

THE GLOBE: THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS.

I SHALL publish the DAILY GLOBE and the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX during the next session of Congress. The DAILY GLOBE will contain a report of the Debates in both branches of Congress as taken down by reporters equal, at least, to any corps of shorthand writers in this, or in any other country.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX will contain a report of all the Debates in Congress, revised by the speakers, the Messages of the President of the United States, the Annual Reports of the Heads of the Executive Departments, the Reports of Committees of Congress on important subjects of general interest, the Laws passed during the session, and copious indexes to all.

It is resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX, which contain the laws and debates thereon shall pass free through the mail so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress.

TERMS. For a copy of the Daily Globe four months $3 00 For a copy for a less time, (per month) 1 00 For a copy of the Congressional Globe and Appendix during the session of Congress 3 00

MISCELLANEOUS.

A REMINANT PEOPLE.—The Louisville, Ky., Democrat says that the amount of tobacco chewed in the Circuit Court room in a day, during the criminal term, is estimated at 25 pounds! The reader may believe this if he chooses.

A New Hampshire man, who is at the gold-diggings in Iowa, says that three days exploration with a spade had enabled him to find "several very small grains of gold, and several tons of exaggeration."

A noted physician says that one of the best things to appease hunger is an opium pill. We wonder if the doctor ever tried a beef-steak flanked with several dishes of smashed "caters." We doubt it.

A connoisseur happening to be in a celebrated artist's studio, an animated discussion arose as to the color of immaterial objects.

"Thus," said one, "how would you color a temple, supposing there were no clouds?" "Why," replied the artist, promptly and pleasantly, "I should say—the storm rose and the wind blew."

AN APOLOGY FOR A LEADER.—We select this paragraph from a Trinidad paper, in which the editor favors his readers with a singular apology for a leader. Laboring under a fit of lassitude, for which, perhaps, the climate considered, some allowance ought to be made, he writes: "Our disposition for composition is restrained by indisposition. This disposition is no imposition; but we expect in the next number to be in a position to resume our exposition."

Cool.—A man noted for imperturbability and a scolding wife, was stopped in the woods one night by a pretended ghost. He only said "I can't stop, friend; if you are a man I must request you to get out of the way and let me pass; if you are the devil, come along and take supper with me—I married your sister."

POLITICAL GRAMMAR.—It is a curious fact, in the grammar of politics, that when statesmen get into place they often become oblivious of their antecedents, but are seldom forgetful of their relatives.

Marriage resembles a pair of shears, says Sydney Smith, so joined that they cannot be separated, often moving in opposite directions, yet always punishing any one who comes between them.

"Grandpa, have you been twice a child?" "No, boy; I have reached second childhood yet, by a long way!" "Well then, I wish you'd hurry up your cakes, for I want some one to play hop-scotch and leap frog with me!"

Why are fowls the most economical things farmers keep? Because for every grain they give a peck.

Logic.—A dog coming open-mouthed at a sergeant on the march, he ran the spear of his halbert into his throat and killed him. The owner coming out, raved extremely that his dog was killed, and asked the sergeant why he could not as well have struck at him with the blunt end of his halbert.

"So I would," said he, "if he had run at me with his tail."

A youth who desired to wear the matrimonial yoke had not sufficient courage to "pop the question." On informing his father of the difficulty he labored under, the old man replied, quite facetiously, "Why, you looby, how do you suppose I managed when I got married?" "Oh, yes!" said the promising lover, "you married mother, but I've got to marry a strange girl!"

"The party has thrown me overboard," said a disappointed politician, but I've strength to swim to the other side!"

Out-Door Sports.—Being chased by a mad ox, or collecting bills for printers.

COMMON SCHOOLS.

The President and Directors of the Literary Fund, having made distribution of said fund, for the year 1858, among the several Counties of the State, have directed the following tabular statement to be published, showing Fall Distribution to each County, and the sum total distributed during the year.

The amount of the Fall Distribution will be paid to the persons entitled to application to the Treasury Department.

The Counties of Jackson, Madison and Polk, will receive their portion distributed from the Counties out of which they were respectively formed; there report from said Counties, under the law of the last General Assembly.

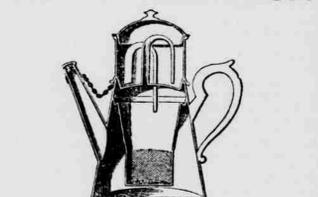

THOS. BRAGG, President ex officio of the Literary Board.

PULASKI COWPER, Secretary to the Board.

Table with columns: COUNTIES, Fed. Pop., Spring Dis., Fall Dist., Total Dis., Deduct for, and a column for names and amounts. THE OLD DOMINION

COFFEE POT.

D. R. HALL, of New York, in his Journal of Health for July, 1858, says: "We commend the Old Dominion Coffee Pot, to all lovers of good coffee, as it is generally known that it is one of the 'new things' offered to the public in which no imposition is practiced, and which has the double vouchers of science and common sense."

JOY TO THE AFFLICTED!!!

It cures Nervous and Debilitated Sufferers, and removes all the Symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Discharge, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Headache, Burning of the Body, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dizziness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, and often Enormous Appetite, with Dyspeptic Symptoms.

Hot Hands, Itching of the Nose, Dryness of the Skin, Palled Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, frequently Blurred Vision, and a general feeling of debility.

With Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Morbidity, Restlessness, with Horror of Society.

Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more Dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Mind, or any other kind of Speculation, but a Hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follows Loss of Power, Fatuity and Epileptic Fits—in one of which the patient may expire. We can say that those exercises are not frequently followed by these dire diseases—Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums, the most melancholy exhibited appears. The countenance is actually sad and quite desolate—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With weak measures man despair Low when sounds his grief beguiled." Debility is most terrible and has brought thousands upon thousands to untimely graves, thus blasting the ambition of many noble youths. It can be cured by the use of this INFALLIBLE REMEDY.

Inhalation in Consumption. BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS, and other Diseases of the Throat, are successfully treated by the Inhalation of Medicated Vapors, and Powders, by absorption and constitutional treatment, as practiced at the Stuyvesant Medical Institute, New York City.

The unprecedented success which has attended this method of treating diseases of the Lungs and Throat has induced us to depart from our usual course, and endeavor of the columns of the press, in order to bring it to the knowledge of such as may be laboring under or predisposed to such affections. The dawn of a brighter day has at length arrived for the consumptive; the doctrine of the incurability of consumption having at length passed away. We have introduced into the practice of medicine a new and powerful means of curing the disease, and we have introduced into the practice of medicine a new and powerful means of curing the disease, and we have introduced into the practice of medicine a new and powerful means of curing the disease.

The Inhalation method is soothing, safe and ready and consists in the administration of medicine in such a manner that they are conveyed into the Lungs in the form of vapor and produce their action in the seat of the disease. Its practical success is destined to revolutionize the opinions of the medical world and establish the Inhalation as the common sense of all afflicted with Lung diseases, to embrace at once the advantage of Inhalation, and no longer apply medicine to the unoffending stomach. I claim for Inhalation a place among the most efficacious and safe methods of curing the disease, and I claim for Inhalation a place among the most efficacious and safe methods of curing the disease.

I earnestly appeal to the common sense of all afflicted with Lung diseases, to embrace at once the advantage of Inhalation, and no longer apply medicine to the unoffending stomach.
