

WASHINGTON LETTER

[Special Correspondence.] Visitors to the capitol who admire the beautiful decorative work to be seen in the rotunda and in the corridors, especially in the senate end of the building, will find additional interest in the work of the artist when they learn the source of his inspiration for many of the female figures that appear in the designs. The aged artist Brumidi, whose brush did most of the most beautiful of the decorative work of the capitol, married in this city Miss Jennie German, a young lady well known for her beauty, which has been perpetuated in many of the paintings executed by her husband. Features a little too well rounded to be thoroughly classic, black hair, a fair complexion and blue eyes, together with a shapely form, were the characteristics of Mrs. Brumidi. She was the third wife of the celebrated Italian artist. She was greatly admired not only for her beauty of person, but for her qualities of mind, which made her a general favorite here. One of the figures in the ceiling of the rotunda is said to be an exact likeness of the artist's beautiful wife, while most of the figures he painted in the capitol portray some of her characteristics.

The President's New Team. President Roosevelt, who has been scouring the country for a pair of high steppers suited to the needs of the executive mansion, has found what he wanted in Baltimore. They are Admiral and General, cherry bay geldings, five and six years old, sixteen hands high and weighing about 2,350 pounds. They are full brothers and were sired by Abdullah Belmont, by Lakeland Abdullah, 851, by Hambletonian, 10. Their dam was by Red Archie, Jr., by Red Archie. The geldings were bred and reared in Michigan. They make an extra high class pair, with fine heads and necks and a bold, resolute way of going. They are beautifully mannered, and it is safe to say that no handsomer pair will be seen in Washington. The sale was conducted through A. G. Hurly, foreman of the executive mansion stables. The horses were inspected by United States Veterinary Inspector Brown.

Reception For Coleridge-Taylor. Mr. S. Coleridge-Taylor, the young Anglo-African musical composer of London, has written to friends in Washington of his purpose to make a visit to this country during the winter, and plans are on foot by the colored people to entertain him. One of the purposes in view, it is said, is to form a large chorus of 200 or 300 voices, have the singers thoroughly drilled in the production of his masterpiece of choral music, "Hiawatha," and to give a public presentation under his direction. It is known among musicians that the colored people of Washington have among their number very many good singers and that they have already done considerable chorus work. Acting upon the suggestion of Mr. Taylor's coming and the desire to honor him as one of their race, the leading colored musicians and citizens generally have formed a choral society and have named it Mr. Coleridge-Taylor's honor.

Repairs to White House. In his last monthly report to the war department Colonel Bingham, the engineer officer in charge of public buildings and grounds, showed that in order to provide accommodations for the servants in the White House it became necessary to utilize a portion of the attic which had never before been used for living purposes. Two new rooms were constructed in that part of the building, and to light and ventilate them it was found necessary to put warmer windows in the roof. For heating purposes gas stoves will be used, and gas pipes were run into the rooms on that account. The rooms were provided with electric lights and were furnished with beds and other necessary furniture.

President a Good Narrator. The cabinet has a new rule of procedure. It used to be the law that when that illustrious body assembled at 11 o'clock on Tuesday and Friday mornings business should be taken up at once. But that is not the practice now. Instead of getting to work at once on the supposedly great questions of state the president takes from fifteen to twenty-five minutes to tell his advisers the experience he has had with the gentlemen who have been giving him "hot air" about offices and schemes they want him to recommend to congress.

The president is a good narrator, and before the first half hour is unusually interesting. He doesn't tell stories to illustrate a point he is making, as Lincoln did, but tells everything that has happened that has impressed itself upon his mind. His sense of humor is good, and the humorous side of the pictures that pass before him is not overlooked.

High Priced Real Estate. A lot at the corner of F and Tenth streets, which is in the heart of the best business center, has lately been sold for what is said to be the highest rate ever realized on land in this city—namely, $22 a square foot, equivalent to $2,265,120 an acre or to $10,400 a front foot for Main street lots running back 200 feet to Washington street. The big price was paid by a saloon keeper. Hardly any other business would stand such a rate.

Divorces in the District. The District of Columbia is rapidly becoming the most popular place in the United States for mismatched couples to seek separation. Scarcely a day passes that the courts of Washington are not asked to grant anywhere from three to six divorces, and in nine cases out of ten the applicants are accommodated. This is a rather sad commentary upon the morality of the nation's capital. But it is a fact, nevertheless.

LONG NOMINAEED.

Warrants May be Issued For Lynchers Today—A Number of Witnesses Examined.

Salisbury, N. C., June 20.—B. F. Long, of Statesville was nominated on the 412th ballot for judge of the tenth judicial district this morning at 2:30 o'clock, after a 15 hours' session. Hon. John S. Henderson, who presided over the convention, said it was the greatest number of ballots ever taken in a judicial convention in North Carolina. Long's nomination was brought about by Iredell voting solidly for him.

Solicitor Hammer is still working on the lynching here. A number of witnesses were examined today. Warrants will probably be issued tomorrow.

Life Was Not Worth Living—But—

Shelby, N. C., April 30, 1902. I had been a severe sufferer from nervous prostration for two years and everything I ate disagreed with me. This made me feel so wretched and bad all the time that life was a burden and I felt that I had rather die than live. I could not eat meat nor any solid food at all and everything I did eat caused me to suffer. I had terrible nervous spells when I would become cold and feel almost lifeless—then hot baths would have to be applied. I suffered from gas on the stomach all the time, and so weak I didn't do any work for twelve months. Nothing I tried did me any good.

I was in that condition when Mrs. Joe Person called to see me last July and said everything she could to persuade me to try her Remedy, as she was so confident it would cure me. I bought half dozen bottles and felt a great deal better by the time I had taken the third. I continued it until I took 18 bottles, which CURED ME. My indigestion is well and I can eat anything I want, and it is very seldom I ever have even a touch of nervousness. My health is good and life itself seems like a different thing to me and well worth living. When I commenced the Remedy I weighed 105 pounds, now I weigh 140 pounds, which was my natural weight before I was taken sick.

If any one suffers from indigestion or nervous prostration, they need not hesitate to try the Remedy. I would not take any amount of money for what it did for me.

Don't Use Stimulants to bouy up weak, worn, tired-out stomachs. Spur a tired horse—for a moment he bounds forward, then drops.

Just so with a tired stomach. Stimulants force it to a brief, unnatural effort. Then it collapses completely. It needs rest.

By the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure your food is digested without the stomach's aid. It builds up the body while the stomach gains fresh strength. Rest is nature's greatest tonic. It soon restores health. It is not necessary to diet. That only further weakens the system. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest any kind of good, wholesome food you want to eat. Cathartics afford only temporary relief.

Made To Digest Food.

"I had stomach trouble of four years' standing," says Geo. R. Colbath, Alpena, Mich., "which was so bad that at times I was forced to abandon my business and stay in bed. At last I was induced to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, from which I received immediate relief and a few bottles effected a complete cura."

DR. MOFFETT'S TEETHINA (TEETHING POWDERS) Cures Cholera, Infantum, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, and the Bowel Troubles of Children of Any Age. Aids Digestion, Regulates the Bowels, Strengthens the Child and Makes TEETHING EASY. Costs Only 25 cents at Druggists. Or mail 25 cents to C. J. MOFFETT, M. D., ST. LOUIS, MO.

PLUMBER, S. C., Nov. 26, 1900.—I was first advised by our family physician in Charleston to use TEETHINA with our baby when he was but a very young infant, as a preventive of colic and to warm and sweeten the stomach. Later it was useful in teething troubles, and its effect has been found to be so very beneficial and so free from danger that we are now using it on a new baby in the house and until the teething troubles are over, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends instead of the horrid stuff that so many people use to keep their baby quiet.
