

Silence-

From a volume just published in London, of very pleasing poetry, entitled "The Rivulet: a Contribution to Sacred Song," by Thomas T.

In silence mighty things are wrought—Silently builded thought on thought, Truth's temple greets the sky; And, like a citadel with towers, The soul, with her subservient powers, Is strengthen'd silently.

Soundless as chariots on the snow, The saplings of the forest grow To trees of mighty girth; Each nightly star in silence burns, And every day in silence turns The exle of the earth.

The silent frost, with mighty hand, Petters the rivers and the land With universal chain; And smitten, by the silent sun, The chain is loosed, the rivers run, The lands are free again.

In mercy to the afflicted, and the gratitude and high opinion I entertain of Dr Moseley, as a Surgeon and Physician, I deem it my duty to mention the case of my wife, hoping at the same time that all persons similarly afflicted may be benefitted by it. In the fore part of this year, my wife had several small lumps to make their appearance in her breast; they continued to increase in size, until the whole breast became a diseased mass, and very painful. I procured the best medical aid in the city of Rome, and notwithstanding the carnest and faithful attention of the most skilful physicians, she continued to grow worse and worse until they gave the case up as incurable, and advised amputation. I was advised by many of my friends, to visit Dr. W. R. Moseley, of Griffin, Ga., which I did. of CHOICE GROCERIES and other Goods suited to and, astonishing as it may seem, he had her entirely the Spring and Summer trade—selected with care, as cured within one month! and she is now in good out delay, as I am satisfied by experience and observation, that he is the most skilful physician in the Southern States, in the treatment of that horrible dis-WM. York City. The unprecedented success which has attended this method of treating diseases of the Lungs and Throat has induced us to depart from our usual course, and ourselves of the columns of the press, in order to bring it to the knowledge of such as may be laboring under or predisposed to such affections. The dawn of a brighter day has at length arrived for the Consumptive; the doctrine of the incurability of consumption having at length passed away. We have indubi table proofs in our possession that Consumption in all its stages can be cured! in the first, by tubercular absorption; in the second, by the treusformations of the tubercule into chalky and calcareous concretions, in the third by cicatrices, or sears. Those wedded to of the PECULIAR INSTITUTIONS OF THE the opinions of the past may assert, that even now, To all, this great truth must be apparent, viz: that the lifegiving food .- There is no case so hopeless that in-The Messenger will, as heretofe, present its readers haration will not reach!
