BY MRS. M. W. STRATTON, "Love me little, love me long," That may do for book and song, But for woman's fond heart-never; She loves deeply, and for ever. Love me much, and love me long. Is the burden of her song.

Trusting all her souls devotion On Love's wild uncertain ocean-: Hoarding dream, nor hope, nor prayer, But your image mingles there. Thinkest thou she e'er can be Content with any less from thee?

Little knows the woman's heart, Who deems her half content with part-Content with a divided treasure-Wooed by rule and loved by measure. Love me much and love me long, Is the burdens of her song.

Love her wholy-love her ever-Love her thus, or from her sever, Ere her heart has twined around thee, Ere she curse the hour she found thee, Ere to breathe the word firewell, Be to her like funeral knell

The sudden love may burn to waste, And sudden vows repeut their haste; to let it be, ere then dost bring A cool and cautions offering, Love me much, and love me stron Is the burden of her song.

And in your poverty or wealth-Or in your sickness, or in health-High on the pinn one of fame, Or in the lowest de, this of shame, Where then art, there will she be, Chigging fondly still to thee.

Let no key caution, stealing O'er your heart, congent its feeling; Fear you not to tract too much,-Woman shrinks fr in jealous touch, Love me trustingly and long, Is the burden of her song.

Such the love that she would gain; And cooler feeling comes in vain, Or coming breaks a bl sful spell, And true love weeps her last farewell,
Love me deeply, love me long,
Is the burden of her song.

When hope is young, and life is new And pleasures many, sorrows few, We lightly meet, and lightly part, With many a fond and faithful heart: But memory brings, in after years; Regret, remorse, and bitter tears.

A DIRGE Weep not for her! Oh she was far too fair, Too pure to dwell on this guilt tainted earth! The sinless glory, and the golden air, Of Zion, seem'd to claim her from her birth: A Spirit wander'd from its native zone, Which soon discovering, took her for its own: Weep not for her!

Weep not for her!—her span was like the sky, Whose thousand stars shine beautiful and

Like flowers, that know not what it is to die; Like long link'd shadeless months of Polar light: Like music floating o'er a waveless lake, While Echo answers from the flowery brake:

Weep not for her!-She died in early youth; Ere hope had lost its rich romantic hues: When human bosons seem'd the home of truth, And earth still gleam,d with beauty's radient

Weep not for her!

Her summer prime waned not to days that freeze! Her wane of life was run not to the lees : Ween not for her? ---- pray dan I granted - Vacion D da P ogress The Warrenton News spe ks in the following terms of Hon. J. G. Shepherd: "On Monday the Superior Court for Warren county was opened by Judge Shepherd. His charge to the Grand Jury was a lucid exposition of the duties which the law imposes upon that body. No point was left untouched, or probable difficulty left inexplained; everything was made clear and satisfactory. We heard an experienced juryman declare that it was the best practical charge he had ever heard from a Supe ior Court Jude,' in which sentiment we cordially join, and record as the highest compliment that could be paid to Judge Shepherd, on his first Circut in Warrin County. His dignified bearing and courteaus manners have made a most favorable impression on ait in attendance at Court. Stranger as he is, personally, to the majority of our citizens, his rumored intention to resign has created a profound sentiment of regret in our community; every one feels that a public officer, of his hig a public character and personal merits, cannot be easily replaced."

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

CIRCULAR TO THE SICK. The first hospital surgeons and medical publicists of Europe admit the unparalleled anti-inflamatory and healing properties of this Ointment; governments sanction its use in their naval and military services : and the masses in this country and throughout the world repose the atmost confidence in its curative proprieties. It penetrates the sources of inflamation and corruption which underlie external evidences of diseases, and neutralize the fiery elements which feed and exasperate the metady.

RHEUMATISM, SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS These are among the most terrible and agonizing and inflamation.

SALT RH UM, FEVER SORES, STIFF JOINTS. In cases of Salt Rheum, where medical waters, lotions, and every recipe of the pharmacopæa have proved useless, the Ointment will accomplish a thorough cure. Fever Sores heal quickly under its influence, and its relaxing effect upon centracted sinews is truly wouderful.

DISCHARGING ULCERS. A most remarkable and happy change is produced in the appearance of malignant ulcers after a few applications of this Ointment. The surrounding redness vanishes, an granuies of healthy flesh begin to take the place of the discharged matter. The process goes on more or less rapidly nntil the orifice is filled up with sound material, and the other ulc r radical y
