Unholy Union.

What a pity it is that the Harper's Ferry riot oc curred at this propicious moment. Just at the time when Old Greely and John Minor Botts were preparing a "gran I raily" of all the opposing forces of dis appointed office seelers to marshal them and the sable crowd of northern free negroes, against the National Democratic party. We must acknowledge that we feel a sympathy for our Opposition friends, for the occurrence has evidently caused their hallowed dreams of warious and sundry official appointments-and extensive "virgin dips" into the U. S-Treasury, to vanish as the morning dew.

This affair has put a wonderful veto upon the mouthings of the advocates of the "united Opposition" and it is not likely they will again propose : Union until the excitement has blown over.

"Their hopes have departed for ever; Then vis ions of union are o'er," consequently the Raleigh Register can not now think that the prospects of the Opposition party, in the next Presidential campaign, are brighter then they have been for twenty years past. The Richmond Whig has also kind of finzzled upon the Organization of the next house, of course the reason is, that the Black Republicans have shown their true colors, and all the inginuity of their Southern breathern can not lead the pubtic mind astray. Of this holy republican party, so fit to unite with the South, rn Opposition, Horace Greely speaks in the following terms;

"The Republican party has one distinct, unmis-

We took a stroll around the village in company with that sterling democrat, Col. John Morrison. We visited the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches. The first of these is a very first wooden building -and an honor to the place. The other two are neat, comfortable edifices, but some older than the former. They have also a fine flourishing male Academy in fown.

We were much pleased with our visit amongst the Cartingenians—they are an intelligent hospitable and obliging people, who we trust, may have abun-

There is later news from Europe. It savors of discombe, which was performed on the farm of Henry Come of it; we may be in a humor, by and by, to bid them God speed. Italy is still throbling with her recent woes and olden inheries. The Central Italians have suffered from fresh conspirations. The Pope, who will not yield a particle of his temporal power, has sent Sardinia's ambassador home without an Aposto-land Jeans. Having business in Salem last week, sent Sardinia's ambassador home without an Apostoof India is still momentous; but, as, thanks to the presence of Black Republicanism, we have a share of mony to the beauty and durability of the cloth manof that fact. For the rest, Europe is in no better condition, rather worse than when we last enumerated her afflictions.—New York Daily News.
