CONGRESS PROCEEDINGS.

Deliberations of the House of Representatives.
Washington, Dec. 6.—Speaker Reed announced the appointment of the following committee of mileage: Messrs. A. B. Wright, of Massachusetts, chairman; J. A. Barham, of California; Orlando Burrell, of Illinois; and Geo. C. Pendleton, Democrat, of Texas.

Various executive documents and reports from officers were laid before the House by Speaker Reed and appropriately referred.

Mr. Walker, Republican, of Massachusetts, asked permission to have read a resolution to be printed in the Record.

This occasioned a colloquy between Mr. Crisp and the Speaker over a question of procedure.

Mr. Crisp said that such requests would constantly be made and asked the Speaker whether or not the reading of the resolution, or whatever the document was, would ensure it a place in the Record, after objections had been made to its consideration.

The Speaker replied that circumstances would have to determine the matter. In some cases the printing of the document was necessary to explain the action of the House.

The resolution was as follows: WHEREAS, There are many naturalized American citizens of Armenian birth now resident in the United States, and

WHEREAS, The Turkish Government continues unjustly and forcibly to collect personal taxes of such naturalized American citizens by imprisoning and otherwise oppressing their relatives, and

WHEREAS, The Turkish Government neither permits such naturalized American citizens to re-enter its territory to visit their families, nor, on the other hand, allows their families to come to this country, and

WHEREAS, Such wives and children, having the rights of American citizens by virtue of the naturalization of the head of the family, have been and are exposed to outrage and destruction in the cities which have lately been given over to massacre and plunder, therefore,

Resolved, That the people of the United States, through their Representatives in Congress assembled, hereby express their deepest abhorrence and condemnation of the outrages thus committed on their American fellow citizens, as well as on other Christian subjects of Turkey.

Resolved, That this House, composed of the immediate representatives of the people, pledge its hearty support to the executive branch of the Government in every measure justified by international law and common humanity to vindicate the rights of our fellow citizens and of their families in Turkey, and to hinder and prevent, as far as practicable, the continuance of the outrages and massacres in that land.

Mr. Turner, expressed the opinion that such a resolution should not be presented to the House in its present condition and he therefore objected.

On motion of Mr. Cannon, the House at 12:30 o'clock adjourned until Monday next.

Among the bills and resolutions introduced and referred, were the following:

By Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, providing for the purchase of gold and silver bullion and its coinage; creating a tariff statistical bureau in the Treasury Department; to dispense with the proof of loyalty in pension cases; admitting Oklahoma to Statehood; providing for a civil government for Alaska.

By Mr. Little, Democrat, of Arkansas, and Mr. Hartman, Republican, of Montana, bills for the free coinage of gold and silver.

Armenian Missionary.

Boston, Dec. 6.—Minister Terrell, according to cablegrams from Constantinople, published a week ago, urged the withdrawal of missionaries of the American board from the interior of Turkey to the seaports. The following letter was received this morning from an missionary of the board explanatory of the situation from the missionary point of view:

"Friends, neighbors and others are always urging the abandonment of these interior posts, but the ladies feel that this is not to be thought of. Our brethren, farther inland, are standing firm; why should not we? The Government authorities give every assurance that whatever happens, the foreigners will be protected. We believe in showing our confidence in these assurances.

"Should we run away, first the very valuable property of our boards would be looted; second, our schools would be dispersed and the work broken up that it has taken so much money, prayer and toil during so many years to build into its present fair proportions; third, the native Christians would be plunged into still deeper distress and terror by the flight of those to whom they naturally look for help, comfort and protection; by the very growth and success of God's work here he has greatly increased our responsibility in this matter; fourth, our presence serves to restrain the bloodthirsty impulses of even the most fanatical Moslems, while we are here they don't dare to act as they otherwise would, nor do their long headed leaders.

"This last reason alone would decide us to stay even to the last degree of risk to ourselves. If we fall martyrs to our desire to prevent horrible massacres, so be it. God has plenty of workers to take our places; never were our schools in more hopeful condition than now. We think it best to continue on quietly with our work; for one thing it has a pacifying effect on the disturbed minds around us. Indeed, there is nothing for us to do, since to send our pupils home would be to expose them to almost certain death.

CHARLIE ROSS' UNCLE DEAD.

Joseph Ross died yesterday in his home, 637 North Sixteenth street, in the 70th year of his age. He is best known as the uncle of Charlie Ross, who was kidnaped in 1874 and for whom he was the most tireless of the many searchers. He was in the dry goods business with Charlie's father, Christian K. Ross, at 304 Market street, at the time of the lad's mysterious disappearance. As a result of the labors of the brothers in endeavoring to find the lost boy it was decided to give up their business. Joseph Ross not long afterward assumed the management of the bath houses at that resort, a post he has held ever since. Two sons and three daughters survive him and his mother, 93 years old, lived in the old homestead at Middleton.

Mr. Ross' wife died two years ago and since then his health has been failing rapidly. It was found last summer that he was suffering from Bright's disease, and for the past month his death has been expected daily. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, interment being made in Laurel Hill cemetery.—Philadelphia Times, Dec. 6th.

Cleveland Will Act.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The declaration of Lord Salisbury to consent to American arbitration in the matter of the Venezuelan boundary dispute will undoubtedly lead to serious international complications, unless the Government of Great Britain shall see to change its course. It is a matter of ascertained fact that the note of Secretary Olney, to which a long delayed reply has been made, was prepared and forwarded to the British Government only after full consideration by the President and Secretary of State. It is known that the note was sent with the determination that it should receive ample respect and serious consideration.

The Congress will be promptly called upon for an expression of opinion. That expression will be promptly given. The temper of the Senators and Representatives is easily ascertained. There is no dissent to the view that the Congress will declare that the occupation of Venezuela soil by Great Britain or any other European nation will be regarded as hostile act by this government. The Monroe doctrine will be enforced by the President; but Congress, being in session, must first give authority for extreme action.

LOUIS SALISBURY'S REPLY.

Received by the British Ambassador at Washington.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Lord Salisbury's reply to Secretary Olney's dispatch, when, according to the President's message, "replied upon the British Government for a definite answer to the question whether it would or whether it would not submit the territorial controversy between itself and Venezuela in its entirety to impartial arbitration," was received by Ambassador Pauncefote this evening. It will be handed to Secretary Olney to-morrow. At the same time that the formal reply was transmitted to the British Ambassador here, another copy, (according to diplomatic custom) was handed to Mr. Bayard, our Ambassador in London, through whom, last July, Secretary Olney's original note was presented to the British Foreign Office, Sir Julian Pauncefote being then absent in England on vacation. This copy was undoubtedly placed in Mr. Bayard's possession some days before the President's message was presented to Congress. It is inconceivable that in a matter of such importance some inkling of its contents should not have been communicated by cable to Secretary Olney prior to the framing of the President's message. Bearing in view this point, the passage in the message in which the President says that the United States will not be "satisfied if one of the powers concerned is permitted to draw an arbitrary line through the territory in doubt, and declare that it will submit to arbitration only the portion lying on one side of it," may be regarded as having much significance. There is a promise in the President's message, that when the text of the answer of the British Government "expected shortly" shall have been received, "further communication on the subject will probably be made to Congress." Of course this cannot be done while the President is absent duck shooting, and the probabilities seem to be that the correspondence will not see the light until after the Christmas holidays, unless it should be made public on the other side of the Atlantic.

The maiden report of Judson Hartman, an Attorney General, containing a review of the operations of the Department of Justice for the last fiscal year, was laid before Congress to-day. It treats at length of the business of the Supreme court of the United States and recommends that, except in capital cases, appeals in criminal matters should not be taken to the Supreme court. To accomplish this result he recommends an amendment of the law so to exclude the words: "Other infamous crimes" from the cases subject to appeal to the highest tribunal and to remit minor cases to the Courts of Appeals. He points out that the words "infamous crimes" have been given a very broad interpretation. The definition, he says, includes all offenses which may be punished by imprisonment at hard labor, or for more than one year without hard labor, whether they are actually so punished or not.

Another recommendation, called out by recent dilatory proceedings in the case of Dr. Buchanan, the New York wife poisoner, and in a number of other notable murder cases.

CLEVELAND HAS A HOLIDAY.

He Leaves on the Tender Maple for a Hunting Trip in North Carolina.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The President left Washington to-night on the light house tender to recuperate from the strain he has been under in the preparation of his message to Congress, on a hunting trip through the North Carolina sounds. With him were Dr. O'Reilly, Commander George P. E. Wilde, Naval Secretary of the Lighthouse Board, and Commander Benjamin P. Lambertson, in charge of the lighthouse district comprising the sounds. The little vessel was well provisioned, and it is likely that if the weather is fair the President will not return to Washington before December 12th or 14th.

The Maple was headed for the mouth of Chesapeake bay just about dusk, and the trip began with a cloudy northwest and a rather raw and biting wind that is commonly regarded as the best possible weather for water fowl in this section.

Somebody may be unkind enough to reminiscence hint that the monitor Ajax going to Jersey is in line with so many of our warships visiting foreign parts. It may also be remarked that Ajax, as of old, defies the Jersey lightning.

GLEANINGS.

Items of Interest Clipped From our State Exchanges.

Statesville Landmark: Of the several hundred school girls at Salem, all have made a profession of religion during this month, as I am informed by Miss Contrace Robbins, who graduated there this year.

Two colored children were burned to death five miles east of Concord Wednesday last week. They were alone in the house, in a cradle before the fire, and it is supposed the clothing in their cradle caught.

Raleigh Press-Visitor: Mrs. E. O. Hunicutt died at her home on East Morgan street this afternoon at 2 o'clock, after a lingering illness. The funeral will be held from the Baptist Tabernacle Saturday at 3 o'clock p. m.

C. C. Smoot, Sons & Co., have closed a contract for the establishing of a $100,000 tannery plant at North Wilkesboro, which will cover 20 acres of land, use 6,000 cords of chestnut oak bark annually and employ a large number of hands.

Payetteville Observer: Work on the Holt cotton factory is progressing rapidly. Over 175,000 brick have already been laid. The C. F. & Y. V. side track to the factory is almost completed. The little army of men are under the direction of Mr. Lane, a well known contractor.

Smithfield Herald: Mr. W. H. Macquard, who lives a few miles below here, died Monday night, age 73 years. He died of pneumonia, and was buried in the cemetery here Tuesday beside some other Confederate soldiers, being a soldier in the late war.

Charlotte Observer: It has been discovered that Conductor Hunt was not foully dealt with, but was killed by striking his head against a mail crane, which knocked him off the car. A little girl who was in the car saw him lean off the platform and look back at a hot box. That was just about day light. She saw him fall, but did not know he had been killed for some days past.

Winston Sentinel: The services that are being conducted by Rev. E. W. Oakes have thus far made a fine impression upon those who have attended them. The evangelist's sermon last night, at the Lutheran church, is spoken of as a superb effort. He did not take to the Supreme service there at 11 o'clock to-day, his subject being "Preparation for Service," selected from the 6th chapter of Isaiah.

North Wilkesboro News: "Bunk" Bledsoe has the contract for delivering a valuable walnut tree at this place. It is the curly variety, and was planted by Shade Calloway 55 years ago, at his home on New River, about 25 miles from Sevierville. A man by the name of Seviere purchased the tree from the Calloways for $11 and sold it to a Northern firm for $125. Bledsoe gets $75 for delivering it here.

RETURNING to the Superior merit of the renowned Buck's Cook stove, which is sold in this city exclusively by Mr. W. H. Huggins, at his popular hardware store, it seems that it is a "winner" everywhere. In Raleigh Messrs. Royall & Borden, Goldsboro's aggressive furniture dealers, have the exclusive sale of the Bucks, and here is what the News and Observer says of a cooking contest in that city similar to the one held by Mr. Huggins here last Saturday: "Messrs. Royall & Borden struck a pretty idea a few days ago. Since Tuesday, a contest has been going on in their store between many little girls of the city, each little girl trying to cook the best biscuits on Buck's stoves, of which Messrs. Royall & Borden are the agents. Yesterday afternoon there were as many as seventy-five little girls at work, and the scene was a bakery scene which was highly amusing. The contest was sharp for all the biscuits were good. But the judges, after long and careful consideration, gave the prize to the one who cooked the Bucks stove, to little Miss Lela Lassiter. Number 46 was the winner, and she turned out to be 46, as the numbers were not known to the judges. By the way, Messrs. Royall & Borden were yesterday a toothsome water of bird on toast and other dainties all cooked on these stoves, which showed that the stove was more than half the battle in a well-cooked meal."

Marvelous Results. From a letter written by Rev. J. Underman of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I freely recommend Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding LaGrippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last for hours with little interruption and it seemed that she could not survive the illness. I procured Dr. King's New Discovery and it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Hill's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Will They Knock At Your Door?

Do you ever think how many changes are taking place around you every day? The world is making history just as it has done for six thousand years. Each man lives in a little world of his own. Matters of trifling importance to him are of great importance to him. The 4th of March, 1893 is a memorable day to Grover Cleveland, because the inauguration of President of the United States on that day. But the 4th of March is just as memorable to the poor widow who that day received from the Home Life Insurance Company of New York, two thousand dollars which cleared away the debts on the little home for which the husband and father had toiled so long, and left besides more than a thousand dollars for protection of her and children. It makes no difference what your financial condition is to-day, the future will bring many changes. No man knows at whose door they will knock. Some of the most successful business men say that life insurance is the best investment for the family. The Home Life is one of the strongest, and best companies and offers all that is good in life insurance. Full information will be cheerfully furnished on application to A. C. You've Had Bought Since the Tariff Went Off

And have no old stock brought over from last year that was bought on a High Tariff Market. Making big profit is no road to big business. There must be satisfaction with the goods, satisfaction with the prices, satisfaction with the wear of the clothes through months of service. It's not enough to make sales to-day. There must be value that will be talked about to friend and neighbor.

I Would Rather Drop Prices Than Customers.

So come round yourself and bring your boys and tell your neighbors to come. I can fit you and suit you all in goods and prices. Respectfully,

Giving Away Money.

Yes; Giving Away Money

Is just what a good many people in Goldsboro are doing. Suppose you go on the street and give a man a dollar. For this dollar you get absolutely nothing in return. On the other hand, suppose you go into a store, pay five dollars for goods, when you can go to another store and purchase for four dollars identically the same quantity of goods, and goods of the best quality, too, are you not giving a dollar to the man in the store, just as you gave a dollar to the man on the street?

We cordially invite you to come to our store, try four goods, compare prices with the prices you have been paying, and find out if you have been giving away money. The great grocery houses of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities are constantly soliciting our trade, and stand ready to fill our orders for all that is good to eat. These immense stores—houses are filled to overflowing with the best from every land and climate, and from them we are daily replenishing our stock.

We have just received an abundant supply of raisins, citron, currants, figs, apples, oranges, mince meat, plum-pudding, buckwheat, flap-jack flour, and many other dainties and delicacies.

For the table, our "Vermont Creamery" Butter and "Flag Marsh" will please your palate and your purse; good cooking butter at 20 cents.

One of the attractions at the Atlanta Exposition is the exhibit of the New Orleans Coffee company. If you go to the exposition, call and try a cup of the celebrated coffee. We are the agents at Goldsboro and invite a trial. Our aim is to do a large business, and make a small profit on each article.
