GOLDSBORO, N. C., THURSDAY FEBRUARY 11, 1897.

NO 124

LOCAL BRIEFS

The several sick people of our city make slow headway towards recovery; but it is gratifying to be able to state that they are all thought to be improving.

EVERY truck farmer in this vicinity is now on a big hustle, getting his seed in the ground. Yet a few weeks and these same seed will be carpeting the fields in the green garb of Spring.

Mr. C. H. Abbott, of Wilmington, who makes regular business visits to our city in tuning and repairing pianos and organs, and is favorably known here, is spending a few days in the city at this time.

The Valentine festival approaches. But the glad season of love missives does not seem to be as much indulged in hereabouts as formerly. Can it be that young hearts are not so wooing as of yore, or that love is taking to itself wings?

The death of Mr. Jesse Hardy, the aged father of Mr. Dal Hardy and Mrs. Wm. Hunter, occurred Friday morning at his home, in Dover, after a lingering illness, after several weeks. He had a wide circle of acquaintances throughout Eastern North Carolina, who held him in highest esteem for the exemplary life that he led and who will deeply mourn his death.

Dr. J. M. Hadley, of LaGrange, was in the city last week and brings good reports from the farmers across the border of Wayne to the east. Dr. Hadley is himself, though a resident of the city of LaGrange and a practicing physician of extensive territory, interested in farming and makes a success of diversified crops. He last week sold for a Virginia dealer thirty-nine head of fine cattle from off his stock range.

The marriage of Mr. Joe Lane, of the firm of Taylor & Lane, timers, and Miss Rachel Parrior, occurred last week in this city at the residence of Mrs. L. H. Carr, a sister of the bride, and was witnessed by a number of invited guests. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Long, of the First Baptist Church. The happy young couple, have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long life of happiness and prosperity, will leave to-morrow to visit the bride's relatives in Duplin county, after which they will return and make their home in this city.

The marriage of Mr. W. T. Johnson, brother of Mr. Richard Johnson, cotton weaver of this city, and Miss Lou Batting, occurred Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, in Nabuta township, and the bridal party left immediately for the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson, in Fork township, where there was an elegant supper served to a number of invited guests, and a general good time prevailed until a late hour at night. All happiness and prosperity to the happy couple, is the wish of their many friends.

There is on exhibition at M. E. Castex & Co's. in this city some specimens of art in oil painting on canvas that are marvels of beauty both in conception and execution. There are portrait paintings, also, pictures of several well known individuals, one of Mr. Isham Faison, of Faison, in particular, that are as near perfect in representation of life as it seems to us possible. These paintings are the work of Mrs. M. McD. Williams, nee Miss Mary Lyde Hicks, an artist, who is not only an artist but a genius as well. It is a treat to look upon them and our readers will be well repaid for a visit to see them. They will be on exhibition for only a day or so.

My son, follow not in the footsteps of a loafer, and make no example of him who is born tired, for verily, I say unto you, business is overstocked, the seats on the corners are all taken, and the whittling places are all occupied. It is better to saw wood at two bits a cord than to whittle in a loafing match and "cuss" the government.

My son while thou hast left in thy skull the sores of a jay bird, break away from the cigarette habit, for lo, thy breath stinketh like a glue factory, and thy whole appearance is less intelligent than a store dummy, and, moreover, thy existence will be cut off from the earth as the tobacco worm that abides in the path traversed by the turkey.

REMEYI.

After fourteen years, the great violinist again delights a Goldsboro audience. Daily Argus last Friday.

The largest audience of the season greeted the great violinist Remyeni in the Messenger Opera House last night. It has been fourteen years since he last stood upon the stage before a Goldsboro audience, and in that time he has toured the world over, swaying the multitudes of all nations, climes and tongues with the witchery of his master bow and fathomless violin, that seeks to utter all the feelings of the soul and dies in music with the tale untold.

As one watches the old man as he fondly poises his violin and draws the bow of inspiration across its perfectly attuned strings, it is not hard to imagine all the moods of the ages thronging around this "magic cell" of sweetest music, filling the brain of the master player with conceptions divine and giving to his bow the power to voice them in harmonies sublime.

Indeed, there is only one Remyeni. He was born for the violin and the violin was made for him. "There are others"—and will be others, but there is only one Remyeni.

But Remyeni is not the only attraction of his concert. His pianist, Miss Florida Parsons, is as much a master of that instrument as he is of the violin. Her very attitude as she sits at the instrument is a poem of natural grace, while her playing is like an ideal day in June—rare and beautiful and altogether indescribable.

Miss Florence Adler, the soprano, rivals both the violin and the piano in the master hands of the other two and carries off all the works of man, and wafts the souls of her audience on ecstatic wings far up among the realms where music had its source and beauty, purity and truth abide.

An Excellent Judge

The Wilson Superior Court is in session, His Honor Judge Robinson presiding. His charge to the Grand Jury on Monday made a deep and profound impression, and won the warmest approbation. It was not only an able and learned and elaborate dissertation upon the criminal law, but it was a fine intellectual feast, full of high thoughts and noble sentiments and loftiest patriotism, and all this couched in the most ornate diction, and glowing here and there with the thrilling fires of an electrifying oratory. And his rulings and judgments and bearings all through the week have been just, wise, discreet, and without one vulnerable point for adverse criticism. And above all could be heard the music of a big heart, grandly strung, and with every note in sweetest rhythm to the noblest promptings of the human bosom.

H. B. Wilson, N. C., Feb. 4, '97.

Some People's Folly.

Why some persons will suffer with the excruciating pangs of rheumatism, when they can be so easily cured by that greatest of pain-cures, Salvation Oil, is past human comprehension. That Salvation Oil does cure rheumatism is evidenced by Mr. G. F. Schrader, Pierce, Neb., who says: "I have used Salvation Oil and think there is no liniment on earth like it. I had the rheumatism for several months and could get no relief until I used Salvation Oil, two bottles of which effected a cure, and I feel as well as ever. No home should be without it." Salvation Oil is sold everywhere for 25 cents. When dealers offer a substitute beware, you'll be victimized. Insist on having the best, Salvation Oil.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

C., Feb. 2.—Bill were introduced in the Senate to stimulate local taxes in rural districts; to prohibit sale of immoral and obscene literature in the State; to protect the State from fevers by prohibiting sale of second-hand clothing; to prohibit sale of liquor unless under police supervision; to amend the act establishing a Railway Commission; to increase the duties of the Railway Commission in relation to the Interstate Commerce Commission; to increase the public school fund from fees in the Secretary of State's office; to authorize mayors of towns to solemnize the marriage ceremony; to consolidate school districts nineteen and twenty in Wilson county; to increase the public school fund in the State.

The bill to change the line between Chatham and Alamance counties by restoring to Chatham the land taken from her and given to Alamance by the Legislature of 1895, passed second reading.

House bill requesting Gov. Russell to ascertain the salaries of railway officials, was placed on the calendar.

Bills were introduced in the House to prohibit fish traps in Nense river; to provide that the existence of life estate in any land shall not be a bar to the sale for partition of such land; to allow Richmond county to issue bonds for floating debt; to allow Cumberland county to hire out convicts.

A bill passed amending the act creating a colored Normal School at Fayetteville and naming as new trustees and managers, R. P. Baxton, F. P. Williston, D. A. Bryant, Nicholas Brown and Jas. R. Deal, who shall have full control and appoint principal and teachers, that school to have its pro rata share of all school money from any source, and shall not be removed from Fayetteville.

The bill to amend the law as to the registration of pharmacists was taken up. It provides that the word "Registered" be stricken out and the word "Licensed" take its place. Hancock said the bill was for the purpose of saving the trouble of sending to the secretary of the State Association to see whether the druggist was registered or not; that if a druggist was indicted that was necessary. The bill applies to towns of five hundred or upward. The bill passed its several readings.

The bill to amend the charter of Edenton, dividing the town into seven wards instead of four, and to elect the chief of police, passed.

The bill amending the charter of the Raleigh and Gaston Railway, by allowing the straightening of curves, passed.

Mr. Hauser asked leave to have the Senate's free silver instruction resolutions placed on the calendar. He made a motion to suspend the rules. The Democrats voted aye and the Republicans no. The motion was lost.

A bill to regulate the assignment law, forbidding preferences, was tabled.

A bill passed amending the charter of the Fayetteville & Albemarle Railroad, changing the names of the incorporators and allowing five years in which to begin work.

Governor Russell refused to interfere with the sentence of Monroe Johnson, who is to be hanged in Charlotte Monday.

The directors of the North Carolina Railroad met here today. Only routine business was transacted. They meet again in the morning. Ex-President Alexander says no action will be taken regarding the lease.

A short session of the House was held to-night. A bill allowing Craven county to issue $35,000 in bonds and exempting from poll tax active firemen of Wilmington.

Raleigh, N. C., February 3.—Senator Butler arrived this morning. He is here to take charge of the majority Populists, and see that there is no more warring. Congressman Skinner boasted last night that Butler was destroyed and his party "guttered." Every element in the State antagonistic to Butler is now being rallied here in a supreme effort to crush him. It is the purpose to get a majority of the Populist legislators against Butler so as to prevent the minority from being called bolters. They hate this word and say it puts them in the public pillory.

The legislative committees last night heard at great length argument for and against the establishment of a liquor dispensary in Vance county, and agreed

WARNING.

We want to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made, Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zeilin & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Beware of fact well known, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Diseased Liver.

Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

unanimously to report it favorably.

The enrolling clerk, Swinson, a Populist, who refused to take negroes and assistant clerks, sticks out stoutly. As yet the Republican caucus, despite threats to discipline him, has taken no further action than to make a demand on him. He will not accept the negroes save by order of the legislature. The Republican machine has put his office under watch, so to speak.

There was quite a dramatic scene in the supreme court room this afternoon at a session of the judiciary committee, the occasion being the discussion of the impeachment of Judge Norwood. The latter was present, but made no remark and did not remain long.

James M. Moody made remarks in his favor and stated that Norwood would give a pledge that he would keep sober and that his wife would accompany him and keep him so. Moody also said that Norwood would place his written resignation in the hands of Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, it to take effect the moment he again became intoxicated. Speaker Blackburn made a strong plea for mercy for the judge.

Ex-Judge Boykin made an eloquent and touching speech, saying he spoke simply as a friend of Norwood, of whom he spoke of in the highest terms, saying he was an able judge, a good lawyer and an upright man, and that if at any time he violated the relations between himself and the committee his resignation became operative; that this was a guarantee by Norwood's wife and friends, that Norwood ought to be given a chance to restore himself to the confidence of the people of his State. In conclusion Boykin said: "Be merciful to him, for he stands sorely in need of mercy. Give him opportunity to reassert himself."

Reynolds spoke for Norwood and urged the committee to avoid until Saturday week.

It was finally decided by the committee to dispose of the matter to-morrow afternoon. Many prominent persons heard the argument before the committee.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 4.—The Committee on Elections submitted a report in the Mecklenburg contest in favor of seating Clinton and Williamson, the contestants.

Mr. Duffy submitted a minority report in favor of Reed and Ransom, Democrats.

Bills were introduced in the House as follows:

To protect insect-eating birds; providing that the presiding officer appoint a special committee of three to which all bills relative to the Code Commission be referred; resolution to request the bars of University to report as required by law; to provide for and promote the oyster industry of North Carolina; to prevent running at large of live stock in Cross Creek township, Cumberland; to amend the charter of Columbus Company; to repeal charter of Jamesville & Washington Railway.

The bill to protect the lives of railway passengers provides that any person who places any obstruction on a railway track with the intention to wreck or damage a train, upon conviction, will be imprisoned in the penitentiary for life. If loss of life results the guilty party shall suffer death. Any person who makes an attempt is to be imprisoned not less than five nor more than thirty years.

Cook opened the argument in the Mecklenburg contest case.

Both sides were allowed an hour and a half. Duffy, Reed and Ransom spoke for the minority report. Blackburn and Cook spoke against it. The vote to adopt the minority report was, yeas, 32, nays, 72. The majority report was adopted by a vote of 71 to 32. Clinton and Williamson came forward and were administered the oaths of office by the Speaker.

Bills were introduced in the Senate as follows: To create the office of State Printer; to establish and incorporate the State Veterinary Association; to regulate the practice of medicine; in regard to baggage on railroads; relating to way of errors, to amend the law relating to divorces, providing that the party who desires divorce must be a resident of the State for seven years before applying for same, to regulate the sale of fertilizer in this State; to investigate the complaint of Mrs. P. B. Arrington.

Senator Maxwell presented a memorial from Mrs. P. B. Arrington, alleging that she had for twenty years persistently sought her rights in the courts of the State but had been defeated and defrauded by perjury of witnesses and wrong and fraudulent doings of clerks of courts and attorneys, and she asked relief from the General Assembly.

The following bills passed third reading—To allow commissioners of Robeson to levy a special tax; to extend the stock law in Wayne; to exempt funeral directors from jury duty; to pay venues in capital cases one dollar a day, mileage not included.

The following bills were tabled: To regulate term of office of magistrates in Beaufort; relating to corporations; to enforce ordinances in towns and cities; to establish scales of fees for registers of deeds; to prevent discrimination against different kinds of money, authorizing county commissioners to appoint time and places for sale of property under process of law; to pension all ex-slaves who served in the Confederate army; to prevent the penitentiary from hiring out convicts in competition with free labor; to amend the homestead law to make witness tickets negotiable to increase the public school fund and extend time of teaching.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 5.—Governor Russell will transmit a message to the Legislature this evening on the new lease of the North Carolina road, embodying President Heflin's (of the Seaboard Air Line) letter for the lease of the North Carolina road at ten per cent. per annum for a period of 20 years.

The conference committees of the Republicans and the minority Populists were in session until a late hour last night engaged in the delightful occupation of parcelling out the pie. Two changes were made in the division, as published in the Star Thursday. The Republicans took the Eastern Asylum at Goldsboro and the Populists the Eastern Judgeship. This action was taken by the Populists for Walter Henry's benefit.

The penitentiary is still causing much dissatisfaction among the loving admirers and followers of Senator Pritchard. Broker and Abernathy, members of the Populist conference committee, voted against the committee report giving the Republicans the penitentiary. The Populists seem bent on having the penitentiary.

Major Grant will introduce a resolution in the Senate to-day providing for the appointment of a steering committee of three, who shall prepare a calendar and map out a programme of legislation and no bill or resolution shall take preference to those on the calendar as prepared by the steering committee. Representative Hancock says the same thing will be done in the House.

It can be readily imagined that the object of this appointment of the steering committee is to rush through partisan legislation. All bills which make a change in the law will be given preference.

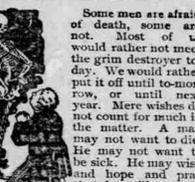

Marshall Mott and some other Republicans are red hot because of the tardiness of the conference committees in parcelling out the offices.

Governor Russell will in all probability make reply to the attack made on him by Senator Butler.

Some men are afraid of death, some are not. Most of us would rather meet the grim destroyer to-day. We would rather put it off until to-morrow or until next year. Merit wishes do not count for much in the matter. A man may not want to die, he may not want to be sick. He may wish and hope and pray that he will not be sick, nor meet death, but wishing and hoping won't help him. It is what he does, and not what he wishes that serve his purpose. If a man is losing flesh, and is nervous, irritable, sleepless and debilitated, he may wish he would get well, but one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do more than an ocean of wishes. If a man is on the way to consumption, he should make a stop as quickly as possible. He should put on brakes. He need not be afraid he has consumption if he will do the right thing—if he will just take the right medicine. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures indigestion and well developed consumption. Consumption is a germ disease and a blood disease. The "Golden Medical Discovery" kills the germs and purifies the blood. It increases the appetite, helps digestion, makes assimilation perfect, and so builds up solid, wholesome flesh. Hundreds of grateful people afflicted with consumption, bronchial, throat and kindred diseases, have testified that it has actually saved their lives. For the sake of the information they contain, some of these letters have been included in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a thousand page illustrated book, which will be sent free on receipt of twenty-one (21) one-cent stamps to pay for mailing only. Every family should have a copy for ready reference in case of sudden sickness or accidents. World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

The only remedy for sin is the blood of Jesus Christ.

"There is none righteous, no, not one."—Psalm of David.

Too many men pray for dying grace. What we need is living grace.

Sin is like a coal of fire hidden in a silk robe. It will burn its way out sure.

"Take heed lest by any means this liberty (or power) of yours become a stumbling block to them that are weak."—Paul to the Corinthians.

Many a man has fallen short of Heaven because of the unchristian example of some church member. He that causeth his brother to stumble is himself in danger.

A little boy who had disobeyed and played outside the gate was sitting gloomily by the fire of a pleasant room. Presently he looked up into his mother's face and, bursting into tears, he cried out: "Mamma, I lost all the happy out of my heart while I was playing in the street." This is but the experience of older children who stray away from the teachings of our Heavenly Father. How many of us have found after indulging in some form of sin, that we have "lost all this happy out of our heart."

God never made an unnecessary promise, nor one He is not willing to fulfill to the utmost.

The sin of angels turned them into devils. What may we expect it to do for man?

"Watch therefore, for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come."—Word of All Truth.

Sin brings not only bodily death, (Gen. ii:17) but spiritual death, (Eph. ii:1) and eternal death. (Rom. vi:23 and Rev. xx)

Go with me to the pyramids and view the remains of a man who has been dead a thousand years. Come with me to the tomb and look upon the face of him who died a year ago, and then we will look into the face of him who but a moment ago was in life. All are dead. Is one more dead than the other? Here is the deep-deyed sinner, the moderate sinner and the moral man. Neither of them knew Christ as a Saviour. All are dead in sin. Is one more dead than the other?

GLEANINGS

Items of Interest Clipped From our State Exchanges.

Laurinburg Exchange: It is with exceedingly regret that the Exchange chronicles the death last Saturday of Mr. Edward McNair; aged 70 years.

Winston Sentinel: Mrs. G. R. Robinson, mother of Editor J. A. Robinson, of the Durham Sun, died Tuesday afternoon, at Orange, Va. She was 69 years old.

Raleigh News and Observer: Dr. Marshall was yesterday taken to a Northern hospital for expert treatment. He was accompanied by his physician, Dr. Hubert Haywood, and by members of his family.

Concord Standard: News reached the city Wednesday night of the death of Mrs. Clarissa Cline, of Harrisburg, whose serious illness was noted several days ago. Mrs. Cline was about 75 years of age, and died of paralysis.

Greensboro Record: A good many who were vaccinated last week are walking around with very sore arms. Some of them are growing awfully about it, now that it has been decided that we have no small pox, but this is all wrong. People should be vaccinated anyway—it's the safest course.

Wilmington Star: The sentence of J. R. Hicks, alias R. P. Lee, the white man convicted of passing bogus checks in this city at the last term of the Superior Court has been commuted from five years to eighteen months' imprisonment in the State penitentiary. Deputy Sheriff W. W. King carried Hicks to Raleigh last Monday.

Asheville Citizen: Maj. E. P. McKissick, the presiding genius of the Battery Park hotel, has returned from Washington, D.C., where he attended the annual banquet of the Gridiron club and saw ex-Governor Liliuokalani. The Major indignantly denies that he spoke for three hours in a shirt that was a symphony in Nile green and blue turkey red, but will probably admit that he came near being arrested by the sergeant at arms of the Senate because of the hilarious joy of his unannounced arrival caused in the Senate press gallery.

Charlotte Observer: Mr. Willis E. Pegram met with a serious loss, financially, last night. He rooms in the Bryan building on Trade street. He went to his room rather early, being sick. A colored boy who was a stranger to him, helped him, in the absence of his own valet, to undress. He paid the boy 10 cents and dismissed him. When he got up later to see what time it was he found that he had been touched. Watch and pocket book were both gone. The watch was gold and the case was a handsome one.

His Lip Gone.

M. M. Nicholson, who lives at the corner of Curran and Anderson Sts., Atlanta, Ga., had a cancer for years. It first appeared on his lip and resembled a fever blister, but spread rapidly and soon began to destroy the flesh. His father and uncle had died from Cancer, and he sought the best medicine in different cities, but it seemed impossible to check the disease. Several operations were performed but the cancer always returned. This continued for years until the preparation in his nose and his entire upper lip were eaten away. All treatment having proved futile, he looked upon death as the only relief.

"Some one recommended S.S.S.," he says, "and I had a few bottles of this wonderful medicine. It cured me, and I have new life. S.S.S. is the most remarkable remedy in the world, and everyone will agree that the cure was a wonderful one."

A Real Blood Remedy. Cancer is in the blood and it is folly to expect an operation to cure it. S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) is a real remedy for every disease of the blood. Books mailed free. Address: S.S.S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.
