TRAGEDY AND FARCE IN PARIS

As all the world knows, the French Republic is at present trembling under the disgrace and danger of a tremendous scandal.

High officials, from President Carnot down, are more or less gravely suspected of complicity in the infamous Panama Canal scheme.

While it is always well to take political indictments of this sort with a grain of salt, it is especially necessary to subject those coming 3,000 miles to a good deal of the brine which does not penetrate the water-proof cable.

The enemies of France, which means every Tory, monarchist and reactionist, from London to Davos, rub their hands in glee at this revelation of Republican corruption.

Here in America we have become accustomed to the sight of boils and rashes on the body politic. Visiting critics, from the days of Moore and Dickens to the present time, have pronounced each cutaneous disorder a case of fatal gangrene.

Very Respectfully, National Rice Milling Co. GOLDSBORO, N. C. Take Notice! I wish to announce to the public that my well known restaurant will in the next 30 days, undergo an entire change.

ing to abolish religion. It must pass the penalty, but not the dire penalty of reversion to absolutism in any form.

This is the tragedy of France today. The farce properly follows, in the guise of the Clemenceau-Deroudele duel, which took place on the 22 inst. M. Deroudele had publicly accused Mr. Clemenceau, Radical deputy and editor, of having taken a bribe of 80,000 francs from the Canal people.

Then they went to the fatal field, armed with the French duelling pistol, which is almost as dangerous as a pea-shooter. They were stationed 25 feet apart, and the word to fire was given.

Mrs. D. L. Jones, Granville, N. Y. writes: "I have the highest praise to give to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. We have used it in our family for five years with the best effect."

FACTS ARE SUBBORN THINGS.

[From Tarboro Southern, July 17.] While visiting Tarboro, on July 8th, I was requested to visit Miss Mary E. Staton, seven miles from town, who for seven weeks had been suffering excruciating agony from some blood poison, supposed to be poison oak. On last Tuesday, at her request, I went to see her, and expected to see great suffering, but was not prepared for the scene that met me. I found the patient broken out all over with an eruption which had occasioned such intense itching that during the paroxysms she was perfectly uncontrollable, and had scratched and torn herself to pieces until her agony was indescribable. During these paroxysms she would have to be held, and her screams could be heard a long distance. She would pray for death to come to her relief; her whole body was purple and raw, exuded a flow water which saturated the bed through several thick quilts—that day she had possessed herself of a thick gutta percha enema hose, and before she could be prevented, had raked herself with it with such force as to breed out one of the teeth, thus adding to her agony. She was attended by some good physicians as Tarboro and her neighborhood could afford, but their treatment afforded only occasional relief by outward applications, and no permanent benefit, as the paroxysms continued to return with increasing violence. Upon viewing the condition of the patient I called the family together and told them to bear witness that I promised nothing. I could not tell whether my Remedy would relieve or not, as I had never even imagined such suffering, but it could do no harm and might do good. I then gave her a large dose of the Bitters and as soon as the paroxysm was over, sponged her whole body with the Wash. While doing so she would call out, "Oh that does feel so good!" I then gave her another dose of the Bitters, and she was soon in a sweet sleep. I continued this treatment, and whenever the itching would recur I would sponge the body instantly with the Wash, which in every instance allayed in the irritation or itching and ward off those violent paroxysms. She did not have an attack during the day, and by 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon the disease was under perfect control. The itching would recur, but every time was allayed by the application of the Wash. I left her Wednesday evening and comfortable, with directions for the treatment to be continued during the night and as long as was necessary. I came again to see her to-day, Saturday, the 12th, and found her up and dressed in all the regular occupation of her household duties. She is entirely free, although she will, of course, have to take the Bitters some time to completely eradicate the poison from her blood. During Wednesday she frequently called for the Bitters, as she craved its soothing and quieting effects, and during the day I administered a whole bottle, with the above results, thus proving, what I have always claimed, that my Remedy in an infallible antidote for all blood poisons. I am respectfully, MRS. JOE PERSON.

This is to certify that the foregoing statement is perfectly correct in every particular, as we were eyewitnesses of Miss Mary's suffering and the wonderful relief afforded by Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. NICHOLAS STATION, P. L. STATON, CORNELIUS STATION, TARTIE McDOWELL.

Tarboro, N. C., July 12th, 1891.
