

Goldsboro Weekly Argus.

How's this for you?
Pillows, sheets, etc., all of the goods store. Our slavery for children can't be beaten at ten and twenty-five cts.
Sunderland, Brantley & Co.

shoes.
See our big values in Finlands, etc., double with all wool flannel, all colors only 25c worth 50c, some just received.
Sunderland, Brantley & Co.

This ARGUS o'er the people's rights,
Doth an eternal vigil keep
No soothing strains of Maia's sun,
Can lull its hundred eyes to sleep

VOL. XVII.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1895.

NO 33

JUDGE RUSSELL SPEAKS.

The Republican blew out at Metropolitan Hall Last Night.

The Russellites, the Logites and otherites had a meeting last night.

It was a cloudy gathering.

The darkies had the front seats, the middle seats and nearly all the rear seats, and about every other seat was occupied.

After some preliminaries the chairman introduced Judge Russell.

The gubernatorial aspirant seemed to feel that as a real genuine Russellite Rally, the meeting was a sort of a fiasco, but made up his mind to make the most of it.

He touched along at first what he doubtless thought was a humorous bit in the penitentiary about funerals. But the darkies didn't catch the humor and dozens of them proceeded to drop off to sleep.

He touched another cord and those that had remained awake proceeded to yell, which for a moment woke up the sleepers.

This cord was what the speaker termed election frauds. The more he talked on this line the louder the dusky crowd hollowed and when he referred to the Democratic "Drunken Bull Pen Scoundrels," there was not a sleeping negro left in the hall, but many of them soon dozed off again and woke up only when the speaker declared that if all the Democratic ballot stealers were put in the penitentiary their legs would be hanging over the windows.

"The fusion of 1894," he declared "had saved the State, and as a result northern men and money are coming into the State.

"They would not go to South Carolina. A man that would go to South Carolina with himself or money would be fool enough to rent a yard in hell for a summer resort."

The man who tells you that it is Populists who are disfranchising the negro in South Carolina is a liar.

"They are Democrats, and the man who opposes fusion in North Carolina, you may put him down as a hired consistent Democrat.

"Thank God for fusion," (great yells.)

A drummer said at the hotel in Raleigh that he was a Republican, and I think, and I think and I think.

That drummer a few years ago would no more have said in Raleigh that he was a Republican than he would have stuck his head in a fire.

"Thank God for fusion," (more yells.)

Jeff Davis died and a woman in Washington draped her house in mourning.

I like that woman. If she wanted to make a fool of herself she had a right to do it. For freedom gives the right to make a fool of yourself if you want to.

"I worshipped Jeff Davis once and went into the army to fight against my country, then I made a fool of myself."

"But still we are proud of the State that sent more soldiers, according to its population, than any other State in the Union.

"We fusionists built that monument to their memory.

"But I don't care what you cesesh Democrats say about me, I am glad we got whipped.

"I have got to say something to get the Democratic papers to abusing me. We fusionists haven't got any daily papers, and judging from the election returns we don't need any. But I tell you I am not happy unless the Democratic papers are abusing me."

The speaker then went into the foreign policy of the Cleveland administration, and declared that Cleveland sent a little Peach Orchard, Delaware, who goes up there that little she thing, over there they call a queen, and tells her that she regrets that America has had a Protective policy.

"Our victory means that Bayard and such as him shall get out.

"Suppose we had a few more years of Cleveland?"

"Why I see that Chatham county is caring for more lunatics than ever before in its history, who wonders at it when Cleveland is President?"

After Judge Russell concluded Pat Stewart, J. J. Rogers and other Rad-Pops meeting for an hour or so and the meeting broke up.—Raleigh News & Observer.

Louisburg Times: If you fail to advertise, a busy public is liable to forget you, and if you litter up a man's front yard or a housewife's porch with cheap circulars, you will not get their trade. But an advertisement in the local paper keeps you and your business in the public mind and makes you friends among the hundreds who regularly read the paper.

The Nicaragua Canal.

A serious setback to the prospects of the Nicaragua canal has probably been given by the report of the commission of engineers who went last summer to investigate the feasibility of the proposed route.

The cost of the canal has been variously estimated at from $70,000,000 to $100,000,000. The latter figure has been given in the reports of the Canal Company as an outside estimate.

The New York Herald asserts that it has information of the contents of the coming report of the commission, which report is now in the hands of the President and will not be made public until the meeting of Congress—except through the indomitable enterprise of the New York Herald.

According to the Herald, the commission of engineers who went to Nicaragua last summer to investigate the feasibility of the canal route have found that the natural difficulties to be overcome are very much more serious than the prospects of the Canal Company would seem to indicate. The probable cost of constructing the canal is placed at $133,472,000, which is nearly twice as much as the estimates of the Nicaragua Canal Company call for.

The report is represented to advocate an appropriation by Congress for a thorough survey, lasting eighteen months, to map out a feasible route and to thoroughly master the engineering difficulties which the proposed route presents. According to the Herald, therefore, the commission does not condemn the proposed route, but merely asks for more time to make a further examination, and he estimates that the cost of constructing the canal will be considerably greater than the early estimates called for.

While the figures given above are much larger than those which the projectors of the enterprise have steadily put forth there is nothing in them to appall the friends of the canal project.

It would be a good thing for the United States government to put even twice the amount of the estimates of the commission into the great canal.

Lined by a New System.

To the Pennsylvania railroad express from the South, which left Broad Street Station for New York at 6 o'clock last evening, was attached a car most unique in its way which has been on exhibition at the Atlanta Exposition and at Washington. The car, which carried a party of New Yorkers, including Postmaster Charles W. Dayton, Excise Controller Theodore W. Myers, Ex-Sheriff John Sexton, Ex-Corporation Counsel Clark and a number of others equally prominent, was brilliantly lighted with incandescent lamps run by a power supplied in a manner so simple as to awaken wonder, at its only now being successfully put into practice.

The system which is known as the Moscovitz, which the inventor, Morris Moscovitz, consists of a small inexpensive dynamo built on a truck, the armature resting directly on the axle. After the train is under way and has reached a speed of 10 miles an hour the dynamo begins automatically to generate electricity. A little less than one-half of the electrical current so generated is consumed by the 36 lights in the car, while the rest passes to storage batteries, which in a seven-hour run will put away enough electricity to light the car for at least 12 hours. The amount of electricity generated can be regulated at will.

The friction which is lost by the revolution of the axle is used to run the dynamo, which is so constructed that it never takes more than one and a quarter horse power from the axle and in the ordinary ear fully one-third of this power is wasted.

The lighting plant of each car is intended to be separate and distinct and there is no fear of darkness in case of an accident, because the storage battery in each car can be relied on to supply the light. While electricity is used for lighting purposes on one or more railroads the power is supplied directly from the locomotives, and in case the train is broken the cars are cut off from their supply of light.

It is also claimed for the Moscovitz system that it is much cheaper than oil or gas and much clearer. The system will, it is said, be adopted by the government for postal cars.

While in the station the car, which is named "Moscovitz," attracted much attention. It is beautifully finished on the outside in blue and gold, with parlors on the end and kitchen and berths in the centre. Around there is a balcony, which can be used for observation purposes or as a passageway from end to end.—Philadelphia Times.

SOME CHEERING FIGURES.

While the calamity-howlers howl and prophesy all manner of evil because of the present tendency of gold to go abroad, it will not be amiss to watch the export figures a little. The exports for the month of October reached $87,017,240 as against $83,653,121 during October, 1894, a clear gain of $3,364,119. If this ratio of increase holds, this alone may serve to check the gold export entirely or restrict it to harmless proportions. There is good reason to expect large exports during the remainder of the year, as this is the harvest season for nearly everything we export, including corn, cotton, fruit and provisions, as well as wheat and flour.

There is another hopeful feature revealed by the export figures, and that is an increase in the export of manufactured articles. For the first nine months of the calendar year the export of manufactured goods was $145,798,586 against $133,378,609 during the same period in 1894. This gain of twelve millions may be insignificant in turning the financial trade balance in our favor, but it shows that the more liberal tariff laws now on the books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

Coming down to our own State and to the one item of cotton alone—not to speak of the lumber, and other wooden outputs and manufactures, iron manufactures of a number of variety, &c., &c.—it shows by the great statistics books, have made an export trade in American manufactures possible.

As it is not likely that there will be any important changes in our revenue laws during the next two years this increase in the exports of manufactured goods should be maintained. In many lines we have gone beyond the limits of home consumption, and increased production must depend upon our ability to find an export market for the surplus.

THE UNSPEAKABLE TURK.

The Sultan is preparing a letter to the Powers defining his position on the Armenian question. In it he will say that the Kurds, Apas, Bedouins, and other patriotic orders (of which he is not a member) profess the firmest loyalty to the throne and are solemnly pledged to defend it against any assaults of the Christians in Armenia.

He fully sympathizes with their advertised principles, but not being a member, knows nothing of their secrets.

If in the performance of their duty they have been compelled to slay some twenty or thirty thousand Christians. No doubt it was done in defence of the Crescent and the Koran, as those Christian sheep frequently attack his valiant lions in that way.

He will add that all the troubles could be avoided if the Armenians did not refuse to accept the true faith, that of Islam, or even if they would not persist in bringing up their children in their own religion.

He cannot but feel that the glorious institutions of his country are imperilled by this obstinacy on the part of his Armenian subjects.

In conclusion he reiterates his declaration that he is in sympathy with the advertised principles of the patriotic orders (of which he is not a member), and the powers are very unreasonable if that don't satisfy them.

CALLING A COUNCIL OF THE IRISH RACE.

At the meeting of the Irish Parliamentary party in Dublin, on November 15, which decreed the expulsion from its governing committee of Messrs. Timothy M. Healy and Arthur O'Connor, another action of great importance to the future of Ireland's cause was taken. On the motion of Mr. John Dillon, M. P., this resolution was proposed and carried without division:

That this party approves of the suggestion made by the Archbishop of Toronto in favor of a national convention representative of the Irish race throughout the world, and that with the view of carrying this decision into effect the chairman and committee of the Irish party are hereby authorized to communicate with the executive of the National Federation, and jointly with them to make arrangements for the holding of such a convention.

Mr. Healy, with an obtuseness which it is hard to understand, tried to modify this resolution by an amendment which would practically exclude representative men of the Irish race abroad from participation in such a convention.

He realized, perhaps, that the first and last word of Ireland's friends in other lands is: "Unite if you would have our help," and that he has been long condemned by all of them as a primary obstacle to unity in the Irish party and among the Irish people.

"The best elements in Ireland welcome the prospect of this convention. But to make it equally appealing to Great Britain, America and Australia, there must be effective organization and continued stern repression of the spirit of revolt in the Irish party itself. The people are for unity and their leaders must unite.

John Williams and David Rose, wealthy stock traders of Wolfe county, Ky., fought a savage duel to the death yesterday at Hazel Green. Williams was killed and Rose died later.

Two masked men held up the Northbound passenger train on the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad Thursday. They forced an entrance into the Express car, but the messenger was unable to open the through safe and the bandits secured no money. The men jumped and escaped.

At Anderson, S. C., Chas. Saxton, a negro, was killed by Joe E. Burgess, white. From the evidence at the coroner's inquest it was shown that the negro was incensed over his discharge attacked the white man with a hoe. The white man seized a gun and killed the negro during the fight. A verdict of self defence was rendered.

THE SUPREMACY OF

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy

As a Tonic, Alterative, Purifier of the Blood and a medicine for rheumatism and other ailments, it has been used for many years with the most successful results. It is a powerful purifier of the blood and a tonic for the system, yielding to the potent influence of this great and long-tried remedy. Indigestion—that prevailing curse of our modern life of hurry and worry—by building up and fortifying the system; Numberless victims of that horrible and hitherto hopeless malady, indigestion or contracted stomach, it has snatched from the brink of the grave and brought to long lives of usefulness. Pamphlet giving full information with testimonials of the best people in the land as to its wonderful cures for twenty-five years, free to all. Physicians give it the highest endorsement. Formula of its exact composition on each bottle.

MRS. JOE PERSON, Kirtland, N. C.

NOTICE. Having qualified before the Clerk of the Superior Court of Wayne county as administrator of B. M. Privett, deceased, I hereby give to all persons indebted to the estate to make immediate payment, and to all persons holding claims against said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before November 6, 1895, or to the clerk of the court on or before November 6, 1895, or to the undersigned on or before November 6, 1895.

L. B. FONVILLE, Administrator. M. Privett, dec'd. November 6, 1895.

Tong Sing, Chinese Laundry.

Under Arlington Hotel Work done promptly, and in the very best style. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prices reduced—Shirts 8 cts., collars 3 cts., new shirts 10c, drawers and undershirts 5c each. Prices on other articles reduced. In pressing buttons holes will be mended without extra charge. Special rates given to families. Respectfully,
Tong Sing, C. O. D. Sept 27 2m

How's This. We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the Catarrh Cure, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm. Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

WALDING, KINMAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Notice. NORTH CAROLINA, Superior Wayne County, Court.

D. A. GRANTHAM, Plaintiff, vs. Attach-ment vs. Four hundred and twenty-five Dollars, due by account for one Dollar Monument and stays thereto, ordered by the court for the defendant, Warrant of attachment returnable to the next term of the Superior court for said county of Wayne, to be held at the court house in Goldsboro, on the sixth Monday, before the first Monday in March, 1896, when and where the defendant is required to appear and show cause why he should not be held in default of the complaint. C. F. HERRING, C. S. C. Nov. 15th, 1895.

Notice. Having this day qualified before the clerk of the Superior Court of Wayne county, North Carolina, as executor of the last will and testament of W. H. Andrews, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate of said W. H. Andrews, deceased, to make immediate payment, and to all persons holding claims against said estate, to present them to the undersigned for payment on or before Nov. 15th, 1895, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery.

J. P. ANDREWS, Executor of W. H. Andrews, deceased. Nov. 15th, 1895.

NOTICE OF SALE. By virtue of an order of the Superior Court of Wayne county, by C. F. Herring, Superior court, rendered on the 8th day of October, 1895, in the proceeding of W. T. Smith, executor of Mark Moringo vs. Jennie Moringo and James H. Moringo, I will sell at the court house door in Goldsboro, on the 2nd day of December, 1895, at 12 o'clock p. m., to the highest bidder, for cash, the lands described in the petition in said proceeding, subject to the dower of said Jennie Moringo. Said lands are situated in Indian Springs township and about 360 acres of H. Well & Bros., William Holmes and others and contain about 300 acres, being the land upon which Mark Moringo lived at the time of his death. This October 28th, '95. W. T. SMITH Comm'r

Valuable Farms. I offer for sale the farm on the main road from Goldsboro to the Eastern Insane Asylum, about one mile from the town known as "Miller Place." This tract contains 250 acres. Also a farm situated on the W. & W. R. R., about three miles from Goldsboro. This tract contains 360 acres. On both these farms can be grown cotton, corn, tobacco and truck crops. In fact, any crop desired. Have the advantage of a first class school and graded school. All necessary building on each farm. Terms reasonable. For information write to H. A. U. KORNGAY, Ex. W. F. Korngay, Goldsboro, N. C.

Subscribe to THE ARGUS—a first class family newspaper. 50c per year.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE

The Best Salve in the World for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per bottle, for sale by J. H. Hill & Son.

Cure for Headache. As a remedy for all forms of headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge upon all who are afflicted to procure a bottle and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only fifty cents at Hill & Sons' drug store.

Marvelous Results. From a letter written by Rev. J. Underman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I freely recommend Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding LaGrippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last for hours with little interruption and it seemed that she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Hill's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Now is the Time for Hood & Britt's Guess It Will Run!

ON CHRISTMAS EVE, I will wind up Ladies Gold Watch. It will run, locked up in a case, until it runs down. Everyone who spends as much as $1.00 in my store from now until then, is entitled to a guess.

FOR SALE AT HOOD & BRITT'S GUESS HOW LONG It Will Run!

ON CHRISTMAS EVE, I will wind up Ladies Gold Watch. It will run, locked up in a case, until it runs down. Everyone who spends as much as $1.00 in my store from now until then, is entitled to a guess.

FOR SALE AT HOOD & BRITT'S GUESS HOW LONG It Will Run!

ON CHRISTMAS EVE, I will wind up Ladies Gold Watch. It will run, locked up in a case, until it runs down. Everyone who spends as much as $1.00 in my store from now until then, is entitled to a guess.

FOR SALE AT HOOD & BRITT'S GUESS HOW LONG It Will Run!

ON CHRISTMAS EVE, I will wind up Ladies Gold Watch. It will run, locked up in a case, until it runs down. Everyone who spends as much as $1.00 in my store from now until then, is entitled to a guess.

FOR SALE AT HOOD & BRITT'S GUESS HOW LONG It Will Run!

ON CHRISTMAS EVE, I will wind up Ladies Gold Watch. It will run, locked up in a case, until it runs down. Everyone who spends as much as $1.00 in my store from now until then, is entitled to a guess.

FOR SALE AT HOOD & BRITT'S GUESS HOW LONG It Will Run!

ON CHRISTMAS EVE, I will wind up Ladies Gold Watch. It will run, locked up in a case, until it runs down. Everyone who spends as much as $1.00 in my store from now until then, is entitled to a guess.