LOCAL BRIEFS

Miss Bessie Edgerton has returned from a visit to relatives at Greensboro.

Miss Bessie Edgerton, of Princeton, is in the city, visiting her cousin Mrs. G. W. Brown.

There is this difference between happiness and wisdom: He that thinks himself the happiest man, really is so; but he who thinks himself the wisest man is generally the greatest fool.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Larry have the sympathy of their many friends in the death of their little daughter, which sad event occurred at their home in the northern part of the city last Friday.

Mr. A. P. Holland is at home from Castle Haynes, where he was superintendent of the State convict camp doing work for the phosphate company at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Musgrave, and Miss Nannie C. Yelverton and Miss Mary Farmer left Friday for the exposition at Nashville. Their many friends wish them a pleasant trip.

The tide of travel through this city to Morehead grows daily more numerous as the hot weather asserts itself, making people long for the brisk, cooling breeze from the "broad expanse of ocean."

Our young friend and townsman Mr. Cobb Lane, who recently graduated with high honors from the University at Chapel Hill, has been unanimously elected Principal of the High Point Graded School.

The largest yield of wheat to the acre reported to this office from this section is that of Mr. E. L. Pippin, of the Fremont section, who gathered 170 bushels from nine acres this year, which is near an average of 19 bushels to the acre.

The topic with pleasure seekers and lovers of the grand, and sublime in nature is the coming great excursion of Mr. R. E. Pippin to Asheville, leaving here on the morning of July 13, and giving a daylight trip to the mountains and a stay of two days in Asheville.

People who make mistakes are those who quarrel with one another before their children; or who allow the father to grow up in idleness; those who talk about their troubles before strangers; the father who tells his children to go the way he does not go himself, and the young woman who does not make a confidant of her mother.

A GERMAN carp weighing 19 pounds was exhibited at this office to-day, caught with a hook and line in Mena river by a colored woman named Emma Watts, living in Webbtown. We doubt not that there was considerable "gratification" among that fishing party when that big fish was landed.

The rock for paving the streets of our city is now arriving in twenty carload lots at a time, and is being handled with dispatch. When all our streets are paved and Hermann Park made suitable for the visits of our citizens we will indeed have not only the best, but the most beautiful town in this State.

Mr. H. J. Ham, the general proprietor of the "Spray Receptacle," new and popular summer hotel at Seven Springs, is in the city, where he has many friends who are glad to see him. Mr. Ham has reduced the price of board at his hotel to $20 per month, which will include all the privileges of the place, including the use of the water from the Ninth spring, which excels all others as a health restorative.

It becomes our sad duty this afternoon to announce the death of the beloved wife of our esteemed townsman, Mrs. C. E. Herling, which occurred at their home on William street Thursday at 9 o'clock, after a protracted illness of fever, aged 38 years. Mrs. Herling was the daughter of Mr. John Holmes, of Indian Springs, and was a most exemplary Christian, a devoted wife, a fond mother, an abiding friend. She will be sadly missed in the home that she brightened and adorned, and by her hosts of friends. The deepest sympathy of our entire community and countrymen is extended to the bereaved husband and four little children in their irreparable loss. The remains were taken Friday morning to the old homestead in Indian Springs for interment.

HERE IS ANOTHER.

Goldsboro Talent Still in Demand.

It would be interesting to all who are sure, and really surprising to many, to know the great number of Goldsboro men and women who are filling positions won by merit in the great work of advancing higher education, not alone in North Carolina, but throughout the entire country, North and South.

Only the other day we recorded the election of Mr. Cobb Lane as principal of the High Point Graded School, and to day it is our pleasure to note the election of Mr. Crammer Brogden to a position on the faculty of the Greensboro Graded School.

Mr. Brogden taught the Dunn school last year, and the Union, of that town, in noting his resignation, says of him: "All of our people will regret to learn that Prof. L. C. Brogden has resigned as principal of Dunn High School, and will not teach for our next year. He has been elected to a position in the graded school at Greensboro and has accepted the same. He is a good scholar, an excellent instructor, and a gentleman of the noblest character, and we congratulate the Greensboro school in securing him. There is now a good opening here for some young man."

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours. If sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or to urinate in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, cures all urinary troubles, whether in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder, and every part of the urinary passages. It cures the inability to hold urine, and builds up the system. It has of late following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar. You can have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention The Daily Argus and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

PURELY LITERARY.

But of Various Tones, Selected by the Editor from Manuscript sources to suit many minds.

Do you know her? Who? The sunny woman? She who greets you always with a smile that warms you to the heart and whose very nature abounds with the radiance of sweet, generous impulses and kindly sentiment. Her name is not legion, neither is the priceless gem found in vast numbers, but like the diamond, she scintillates the more brilliantly amid dark and gruesome surroundings. The sunny woman as a girl is the particular star in the circle of classmates who in after years, perhaps, forget the others, but who always dwell lovingly on the name, even in memory, of the gentle being who turned away the shadow and made the presence of the sun more evident.

The Nashville Exposition.

It positively cures all blood and skin diseases, no thousands of certificates testify from the simplest, plain, to the foulest ulcers. Don't buy substitutes, said to be "cheap goods," but buy the old reliable and standard Blood Purifier of the name, B. B. Botanic Blood Purifier. For sale at all drug stores. J. H. Hill & Son, Goldsboro, N. C.

TEXT OF THE TREATY BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND HAWAII.

How the Cession of the Islands Is to Be Accomplished.

The full text of the Hawaiian treaty is as follows:

The United States and the republic of Hawaii, in view of the natural dependence of the Hawaiian islands upon the United States, of their geographical proximity thereto, of the preponderant share acquired by the United States and its citizens in the industries and trade of said islands, and of the expressed desire of the government of the republic of Hawaii that those islands should be incorporated into the United States as an integral part thereof and under its sovereignty, have determined to accomplish by treaty an object so important to their mutual and permanent welfare.

To this end, the high contracting parties have conferred full powers and authority upon their respective appointed plenipotentiaries, to wit:

The President of the United States, John Sherman, Secretary of State of the United States; the President of the republic of Hawaii, Francis March Hatch, Lorin A. Thurston, and William A. Kinney.

ARTICLE I.

The republic of Hawaii hereby cedes absolutely and without reserve to the United States of America all rights of sovereignty of whatsoever kind and over the Hawaiian islands and their dependencies; and it is agreed that all territory of and appertaining to the republic of Hawaii is hereby annexed to the United States of America under the name of the Territory of Hawaii.

ARTICLE II.

The republic of Hawaii also cedes and hereby transfers to the United States the absolute fee and ownership of all public, government, or crown lands, public buildings or edifices, ports, harbors, military equipments, and all other public property of every kind and description belonging to the government of the Hawaiian islands, together with every right and appurtenance thereunto appertaining.

The existing laws of the United States relative to public lands shall not apply to such lands in the Hawaiian islands; but the Congress of the United States shall enact special laws for their management and disposition; provided, that all revenue from or proceeds of the same, except as may be used or occupied for the civil, military, or naval purposes of the United States, or may be as signed for the use of the local government, shall be used solely for the benefit of the inhabitants of the Hawaiian islands for educational and other purposes.

ARTICLE III.

Until Congress shall provide for the government of such islands all the civil, judicial, and military powers exercised by the officers of the existing government in said islands shall be vested in such person or persons and shall be exercised in such manner as the President of the United States shall direct, and the President shall have power to remove said officers and fill the vacancies so occasioned.

The existing treaties of the Hawaiian Islands with foreign nations shall forthwith cease and determine, being replaced by such treaties as may exist, or as may be hereafter concluded between the United States and such foreign nations. The municipal legislation of the Hawaiian Islands, not enacted for the fulfillment of the treaties so extinguished, and not inconsistent with this treaty nor contrary to the Constitution of the United States, nor to any existing treaty of the United States, shall remain in force until the Con-

POISONING THE FOUNTAIN.

If the fountain of life is poisoned, no health can be in the body. When a disease, such as the delicate system of her mind, or physical existence is she cannot any longer sustain a family. The family physician may not be able to cure the very common error of prescribing all the trouble to the stomach. It is the only medicine which insures protective mothers against the dangers and sufferings of motherhood.

Dr. Pierce's Food for Weak People is the only medicine which insures protective mothers against the dangers and sufferings of motherhood.

THE ELDERS AND THE CHILD.

MARY E. MANNIX.

Softly felt the touch of twilight on Judea's silent hills: Slowly crept the peace of moonlight over Judea's trembling rills.

In the temple's court conversing, seven elders sat apart; Seven grand and hoary sages, wise of head and pure of heart.

"What is rest?" said Rabbi Judah, he of stern and steadfast gaze, "Answer ye whose toils have but thened thro' the march of many days."

"To have gained," said Rabbi Ezra, decent wealth and goodly store, Without sin, by honest labor—nothing less and nothing more."

"To have found," said Rabbi Joseph, meekness in his gentle eyes, "A foretaste of heaven's sweetness in home's blessed paradise."

"To have wealth and power, and glory crowned and brightened by the pride Of uprisings children's children," Rabbi Benjamin replied.

"To have won the praise of nations, to have worn the crown of fame," Rabbi Solomon responded, loyal to his kindly name.

"To sit throned, the lord of millions, first and noblest in the land," Answered haughty Rabbi Asher, youngest of the reverend band.

"All in vain," said Rabbi Jarius, "if not faith and hope have traced In the soul's mosaic precepts, by sin's contact uneffaced."

Then up rose Rabbi Judah, tallest, gravest of them all: "From the heights of fame and honor even valiant souls may fall."

Love may fail us, Virtue's sapling grow a dry and thorny rod. If we bear not in our bosoms the unselfish love of God."

In the outer court sat playing a sad, featured, fair-haired youth: His young eyes seemed wells of sorrow—they were god-like when he smiled.

One by one he dropped the lilies, softly plucked with childish hand: One by one he viewed the sages of that grave and hoary band.

Step by step he neared them closer, till, encircled by the seven, Then he said, in tones untroubled, with a smile that seemed of heaven:

"Nay, nay, fathers! Only he, within the measure of whose breast Dwells the human love with God-love, can have found life's truest rest."

For where one is not, the other must grow stagnant at its spring, Changing good deeds into phantoms—an unmeaning, soulless thing."

Whoso holds this precept truly owns a jewel brighter far Than the joys of home and children—than wealth, fame and glory are."

Faithful to old age thrice-honored, far above tradition's law, Pure as any radiant vision ever ancient prophet saw."

Only he, within the measure—faith apportioned—of whose breast Dwells the human love with God-love, knows the depth of perfect rest."

Beautiful eyes grow dull and dim As the swift years steal away. Beautiful, wistful forms so slim Lose fairness with every day. But she still is queen and hath charms to spare Who wears youth's coronal—beautiful hair.

Preserve Your Hair and you preserve your youth. "A woman is as old as she looks," says the world. No woman looks as old as she is if her hair has preserved its normal beauty. You can keep hair from falling out, restoring its normal color, or restore the normal color to gray or faded hair, by the use of

This throws 14,000 hands out of employment every year. There is great rejoicing here in consequence of the decision to keep running. The mill companies have received orders for sixty new patterns of 25,000 pieces each.

METEOR EXPLODES.

Negroes and Others Frightened By Its Great Noise. Columbia, S. C., June 18.—Residents of Troy, in Abbeville county, say that a brilliant meteor going southwest passed over that town at 9:15 last night. It exploded with a thundering noise. The negroes were terribly frightened and began praying.

Reports from Abbeville say the meteor passed over there when people were returning from a college commencement. The sparks seemed to fly from it and strike in the trees. The noise when the meteor exploded was like a blast in a quarry. The air was filled with thousands of sparks.

Four boys were killed and five persons seriously injured by a tornado which destroyed buildings connected with the Nebraska State institution for feeble minded yesterday. Much damage was done to other property.

Some people are constantly troubled with pimples and boils, especially about the face and neck. The best remedy is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels all humors through the proper channels, and so makes the skin become soft, healthy and fair.
