretty well; she sent me down here on business."
"She did? What kind of business are you on?"
"Why, she wanted me to come down to Boston, and look all round, and find half a dozen of the biggest fies in Boston, and bring 'em up to educate 'em; and I rather guss I've got 'em on my new?" said the stranger, taking in the whole crowd at a glance. The next moment he had the edgestone to himself, where he quietly finished his doughnut.

Experiments with Paper Blankets.
Much has been said lately of the utility and economy of paper blankets. It is said that a newspaper placed between a pair of sheets will afford as much warmth as an ordinary comfortable. A correspondent of the Centreville (Ind.) Chronicle has been making some experiments with newspapers, which were attended with extraordinary results. These show that it is essential to comfort a quiet slumber that the newspapers used should be of the right sort. In other words, their contents are supposed to exercise a mesmeric influence upon the sleeper, for good or for evil. Experimenters will please take note.
Using the Chronicle as a blanket, the writer slept well; but was a little too hot. Substituting the N. Y. Tribune, he "thought the world was turning black; saw a host of women, dressed in breeches and eating bran bread, together with black spirits and monkeys. I thought I should suffocate."—Arising himself from the nightmare, he resumed the Chronicle and slept well. The Cincinnati Enquirer and Commercial, sewed together, produced ideas quite chequered, a mingling of light and dark shadows. The Scientific American produced visions of inventions and improvements. On resuming the Tribune, the blackspirits, &c., made their appearance again. The writer concludes with the opinion that a blanket made out of the Indiana papers would produce the same veritable results, much care will have to be taken by those who propose to use newspaper blankets.

"Pompey, de corn's up."—De corn up? Why? you planted it yesterday. I know that, but the bog got in last night, and guv it a lift you hadn't counted on.
Why are the ladies of Missouri so sweet? Because they are Mo lasses.
Why did Job always sleep cold? Because he had miserable comforters.
"I got some loot in that bargain," as the loafer said when he was kicked out of doors.
It is very singular how very slippery whiskey punch makes the sidewalk.
"While you are losing time I'm gaining it," as the thief said when he stole the watch.

Robbed.—A company of emigrants, numbering about 30, en-route from North Carolina to Arkansas, says the Nashville Banner of the 7th inst., were relieved of that indispensable necessity to comfortable traveling—their money—yesterday. It appears their funds consisted mostly in North Carolina bank notes, and the cashier of the crowd accepted the kind offices of a volunteer to have it changed without loss. The accommodating agent was sent to perform his office, and has not returned yet, and will not very likely. People who read the papers and keep their eyes skinned—as everybody should now-a-days, especially if they have to travel—are not likely to be swindled in such a besotted manner as this.—Petersburg

SCIRRHUS BREAST CAN BE CURED!
LET THE PUBLIC READ.
In mercy to the afflicted, and the gratitude and high opinion I entertain of Dr. Moseley, as a Surgeon and Physician, I deem it my duty to mention the case of my wife, hoping that all persons similarly afflicted may be benefited by it. In the latter part of this year, my wife had several small lumps to make their appearance in her breast; they continued to increase in size, and she became very much diseased, and very painful. I procured the best medical aid in the city of Rome, and notwithstanding the earnest and faithful attention of the most skillful physicians, she continued to grow worse and worse until they gave the case up as incurable, and advised amputation. I was advised by many of my friends, to visit Dr. W. R. Moseley, of Griffin, Ga., which I did, and, according to his directions, she was cured in a few weeks. I would advise all who are afflicted with Scirrhus and Cancerous affections, to call on Dr. Moseley, as I am satisfied by experience and observation, that he is the most skillful physician in the Southern States, in the treatment of that horrible disease—Cancer.

JOY TO THE AFFLICTED!!!
It cures Nervous and Debilitated Sufferers, and removes all the Symptoms, among which will be found
Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Debility of Brains, General Weakness, Horrors of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horrors of Death, Night Sweats, Headaches, Vertigo, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, and often Enormous Pain, with Dyspeptic Symptoms, such as flatulency, belching, and eructations of the Skin, Pitted Contenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, frequently Black Spots, Itching of the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, and all the other Symptoms of a disordered Nervous System.
Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread than the presence of any one. Respect of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one subject to another.
These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follows Loss of Power, Fatigue and Epilepsy, and the patient is not infrequently followed by these direful diseases—Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Suicide, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sallow and quietude, neither Mirth or Joy, and the patient would sound of the voice, or it is rarely articulate.
"With woeful measures was despair
Low sullen sounds his grief expressed."
Debility is most terrible, and has brought thousands upon thousands of our noble youths. It can be cured by the use of this INVALUABLE REMEDY. See the testimonials of the above distressing agents, the Fluid Extract Bichi will cure you. Try it and be convinced of its efficiency. PROSPICETUS OF THE SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER.

For the Year 1856. July to December. TWENTY-THIRD VOLUME.
In issuing the Prospectus of the Twenty-Third Volume of the SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER, for Twenty-One Years, the Messenger has endeavored to reflect faithfully the Southern mind, while disdaining all narrow and sectional views, and has been among the monthly periodicals of America, in defence of the PECULIAR INSTITUTIONS OF THE SOUTHERN STATES.
To this office it will be devoted, and will be prompt to repel assaults upon the South, whether they come under the specious garb of fiction, or in the direct form of anti-slavery pamphlets. At this critical juncture, while our enemies are employing literature as their most potent weapons of attack, the Southern people will surely not withhold their encouragement from a work whose aim it shall be to strike blows in their defence.
The Messenger will, as heretofore, present its readers with Reviews, Historical and Biographical Sketches, Novels, Tales, Travels, Essays, Poems, Critiques, and Papers on the Army, Navy and other National Subjects.

Three Dollars per annum, in Advance, OR FOUR DOLLARS IF NOT PAID BEFORE THE FIRST OF JULY IN ANY YEAR.
CLUBS—Remitting us Fifteen Dollars in one letter, will entitle to Six Copies. Postage for the Editorial and Critical Department of the Messenger will continue under the charge of
