GOLDSBORO, NOV. 1901

THIS YEAR'S COTTON CROP.

Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co. do not accept the estimates calling for a big yield of cotton this year—estimates made either in Liverpool, or for Liverpool consumption. They believe, on the other hand, that the crop was marketed rapidly in October on account of favorable conditions for picking and shipping, and because cotton was required for export to fill contracts for October and November deliveries and shipments, and to increase depleted stocks of spinners. They express the opinion that the crop may be less than last year's. The year, they say, may not be unlike that of 1899-1900, when excessive estimates made in the autumn exceeded the total production by nearly 2,000,000 bales.

The total crop of this year cannot safely be approximated by a comparison of the movement to November 1, with any particular year, but an average of receipts to November 1 for the past ten years should represent in some degree the probable outcome of the crop. The average movement of the crop up to November 1 has in the last ten years been 30.12 per cent. and this percentage would make the present crop 9,435,302 bales. Such an outcome corresponds closely to the government's estimate of the condition of the crop on October 3. It corresponds to the estimates of the various commissioners of agriculture in the cotton States. It corresponds to private advices especially relating to damages done by drought in Texas and other southwestern districts.

There is not a bit of evidence to uphold the estimates going to show that the yield will be eleven million bales or more. The more probable outcome, in the opinion of Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co., is about 9,500,000 bales.

It Saved Her Life.

Gooch's Mexican Syrup has accomplished a cure in this neighborhood which has astonished the people. Miss Davis was given up to die by her attending physician. She had lung fever. The doctor said she would die before morning, and advised to discontinue his medicine, as it was doing her no good. Her parents had a bottle of Gooch's Mexican Syrup and Gooch's Quick Relief in the house. They at once began to give the Syrup in doses one hour apart and frequently bathed her chest with the Quick Relief. Before morning she was better, and after using a few bottles of each, she is almost as well as ever. It was almost like raising the dead, and has established the reputation of Gooch's Mexican Syrup here as a cough remedy; we can sell nothing else. J. & N. SANDS, Trimble Athens Co. O.

You can prevent this by dieting but that means starvation. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is what you eat. You need suffer from neither dyspepsia nor starvation. The worst case quickly cured. Never fails.—J.
