ful, young gentleman, will not fail to be well supplied with fair pupils. Athletic sports of all kinds are coming more and more into vogue here for both sexlegislation which is an outrage upon fairness, justice es. Base ball, boating and cricket are becoming more popular every year, and are countenanced by many of our first clergyman. Billiards is the great in door game in the private houses of the wealthy. Very few first class houses are put up in any part of the State, in which a large room is not set apart for one of Phelan's billard tables. Ladies of ton look for their billard table, in commencing to keep house, as naturally as for their piano forte. Apar: from the fact that a billiard table furnishes an exellent means of physical recreation for ladies, when the weather puts a veto upon out door pastimes, sedate mations favor the introduction of the game into private houses, because it keeps fathers, husbands and sons from being obliged to resort to public saloons wh a they desire to play. Some of our lady players in New York handle the cue with a dexterity surpassed by few amateurs of the sterner sex, and with a grace that Phelan himself might well envy. The business of manufacturing tables to meet the increasing demand, has risen to an importante branch of dustry. In the establishment of Phelan& Collender some 200 hands are constantly employed. A far lager amount of mechancial shill and accuracy is required to make a billiard table than to make a piano; beside which, however a good mechanic a man may be, he must also be a skillful player, and have learned thoroughly by experience the scientific regirements of a first class table. It is that which has given to Phelan's establishment all but a monopoly of the business, apart from the prestige of his championship, three or four of his patented improvements in cushions are considered indispensable v all crack players, professional and private.

The tour of Europe will soon be considered indis pensable to the education of an American gentleman. For the past ten years, the number of persons who annually leave New York for Europe has been steadily increasing. Every steamer that has left the port, this reason, for the other side of the Altantic has arrived as many passengers as it could well accomodate. The clergy of our country are leaving indulge itself in this manner. "Shan't we go to mother?" exclaimed a child of five, with passion te emphasis,

"If it clears off."

"But when will it clear off."

"O, look out for the blue sky."

And so he did, poor little fellow, but never a bit of blue sky gladdened his eyes.

"Well." I don't care, mother," said he when the tedious day, had at length numbered all its hours, "if I haven't seen it, I know there is a blue sky and seek to be good.
