MR. CRISP'S ADDRESS

Georgia's Distinguished Son Addresses the General Assembly of the State in Favor of Free Coin-

The address of ex-Speaker Crisp before the two houses of the General Assembly last evening was a notable event and attracted, as it deserved, a large audience. Mr. Crisp is a distinguished son of Georgia and the high position he has held in the councils of the nation entitles him to the respectful and appreciative hearing which was accorded his words, even by those who were compelled to differ with his conclusions. The ex-speaker's remarks were in good temper, as betwixt the discussion of a question which demands only the coolest logic and which should exclude the heat of political debate.

Mr. Crisp declared himself in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 by this country alone, independent of international agreement. It is to the credit of his reputation for fairness that he practically admitted that in so doing he exceeded the demands of the National Democratic platform. Mr. Crisp knows that there is no such demand in the platform and, alike other advocates of the cause with which he has allied himself, he does not claim that it is here. It does not speak so well for his political discernment, however, when he held out the hope that the next National Democratic convention is certain to repudiate free silver at 16 to 1 as it is to meet. When that is done and many of the leaders in the silver agitation, like Mr. Vest, of Missouri, admit that it is inevitable, every Democrat will be bound to abide by the decision.

In the same breath that he declared himself for unlimited and independent free coinage, Mr. Crisp pronounced himself a bimetalist. The ex-speaker utterly failed to show how the pursuance of the policy which he announced himself as favoring could result in bimetalism. Only a modicum of thought is needed to convince that the logic of the ex-speaker's address is that he favors silver monometallism. No juggling of words or laws can produce bimetalism, with the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present ratio.

The Journal believes that Speaker Crisp has allied himself with a minority of the Democratic party, that he has given his aid to a plan to commit the party of the people to an unsound and unsafe doctrine, and it regrets to see him in that attitude. We feel sure that Mr. Crisp will find that he is on this question in line neither with the majority of his fellow Democrats of Georgia or of the country at large.

It was possibly an unintentional omission on the part of Mr. Crisp that in his tribute to those who had led the fight for tariff reform he failed to mention the name of that distinguished Democrat, Grover Cleveland, who is believed to have had an important share in that grand work. The ex-speaker compared the fight for tariff reform to the currency contest. He might have gone farther and shown that, just as the opposition to tariff reform inside the party was gradually overcome, just so the opposition to a sound and safe currency basis is being rapidly eliminated and the best thought of the party is being arrayed against the silver monometallism, which would be the inevitable result of free and unlimited coinage.—Atlanta Journal.

A Republican Scheme Outlined.

The New York papers report some significant outgivings by A. B. Hepburn, president of the Third National Bank of their city, and author of the new currency system proposed last year by the banks. His revelations relate to the means which the Republican Congress will adopt to force the administration to accept the measures relating to the tariff and the finances desired by the Republicans and the banks. Mr. Hepburn is reported as saying that he had had several interviews with Thomas R. Reed the speaker-to-be of the next Congress, and Thomas H. Carter, chairman of the Republican committee. These two leaders, he says, approved the passage of bills by the Republican Congress putting duties upon wool and lumber. They also favored a substantial revenue tax upon the manufacture of beer. It was the intention of the Republicans to pass these three revenue bills and throw the responsibility for accepting the increased revenue that will supply the present de-iciency upon the Democratic administration." Unless these measures are accepted, Mr. Hepburn says, another issue of bonds will be the inevitable result. So we are given to understand that unless the Cleveland administration agrees to a higher tax on domestic beer and high duties on wool and lumber, there must be another bond issue, and the administration and the Democratic party must bear the responsibility. The first named alternative would please protected interests, and the latter the bankers and brokers, and both at the expense of the people.

As to the "responsibility" for the bond issue, in such an emergency as that suggested, the people will show intelligence enough to place ours where it belongs. They will hardly hold a factious, scheming, dominant party in Congress guiltless. But if a square issue is presented between higher wool, lumber and beer, demanded as an ultimatum by the Republicans, and a constitutional income tax favored by the Democrats, which party would be the gainer by this Republican scheme? May not the schemers be forced into the hole prepared by them for their opponents?

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

His Excellency Governor Elias Carr, Thursday issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation: "The people of North Carolina have much for which to be thankful to Almighty God in the year which has just passed. The earth has brought forth abundantly of the food products in response to our labors, the prices of raw materials have advanced, industrial progress has been awakened in our midst and the future looks brighter than the past few years of disaster and want. Our people should be thankful for the blessings vouchsafed to them, and, in grateful remembrance of His goodness and in obedience to our laws and the time honored custom of our forefathers, devote one day of the year to His service.

Therefore, I, Elias Carr, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 28th day of November, 1895, as a day of solemn and public Thanksgiving to God for past blessings, and of supplication for His continued kindness and care over us as a State and Nation. I earnestly request every citizen of this great Commonwealth to lay aside his usual business, assemble either at the churches, or around the fireside, and make this annual festival a day of prayer and thanksgiving. Let not the day be devoted to amusements, but with grateful hearts give praise to God for the preservation of our liberties and for the advancement of our nation in prosperity and greatness. This State has ever been the home of freedom and the abiding-place of a virtuous and noble people. Let the day not pass without acknowledgment of all these blessings; and let us remember in our prayers and offerings the charitable institutions of the State, the wounded and needy soldiers, the orphans, the poor and afflicted, and, by substantial giving, show forth the thankfulness of our hearts.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina to be affixed. Done at the city of Raleigh, this 14th day of November, in the (Seal) year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, and in the one hundred and twentieth year of our American Independence.

ELIAS CARR,

By the Governor,
S. F. TELFAIR,
Private Secretary.

Washington News.

Washington, November 15.—From hints thrown out by the leaders of both political parties strong probabilities seem to exist that two important joint resolutions will be offered immediately after the assembling of the Fifty-fourth Congress. The first will be an affirmation of the principles embodied in the Monroe doctrine, expressing in plain and vigorous language the sympathy of the American people with its boundary dispute with Great Britain. The second joint resolution, which is being prepared with much care, provides for the annexation of the Hawaiian islands to the United States under a territorial form of government.

It is announced from St. Petersburg via Vienna that a daughter was born to the Czarina at 10 o'clock yesterday evening. The mother and child are doing well.

Cubans on Their Way.

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—It was reported in shipping circles late this afternoon that there is on board the Norwegian fruit steamship Laon, which will reach that port to-morrow morning, a delegation of officers of the Cuban republic, included in which delegation is the vice-president of that republic. The greatest secrecy is maintained by all in connection with this steamship, but direct information of the fact that there is quite a delegation on board this steamship was had here several days ago by the custom authorities. It is also known that a corps of Pinkerton detectives have already been engaged to watch them while in this city, so as to preclude all possibility of their purchasing arms or taking out any more filibustering expeditions. There is no law by which the custom authorities can prevent the landing of the officers of the Cuban Republic at this port, as the allegation of the purpose of their mission, that it is to secure arms and recruits to aid in the rebellion, is passed only on surmise.

The Laon comes from Port Morant, a small settlement in Jamaica, to which place the delegation is said to have gone from Cuba in small boats.

The greatest excitement prevails in the vicinity of the quarters where these ships land, and many Cuban sympathizers can be seen about here, awaiting news from the outlying districts from which the ships come. It is stated upon good authority that Captain Swanoe, commanding this ship, who has been a marked man for some time, immediately upon his arrival here will be arrested by the officers of the revenue marine on a charge of having violated the neutrality laws in landing about three weeks ago, on the coast of Cuba, a filibustering expedition.

Springfield, Ohio, Nov. 15.—In an animated discussion by Mitchell Post, G. A. K., regarding the Cuban question, Gen. J. Warren Keifer, ex-speaker, claimed that the United States could not consistently recognize the Cuban patriots as belligerents, for the reason that the United States protested when European powers so recognized the Confederacy.

Havana, Nov. 15.—A squadron, consisting of the cruisers Enseada, Cortes, Pizarro and Kasso has left Palma, the transport Lazary, carrying material which will be utilized in putting the forts and the water of the harbors of the island of Cuba in a state of defense.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 15.—A special from the City of Mexico, dated November 14, says: "A prominent Spaniard who is in close touch with Spain, says that before Spain will concede Cuban independence, or permit the island to come under a United States protectorate or rule, she will throw Cuba into the hands of England, conceding land ostensible possession for a number of years until England collects the sum of money which is due her from Spain for war with Cuba.

Through this exhibited a gratifying improvement, it by no means controverts the claim that cotton manufacture can be carried on much more profitably in the region of cotton culture than in one far distant, which also labors under other disadvantages.

The Atlanta Exposition has caused members of the Northern cotton manufacturers to visit Georgia and other cotton growing States and they have no doubt improved the opportunity to investigate and satisfy themselves on this point. We feel assured that they have become convinced of the truth of the claims made for the South, and that they have also learned that the charges made about disagreeable social and labor conditions in this part of the country are false and misleading.

We would suggest that now is an appropriate time for persons owning unused water-power, or other facilities for cheap manufacturing, to correspond with parties in the north desirous of investing in such enterprises. The Atlanta Exposition ought to be largely instrumental in doubling the number of important manufacturing establishments in the southern states. Within one, two and three miles of Goldsboro are some of the finest water powers in the world. Why not let them be known outside and improved?

GLEANINGS.

Items of Interest Clipped From our State Exchanges.

Winston Sentinel: The next meeting to be held by Evangelist Pife and his assistants, Revs. Messrs. Price and Browne, will be at Port Royal, Va., beginning Sunday week, Nov. 24th.

Concord Standard: Dr. Blackwell, of Yarborough House fame, but now general storekeeper and gauger for this district, was in town yesterday attending to the duties of his office.

Asheville Citizen: Fred A. Hull has just completed a well executed pen sketch of a mountain scene in Jackson county. The sketch shows a huge bear emerging from its den on a ledge on the mountain side.

Roxboro Courier: Attorney W. G. Means, who has been so seriously ill, accompanied by his son Brandon, has gone to Misenheim Springs to remain some time. His many friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

Raleigh News and Observer: The body of V. B. Powell passed through here yesterday en route from Weldon to Brevard. Powell was a convict, who worked on the State farms at Weldon. Death came and cancelled his sentence.

Shelby Star: A little 8 year old daughter of Mr. L. E. Dalton, of Waco, was smothered to death in some cotton last week. The child was in the cotton house alone and attempted to go down head-first into a hole of cotton, which she did and was unable to get out. Half an hour she remained in that position when she was found dead by her mother.

Henderson Gold Leaf: Rev. T. Ogburn, a former pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, recently had the degree of Doctor of Divinity conferred upon him. He has written a card in which he declines the honor and requests his friends not to use "D. D." in connection with his name, saying he does so "out of respect for the title and for those who wear it worthily.

Newbern Journal: Mr Sam'l Thompson and daughter, Miss Audrea, who came in Sunday by steamer and who are stopping at Mr. J. J. Wolfenden's expect to spend the winter here. As far as Mr. Thompson's personal observation of our country has gone he is well pleased and there is a prospect, which we will be glad to see realized, of his investing and making this his permanent home.

Smithfield Herald: From the liquor dealers' signs exhibited on the streets this week one would judge that the business was on a boom. Tangle leg was a prevalent disease and calamity water was the liniment used. Several patients were furnished suitable accommodations at the Town Home for the "Wayward and Inflamed," and suitably rewarded for their speedy recovery.

Wilmington Star: The funeral services over the late Mrs. Anna M. Ricard, wife of Rev. Dr. T. Page Ricard, took place from Grace Methodist Church yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock. A large number of sorrowing friends were present to pay their last respects to this good Christian woman, who so beloved by all who knew her. The services were conducted by Revs. W. C. Norman, W. S. Rone and W. L. Cunningham, and the body was tenderly laid away in Oakdale cemetery. There were many pretty floral offerings.

Rocky Mount Argonaut: The roads leading into Rocky Mount are in the most cases in a very bad condition. We hear farmers complaining very much about the roads and threatening to carry their product and trade to other markets. The bridges are particularly bad; many of them being absolutely dangerous. We trust that everything pertaining to the roads will be put in good shape within the town limits and that our town authorities will exert themselves to have overseers of roads leading to Rocky Mount attend more strictly to their business.

As to the danger of running up against this country, these late mishaps to big vessels are a warning to foreign navies to keep off.

When New York city drinks thirty-four million barrels of beer in a year, opening its mouth in further protest against excise law seems superfluous.

With the six leading powers of Europe taking charge of the Armenian question, and with the fleets of England, Russia, France and Italy assembling near the scene, our country obviously needs in the Mediterranean no greater naval force than it has there. The San Francisco and the Marblehead are fine cruisers, and the political condition of the Porte, rather than any dangers to missionaries, is the problem of the hour. Still, it is not unlikely that our force in European waters will next year be increased to three, if not four, ships.

Marvelous Results. From a letter written by Rev. J. Underman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I freely recommend Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding LaGrippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last for hours with little interruption and it seemed that she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Hill's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.
