Daily Argus last Friday. After a lingering illness of several months, the white-winged m essenger of death removed from our mids, this morning at 4 o'clock, the spirit of Mrs. R. A. Watts and transported it to its heavenly home beyond the clouds. She was 54 years of age and leaves a large family and a host of sorrowing friends to mourn her loss.

The funeral will be held from the residence to-morrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and the interment made in the family plot in Willow Dale cemetery.

For husband and father were with them. And God alone could tell.
What would the future bring them?
And the land they loved so well! And "Love's Young Dream" was broken, When the call "to arms" was heard, "Adieu" he said, "I'll soon return,"

But he sleeps at Gettysburg. And a panic seized the nations, When on the Southern breeze, Came the voice of the dying Jackson, "Let us rest beneath the trees,"

'Let us pass over the river," That washes the "golden shore." And on the banks of the Jordan, Pitch our tents forever more.

And over this fair, sunny South, Spread a pall of disaster and gloom And "The Conquered Banner" waved. It's torn fold's o'er the tomb, So gather around this statue, And let their children hear, How the memory of their chivalry, Grows dearer year by year.

And bring pale lillies and jasmines,
Fragrant with Spring's sweet breath,
And plant the weeping willow,
The sentinel of death! And let the band play "Dixie," Unfurl the "stars and bars," Salute the Southern soldier, And give him three Hurras.

Old Sarsaparilla.

That's Ayer's. The same old sold by Dr. J. C. Ayer 80 years ago. In the laboratory it is different. There modern appliances lend speed to skill and experience. But the sarsaparille is the same old sarsaparilla that made the record—50 years of cures. Why don't we better it? Well, we're much in the condition of the Bishop and the raspberry: "Doubtless," he said, "God might have made a better berry. But doubtless, also, He never did." Why don't we better the sarsaparilla? We can't. We are using the same old plant that cured the Indians and the Spaniards. Re has not been bettered. And since we make sarsaparilla compound out of sarsaparilla plant, we see no way of improvement. Of course, if we were making some secret chemical compound we might .... But we're mot. We're making the same old sarsaparilla to cure the same old diseases. You can tell it's the same old sarsaparilla because it works the same old cures. It's the sovereign blood purifier, and t's Ayers.
