LOCAL BRIEFS.

THE aged Mrs. J. J. Baker continues very ill, we regret to chronicle.

Mr. Erastus Edwards is now recovering from his recent attack of illness.

Mr. W. U. Underhill is having a second story added to his store room and dwelling at the northern extremity of East Centre street.

MRS. W. M. Uiley, of Raleigh, is in the city, visiting her daughter Mrs. W. W. Williams, who we are sorry to know is confined to her home by fever illness.

MR. I. B. Fonvielle has returned from his health and pleasure trip to the seacoast in Onslow county, and his many friends will learn with pleasure that he is much improved.

FOR the meeting of the North Carolina State Farmers' Alliance at Hillsboro tickets can be purchased on August 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 at $4.25 for the round trip, with final limit to August 20.

MR. J. W. Saddle, the superintendent of Emanes Sunday school, informs the ARGUS that the school has recently purchased a new organ that has been placed in position at the church.

THOSE who wish to attend the annual meeting of the Society of Friends at High Point can purchase tickets on August 4, 5, 6 and 7 at $6.35 for the round trip, good to return until August 17.

THE handsome sword that was made a birthday present to Capt. T. H. Bain by the members of the Goldsboro Rifles at their public exercises on Thursday night is on exhibition at the jewelry store of Mr. R. A. Orzech.

MR. S. M. J. Cohencius, the popular proprietor of the widely patronized "Red Star Clothing" in this city, has returned home from an extended trip north, where he made extensive purchases of goods for the Fall trade.

THE news comes from Grantham's township that at a revival service of late in Eureka church, on the South side of the river, 85 new names have been added to the church membership, and it is almost an assured fact that the number will reach 100 before the meeting closes to-morrow night.

THE trouble between some of the weavers at the Wayne Cotton Mill and its managers was the former's objection to a deduction from their wages of fines imposed for turning out defective goods. Before they would allow the enforcement of such rules some half a dozen or more weavers quit work on Wednesday. They went back again yesterday morning, but their places had been filled, and now the unsubmitive weavers are out of employment.

MR. R. H. Smith, superintendent of the Wayne Cotton Mill, says that their pay roll amounts to $200.00 per week; that the average pay of all employees, children included, is $4.50 per week; that good weavers make from $8 to $9 per week; that girls from 12 to 14 years of age get 64 cents a day, and that children who had never seen a cotton mill before are making 40 cents per day. Mr. Smith says that his company are paying as much for help as any mill in North Carolina.

A PROPOSITION has been submitted by the Street and Light Committee of the Board of Aldermen and accepted by Mr. S. F. Alden, the manager of the Goldsboro Electric Light Company, by which the city will continue to be lighted for a period of twelve months at the same figures that have previously been paid. The Board of Aldermen have voted to have an expert come and examine the condition and appraise the worth of the electric light plant with a view to purchasing it. The terms of the new contract are such as not to prohibit the purchase of the plant should the city decide to do so.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. ### "AS YOU LIKE IT."

Specially Selected for Argus Readers for Sunday Reading and Daily Guidance.

"There is no darkness, but ignorance."

Even in war moral power is to physical as three parts out of four.—Napoleon.

Heroism always feels and never reasons, and therefore is always right.—Emerson.

It is impossible to mentally soocially enslave a Bible-reading people.—Horace Greeley.

Unless your way is the Lord's way it would be a calamity for you to have your own way.

What Christ's prayer was all true prayers must be. You must pray with the great prayer in sight.

I dread the white man's drink more than all the assegaits of my enemies.—King Khama (African Chief).

Everybody says that gentle birth is an accident, and every body treats it as an achievement.—Walter Besant.

I should be virtuous for my own sake though nobody were to know it, just as I would be clean for my own sake though nobody were to see me.—Shaf-tesbury.

If you must form harsh judgments, form them of yourself, not of others; and, in general, begin by attending to your own deficiencies. If every one would sweep up his own walk we would have clean streets.

Hold fast to love. If men wound your heart, let them not sour or embitter it; let them not shut up or narrow it; let them only expand it more and more, and be always able to say, with St. Paul, "My heart is enlarged."—F. W. Robertson.

"If ever life should seem To thee a wilderness way, And gladness cease to beam Upon its clouded day; If, like the weary dove, O'er shoreless ocean driven, Raise thou thine eyes above— There's rest for thee in Heaven."

Duty is measured by chance, and yet the essential idea of duty is never weakened. I am bound to do less than you, but I am just as surely bound to do my little as you are to do your much.—Philips Brooks.

Another body, another life, another environment! That is what the soul has prophesied for itself as a consequence of God's goodness and wisdom. And then comes ringing through the ages the Voice which checks our tears at a separation and transmits them into the hope of reunion, saying, I go to prepare a place for you.—George H. Hepworth.

I never yet knew any man so bad, but some have thought him honest and afforded him love; nor ever any so good, but some have thought him evil and hated him. Few are so stigmatical as that they are not honest to some; and few, again, are so just, as that they seem not to some unequal; either the ignorance, the envy, or the partiality of those that judge, do constitute a various.—Feltham.

Mrs. Rhodie Nash, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea, but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by M. E. Robinson & Bros.

GOOD FOR EVERYBODY

and everyone needs it at all times of the year. Malaria is always about, and the only preventive and relief is to keep the liver active. You must help the liver a bit, and the best helper is the Old Friend, SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR, the RED Z. Mr. C. Himrod, of Lancaster, Ohio, says: "SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR broke a case of Malarial Fever of three years' standing for me, and less than one bottle did the business. I shall use it when in need, and recommend it." Be sure that you get it. Always look for the RED Z on the package. And don't forget the word REGULATOR. It is SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR, and there is only one, and every one who takes it is sure to be benefited. THE BENEFIT IS ALL IN THE REMEDY. Take it also for Biliousness and Sick Headache; both are caused by a sluggish liver.

THE COTTON OUTLOOK.

While the weather for the past two or three weeks has been decidedly disagreeable to humanity it has proved of immense benefit to crops, especially cotton. The succession of very warm days and nights after a season of heavy rains has made cotton grow like magic. Reports from all parts of the south show that the crop is in beautiful condition and indicate a very heavy yield. It is doubtful if the cotton crop was ever before in so promising a condition at this season. Several bales have already been marketed in Georgia and picking is becoming quite general in the southwest.

The New Orleans Picayune, which is excellent authority on the subject, gives the following comments on the cotton situation:

The splendid promises of the crop has been noted by the trade from the very start, and prices have gradually declined, thus discounting in advance the size of the yield. With spot cotton now at 6 1/2-cents, and fall contracts practically at 6, cents, it is a question whether or not the yield has not been already discounted fully.

The new season promises to open with general stocks considerably shorter than they have been in several years; hence, at anything like 6 cents per pound foreign spinners are likely to take a very large amount during the early part of the season. Six-cent cotton would be fairly satisfactory conditions, as the crop has been economically grown and the coast of marketing promises to be less during the coming year than ever before. The South now produces much more of the products it consumes than it ever did before, and agriculturally speaking, it is now independent of other sections of the country. Cotton is more a surplus crop than it ever was; hence the prospect of 6 cents, which five years ago would have meant ruin, now has no serious terrors for the southern farmers.

There can be no question but that the South is destined to supply the world with practically all the cotton it needs, and to grow the staple at a price with which no other producing country can hope to compete. With cotton as a surplus crop practically, and with southern farmers in a position to produce their own supplies, the South need have no fear of any competition.

Although every thing looks rosy for the cotton crop at the present time, bad weather from the Gulf of Mexico may curtail the ultimate yield, and an unfavorable picking season meaning the loss of hundreds of thousands of bales. It is, therefore, not safe to confidently count on low prices for the coming season, particularly as many believe that the decline which has already taken place has fully discounted a very large yield.

We hope our contemporary is correct in its opinion that the large yield has probably been fully discounted. It is certainly right in saying that 6 cent cotton is now quite a different thing from what it was a few years ago and in the opinion that the South is in no danger of losing its position as the main source of the world's cotton supply.

The happiness of married life depends on the wife's health oftener than on any other one consideration. An ailing woman is a source of discontent to herself and a burden to her husband. Women by taking more interest in their own physical condition would lay the best foundation for married happiness and every other happiness.

More than half the suffering which afflicts women is directly traceable to some disorder of the organs distinctly feminine. There is no real need of any of the "female" medicines advertised by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which reaches and strengthens the internal generative organs as no other treatment can possibly do. By restoring health and strength to this most important part of the feminine constitution, the "Favorite Prescription" gives new tone and energy to all the rest of the body.

One of the most deeply interesting and truly educative books ever written is the "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consultant, Physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, N. Y. This splendid volume of 1008 pages, includes 2000 pages of questions and answers peculiar to women, with directions for home treatment, rendering unnecessary the expense of "examinations," and generally useless "local treatment," so dreaded by modest women. The book contains the most comprehensive explanation of human physiology and the rational principles of hygiene ever published. Illustrated with over 200 engravings—a complete medical library in one volume. No other medical book in the English language ever had such an enormous sale. 650,000 copies were sold at $1.50 each. Dr. Pierce is now distributing a new free edition of his "Common Sense Medical Adviser." A copy will be sent absolutely free to anyone who will send to the World's Dispensary, 210 North Second Street, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. The present edition is in all respects the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that it is bound in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL.

The great benefit of such an institution to a community as the Emergency Hospital of this city, can never be adequately appreciated, although its beneficent advantages at times assert themselves to the saving of life that would otherwise go out in poverty and along avenues of exquisite pain, that are now soothed and alleviated by willing hands and efficient medical skill in this meritorious institution in our midst, that is supported by the charity of the community and attended in turn by the physicians of the city. Its great advantage was never more strikingly illustrated than by a case now within its walls. A poor lady who has been a great sufferer from ovarian tumor, and who had been reduced to death's door was brought here last week from Johnston county. Dr. Jas. Spricer, who has achieved such merited distinction for his successful and difficult surgical operations performed this deft and delicate operation assisted by other physicians, and the lady is now, after several days, making the most satisfactory progress towards ultimate restoration to her wonted vigor.
