LOCAL BRIEFS

The farmers say they have never seen a finer stand of cotton than they now have.

More prize houses is one of the needs of Goldsboro's tobacco market. Let us have them.

We are requested to announce that the ordinance in regard to bicycles will be rigidly enforced hereafter.

The three story Komegas building, damaged in the recent fire, will be reduced to two stories, as the repairs go on.

The work of repairing Messrs. Fonville and Bzelli Bros' grocery stores, damaged in the recent fire, is now well under way.

Mr. Robert Ivey, of the White Hall section, tells us that while the fruit crop is badly damaged there will be a fair crop of apples and peaches.

Quite a large number of bales of cotton, suddenly made their appearance on this market Saturday, coming in from the country round about. It sold for 7 1/2 cents.

Mr. Sherwood Hicks, of Richmond, representing the Chicago Portrait company, is in the city. Sherwood is an old Goldsboro boy, and his many friends are always glad to see him.

Our townsman Mr. T. W. Swann says that the plum and peach crop has been greatly damaged by the recent cold snap; but that grapes are thus far uninjured and give promise of an abundant yield.

We publish in this issue a beautiful poem on May from the gifted pen of Goldsboro's talented son, the late, lamented Nixon P. Clingman. We copy it from a file of the old Goldsboro Messenger of May 1882.

The Michie Tobacco Company have received and stored in their smoking tobacco factory in this city 155 hogheads of golden leaf, averaging 1,000 pounds to the hoghead, which they will consume in the manufacture of their noted "Prichard's Pride" smoking tobacco, that is gaining in popularity daily.

Our excellent and popular county treasurer Mr. A. T. Uzell met with a painful fall at his home last Monday by stepping on a loose plank while inspecting some new building he is having done on his premises. We are glad to know that he is able to be "on the go," although he has to walk with a stick.

While at work on the two-story residence that Mr. Elias Cox is erecting for himself, on the corner of John and College streets, Mr. Chas. G. Smith, a carpenter who resides in the northern part of this city, fell from the frame work of the second story to the first, last Thursday and received injuries that will confine him to his home for some days.

Hungary has been making giant strides in the matter of popular education within the past thirty years. As a fair test, the number of conscripts able to read, more than doubled between 1868 and 1880; and the pace has not slackened since. Among the other commemorations of this millennium of existence will be the establishment of 500 new schools.

The old reliable city market of Messrs. S. Cohn & Son, under the Hotel Kennon, on Walnut street, is displaying a full and varied assortment of beef, veal, lamb, mutton, pork, sausage and poultry, and are receiving, we are glad to know, a flood tide of patronage. Their market is handsomely equipped with motor fans, marble counters and a mammoth refrigerator which keeps their meats always in good condition.

Mr. W. P. Campbell, of the Atlantic Hotel at Morehead, is in the city. He says everything is under full headway for the opening of this favorite summer seaside resort on May 15. It is his purpose to keep the Atlantic abreast of every requirement for the comfort and convenience of his guests, and having been so long associated with the Atlantic in the capacity of Chief Clerk, where he made himself a universal favorite, there is no one better qualified to make a satisfactory manager of the Atlantic than Mr. Campbell.

The Michie Tobacco Company is nothing if not enterprising. It offers the fullest line of premiums of any manufacturing establishment of its kind in the whole country—and now it comes to the front with a prize offer for the best poem by July 1st, setting forth the merits of Prichard's Pride smoking tobacco. Here is a chance and an inducement for genius to court the poetic muse and win renown and reward. All poems should be sent in to the Michie Tobacco Company, Goldsboro, N. C., by July 1st, on which date they will be read by a competent committee and the prizes awarded.

The University Catalogue in 1896 shows marked growth in every department of the Institution. One hundred and eighty courses of study are offered in 14 departments. The Law school has 58 students, the Medical school 30, the Summer school for teachers 140, the College 333, making a total of 534 students, taught by 98 professors and instructors.

Free tuition is offered to teachers and candidates for the ministry. Seventy-five endowed scholarships are given to needy boys of talent and character. Sixteen thousand dollars is loaned in small sums to students needing help. For catalogue, write to President Winston, Chapel Hill, N. C.

DEMPSEY SMITH

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Smith, in this city, Thursday night Capt. D. J. Broadhurst, J. P., officiating, Capt. R. R. Dempsey, the efficient and popular superintendent of the local section of track of the W. & W. R. R., and Miss Emily Smith, whose parents recently moved here from Pikeville, where she has a wide circle of admiring friends, were united in the holy bond of wedlock, in the presence of the families and a few immediate friends of the contracting parties.

The Argus wishes the happy young couple the fullest measure of life's joys and prosperity. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey will make their home with the bride's parents or West Centre street.

OUR CITY OFFICIALS.

The new Board of City Aldermen met last Tuesday and organized. They are Messrs. F. K. Borden, J. W. Nash and F. W. Hiker, (dem.) and J. Lewis Payton, (col. rep.) from the First Ward; W. D. Creech, J. A. Washington and W. G. Britt, (dem.) and Bizzell Stevens and Burt Artist, (col. rep.) from the Second Ward.

Mayor Hill presided and the Board announced the following elections for the ensuing year: Clerk—T. H. Bain; Tax Collector—W. Gulick; Chief—A. B. Freeman; First—J. M. Swearingin; Second—B. M. Denmark; Third—F. E. Tudor; Fourth—R. H. Howell; Cart Drivers—E. W. Callock, Jas. Stafford and W. J. Carter; Sexton Willow Dale Cemetery—R. S. Tudor; Street Hand—Levi Combs; City Physician—Dr. W. H. Cobb, Jr.; City Treasurer—F. M. Miller; Chief of Fire Department—W. P. Grainger. The Board then adjourned.

A PRESENT NEED

In view of the fact that Goldsboro is to have another mammoth tobacco warehouse, the construction of which is to begin at an early day, no time should be lost in getting commensurate prize houses under way to meet the requirements of the tobacco buyers. Without sufficient prize houses we cannot expect Goldsboro—no matter how many sales warehouses we may construct—to attract buyers to our market and without buyers we can do nothing.

It behooves our wide awake and progressive business men, to get together and secure the early establishment of more prize houses. The tobacco buyers are now prospecting as to where they will locate for the coming tobacco marketing seasons and determining their locations, and they will not come to Goldsboro unless they can be assured of prize house accommodations—and the best way to assure them of this is to show them the prize houses. Where are they?

GOOD FOR EVERYBODY

And everyone needs it at all times of the year. Malaria is always about, and the only preventive and relief is to keep the Liver active. You must keep the Liver active, and the best helper is the Old Friend, SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR, THE RED Z. Mr. C. Himrod, of Lancaster, Ohio, says: "SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR broke a case of Malarial Fever of three years' standing for me, and less than one bottle did the business. I shall use it when in need, and recommend it."

NEWS FROM CUBA.

Trial of the Men Captured on the Competitor.

Findings of the Court-Martial to be Submitted to the Government at Madrid.

Havana, May 8.

At 8 o'clock this morning a court-martial opened at the arsenal here for the trial of the men who were captured by a Spanish warship on the alleged filibustering schooner Competitor, belonging to Key West. The prisoners were Alfredo Labored, born in New Orleans; Owen Milton of Kansas; William Kinca, an Englishman, and Elias Bedia and Teodoro Maza, both Cubans. Capt. Ruiz acted as president of the court, which consisted of nine other military and naval officers. All the accused pleaded not guilty.

Several witnesses admitted that when the men were captured they were not armed and offered no resistance. Despite this fact, however, the prosecutor, Lieut. Suarez, asked the court martial to convict the prisoners of filibustering and to impose the death sentence upon all of them.

Counsel for the defence made a review of the evidence and demanded the acquittal of a zaza. He argued eloquently against the others being sentenced to death and declared that the evidence showed that mercy should be extended to them.

The court-martial has as yet rendered no judgment. It is said that its findings will be submitted for approval to the Government at Madrid. During the course of the proceedings a letter was read from the American Consul General, Ramon O. Williams, protesting against the trial. Mr. Williams abstained from attending the court-martial.

Gen. Linares reports that his command has succeeded in dislodging the forces of Jose Maceo, in the entrenched camp occupied by them in the province of Sancti Spiritus. In the fighting that took place before the rebels retreated, seventeen of the insurgents were killed. The troops, according to the report, lost only two killed and seven wounded.

How To Treat a Wife.

Fist, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore carry home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best, and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by M. E. Robinson & Bro., druggists.

A SONG OF MAY.

BY THE LATE NIXON P. CLINGMAN.

With sunlit brow and eager feet,
A passion-eyed the rosy May Sweeps from the South, full fair and sweet.

And across her laces on the way—
For 't is her gracious hands that fell Rare sheaves of scented buds and dew-drops—
While motiled thrush and ring-dove
Their greetings from the forest
glooms.

In belts of gold the armored bees,
From flushing dawn till evening's glean
Dunk with the sweets of flowering leas.
Reel with their honeyed conquests
home,
And clouds of bright-winged butterflies
Are flashing through the dewful air.
As fall on every lonesome lea.
A poem May has penned there.

The vocal streams whose depths reveal
Glad visions of those perfect days,
Like silver songs thro' woodlands steal
In one triumphant psalm of praise:
As flow and swirl and sparkle
In meads of green, where lovers stroll:
Within whose symbols we may learn
The legend of the human soul.

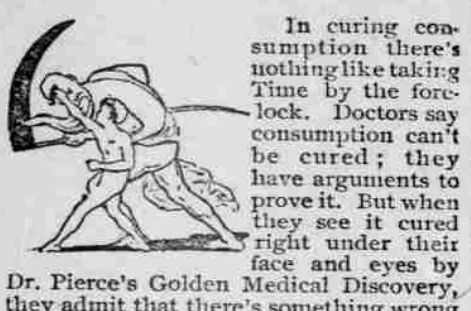

A symphony 'mid groves where rest
The shrouded dead, who sleep for aye.
She hymns, and lo! on earth are pressed
The garlands of the fresh young May:
Of all the year the capricious Queen,
To these we loyal tribute pay:
We love thy moods—thy shade, thy shen—
And grieve for thee, when gone,
sweet May.

A sense of worship fills the soul,
Our hearts with higher yearnings
beat,
When nature wins her farthest goal,
And we behold her thus complete.
Be thou a type, O! perfect May,
Of peace beyond, and bid us feel
That when life's winter drifts away,
Spring will us in the Land of Ideal
Goldsboro, N. C., May 1, 1882.

FOR FACTS ABOUT THE FUTURE.

For more than a quarter of a century this country—the world, in fact—has been making strides in industrial expansion following the railroad era, the dawn of which, as a factor in human progress, was scarcely more than a generation ago.

While readers of the Manufacturers' Record in general are familiar with the fact that an unusually large number of cotton mills have been constructed in South Carolina, the actual figures, as indicated by reports filed with the secretary of State, are truly surprising. Since January of the present year fifteen different plants have been projected in that State in as many different towns. While they are not large, the combined capital being but a little over $1,000,000, they strikingly indicate the interest which has been taken in the textile industry by the people in the State, and the confidence that they have in its future prosperity. Most of the mills in question will be constructed by some capital.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

In curing consumption (wasting) and other wasting diseases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only remedy that can be relied upon. It is a blood-purifier and a blood-maker. It gives the blood-making functions power to produce a large quantity of the nourishing red corpuscles which make healthy, strong blood. It stops the wasting; drives out the impurities; heals the ulceration and begins a rapid building process, of solid, substantial flesh and vital energy.

It is not only consumptives who need the "Discovery." It cures every form of chronic blood-disease and all scrofulous and eruptive affections.

MR. ISAAC E. DOWNS, of Spring Valley, Rock Hill, S. C., writes: "For three years I had suffered from that terrible disease, consumption, and heart disease. Before taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I had wasted away to a skeleton; could not sleep for rest, and my times were so bad that I could not even step by step, the signs and realities of returning health. I had tried every other medicine, and while taking the 'Discovery,' today I tip the scales at one hundred and eighty-seven, and am well and strong. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' has also cured the daughter of a very bad ulcer located on the thigh. After trying almost every other remedy without success, she purchased three bottles of your 'Discovery,' which healed it perfectly."

ISAAC E. DOWNS

While readers of the Manufacturers' Record in general are familiar with the fact that an unusually large number of cotton mills have been constructed in South Carolina, the actual figures, as indicated by reports filed with the secretary of State, are truly surprising. Since January of the present year fifteen different plants have been projected in that State in as many different towns. While they are not large, the combined capital being but a little over $1,000,000, they strikingly indicate the interest which has been taken in the textile industry by the people in the State, and the confidence that they have in its future prosperity.

CAPITAL IN INDUSTRIES.

It is needless to say that there is a large amount of idle money in the South to-day, which will be placed not only in cotton mills, but in many other factories, as soon as those who control the funds feel confident that such industries will be successful. The South really needs little outside capital to greatly increase the number of its manufacturing plants. It has the money within its boundaries. Of course Southern people are not adverse to the investment of Northern capital, but it is to be feared that too often this is so much thought of that the question of investing home money, if it may be termed such, it almost disappears. South Carolina people are teaching the residents of other States a lesson in this regard which should be heeded.—Baltimore Manufacturers' Record.

Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liveryman and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by M. E. Robinson & Bro., druggists."

Mrs. Amelia E. Barr says she once wrote a poem every week for eight years for a New York periodical. There is no good reason why she might not have written a poem every day for the same period—that is, a poem of the kind she writes.

Keep a sharp eye on Br'er McKinley and that alleged boycott of him by the A. P. A.? It will be time enough to credit him with lack of love for the descriptive order when he says so over his own signature. Up to the present time he has contented himself with denying that he is a member.

Mr. Jas. Andrew has the veteran miner, J. F. Kerr, and a force of hands at work developing his gold mines on Cane Creek. Mr. Kerr tells us that he is finding much fine free gold and that the mine is a very rich one.

Concord Standard: There died at the county poor house yesterday a woman who thirty years ago wore silks and satins and looked from her carriage window as it rolled by her broad acres of fertile soil at the dozens of slaves who moved at her beck. Her name was Mrs. Rebecca McNeely, and her life for the past twenty years has been a struggle and a hopeless, crushing sorrow. Before the war she owned hundreds of acres in Rowan county and she lived in luxury. But with the defeat of the Confederacy, came adversities in fortune and year after year her remaining pittance dwindled away. Mrs. McNeely had no relatives in the county save one married daughter who lived near her old home at Mill Bridge.

Newbern Journal: In the trial of Mr. M. R. Howard, of this city, and Mr. R. S. Mehane, of Greensboro, for an affray Thursday morning before Mayor Ellis, the former was acquitted, it being shown that he acted simply on the defensive. Not a particle of evidence was given to show that any deadly weapon had been seen in Mr. Mehane's possession. One physician, the first who saw Mr. Howard's wound testified that they were undoubtedly made by some instrument, another testified, that they might have been made by the hand by repeated blows but not by a single one. Mr. Mehane was found guilty of a simple assault and fined five dollars and costs.
