

JOS. E. ROBINSON, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

GOLDSBORO, N. C., JAN. 19, 18 83.

"A CONDITION, NOT A THEORY."

Bourke Cockran, the eloquent, who carries around abig part of th brains of Tammany, and is a Brave who talks cheap—alho' some times "through his hat"—has mos' wonderfully changed his tune since that memorable early morning speech at Chicago last June.

Thursday night at the Hoffman House, Mr. Cockran said he believed "the welfare of the Democratic party lies with Mr. Cleveland. He has put the party where it is today; he has already proven himself the man of the party, and the New York Democracy will support him in every way. That I know. The idea that any Democrat from this State is going to embarrass Mr. Cleveland's administration in any way is absurd. We are all with Mr. Cleveland, and will do all in our power to aid him in his administration."

If Dave Hill and Edward Murphy will hearken to Mr. Cockran and Chief Croker, they will not be slow to understand that it would be folly to kick against the pricks. President-elect Cleveland and the great Democratic party that placed him in power are "bigger men" than Dave and Ed. They ought to know that it is a condition that confronts them, not a theory.

Bourke and Dick are smart enough to know that the great Democratic masses of the country care little for the impotent rage of the Tiger, whose claws were so ignominiously clipped at Chicago. In fact:

They like to hear the tiger, From the Congo or the Niger; Especially when a-lashing of his tail.

INVITATIONS have been sent out through Col. H. B. Corbin, of the United States Army, to the governors of all the States, inviting them and their staffs to participate in the Presidential inauguration ceremonies. The inauguration committee requests that all civic organizations from the various sections of the country, who intend to participate in the inaugural ceremonies, will notify the committee on civic organization. It is hoped North Carolina will head the list of States, with Governor Carr and staff and a full representation of our citizen soldiery. North Carolina was the only really contested States in the Solid South and came up nobly, through discouraging circumstances, in support of Grover Cleveland. She should have a front place at the Inaugural.

Ohio wool-growers are holding a Convention in Columbus this week. We suggest, as the great staple they represent is soon to be placed upon the free list, that the Convention demand the protection to which they are entitled against shoddy competition, to be extended in the shape of a rousing revenue tax upon that vile and fraudulent commodity.

FRANK is all "tored up" over corruption and crookedness on a colossal scale, developed in connection with the Panama Canal scheme. The bribery involved of Government officials and the press has had a weakening effect upon the faith of the people in the Republic. The smouldering embers of the fire of revolution have been stirred into a glow, and the situation is anything but lovely or assuring.

The President's House. While custom commands that the President shall reside in the house provided for him at Washington, it would be obviously improper for Mr. Cleveland to take his family to the President's House six weeks hence or until there shall have been opportunity for its complete renovation. There was tubercles there not long ago and now there is scarlet fever. Happily the little patient is convalescent, but the official danger signal will not be removed for some time yet. No prudent person would move into a house under such conditions and it will be unjust to expect it of Mr. Cleveland.

Attention is called to this not in the way of alarm but to urge upon Congress the propriety of immediate steps for the erection of a new President's house, or at least for separating the official residence of the President from the executive offices. It is a barbarity unworthy of this enlightened age to compel the President and his family to live "back of the shop," as it were, having their private apartments under the same roof and scarcely separated from the public offices of the President, which are practically open to all comers.

When the White House was built, the business of the President was comparatively light and the social requirements were as nothing to what they have since become. The mansion, which is really a noble one, was then adequate for all needs. It is not so now, and either a new residence should be provided in another part of the city or else a new building shall be provided elsewhere for the executive offices and public reception rooms.

This needed reform has been long talked of; it should be no longer deferred. And meantime it would be well for Congress to direct the most thorough scientific sanitation of the White House before it shall be occupied by the family of the President-elect—Phila. Times.

STATE NEWS.

Western North Carolina. ASHVILLE, Jan. 16.—A special to the Citizen from Hot Springs says that snow to the depth of six inches and ice has formed on the French Broad river for a distance of a mile and a half. An ice gorge is piled up in the river to a height of fourteen feet at the hotel bridge and is twenty feet high at the Western North Carolina Railroad bridge. It is reported that at Paint Rock, on the line between North Carolina and Tennessee, the snow is nine inches deep, and that the thermometer dropped to fourteen degrees below zero last night.

Newbern Journal: Cap. W. Crow who has been in charge of the Salvation Army work in Newbern during the last several months and Lieut. Jas. Keener who has assisted him for the last three months will conduct their farewell service tonight. This will be their last official meeting. They will however continue to hold meetings until Tuesday night. They will leave on Wednesday. Capt. Crow expects his next station to be at Nashville, Tenn. It will be succeeded in the work here by Lieut. Sarah Smith. She will probably arrive next Tuesday evening.

Raleigh News-Observer: We learn W. A. Prevost Justice of the peace in Randolph county had a very unusual case before him the other day. The wives of two reputable men in this neighborhood had a cause of difference. They were both young and pretty. One of them wanted the other and caught her, beat her, o' her down, kicked her, and got upon her and when rested began once again and so hurt her that when the justice had the case before him, he would not try it, but sent it on to court expecting that the injured woman might die. The fighting woman is a daughter of the fighting Klukey, who has a reputation in that neighborhood. Blood will tell.
