W. Schwall, commanding the first brigade, Brigadier General J. P. S. Gobin, commanding the third brigade, who came here by special train from Shenandoah, and Col. Willis J. Hulings, acting commander of the second brigade in the absence of Brigadier General John A. Wiley, who is attending the army manoeuvres at Fort Riley.

PRITCHARD WASN'T LOST.

Washington, October 6.—Senator Pritchard is not lost, as many had feared. He was discovered tonight at the Ebbitt house for the first time since his arrival here Friday. No one is able to give any information with reference to the senator's movements. It was stated tonight that he has been to New York doing missionary work with the Republican national committee. This evening Senator Pritchard called at the temporary White House and had a long talk with the president. The interview was Southern politics and referred to the North Carolina situation in particular. Senator Pritchard gave the president a very favorable report in behalf of the Southern Republicans. He expressed himself as well satisfied with the situation in North Carolina.

GOVERNMENT DEPOSITS.

Secretary Shaw Corrects An Unauthorized Report.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw issued the following statement to-day:

"A wholly unauthorized and unfounded report appears to have been sent from Washington yesterday, calculated to mislead, with reference to the action taken by the secretary of the treasury relative to the maintenance of reserves against government deposits secured by government bonds. That there may be no misunderstanding, either as to the law or the action taken by the department, you are advised:

"The national banking act, as you are well aware, lays down the rule that all associations shall maintain certain reserves against all deposits; failing to do which the comptroller of the currency may notify any association to make good such reserves; failing to do which within thirty days the comptroller may, with the concurrence of the secretary of the treasury, appoint a receiver, etc.

"The law therefore lays down the rule that the reserve shall be maintained, but lodges a discretion with the comptroller, and with the secretary of the treasury as to the enforcement of the rule. You are therefore notified that the rule will not be enforced as it relates to government deposits secured by government bonds.

"It must be borne in mind in this connection that it is not the intention of the department to encourage increased credit. On the contrary, very great conservatism should be exercised. But it is the desire of the department that no worthy business interest shall suffer simply because a bank has invested its money in government bonds to secure a government deposit, and to that extent has relieved the treasury from a growing surplus and has thus restricted its capacity to extend accommodation."

MONEY IN CIRCULATION.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The general stock of money in the United States October 1 was estimated by the treasury department at $2,597,094,935, of which $2,275,686,651 was in circulation, being an increase of the latter amounting to $10,653,706 for the month of September and of $48,488,160 for the twelve months ended October 1. Based on an estimated population of 77,458,000 the per capita circulation is therefore $28.64, against $28.55 September 1.

THE MINERS' STRIKE.

The result of the White House conference in Washington on the coal strike brings disappointment to all America. The anthracite coal strike remains unsettled and the coal famine must continue for a time longer.

The owners of the anthracite mines decline emphatically to deal with President Mitchell or the United Mine Workers of America. At the same time they offer to deal with any of their employees, or any representatives of any one of the mining camps, who might submit their grievances to the judge of the United States district court of that district, and they would abide the decision of the judge.

The operators were emphatic in their declaration against dealing with one not directly interested. Yet they offered to deal with one or all of the men who actually work in the mines or to submit the matter to the federal judge of the district involved—a representative in a sense of the President of the United States, who called the conference.

To the outsider of calm and conservative judgment this would seem fair.

The owners or operators of the anthracite coal mines are losing thousands of dollars daily by the prolongation of the strike. Yet they feel that a question of manhood and honor is involved—that they have the right to operate their own property without outside interference and to arbitrate with their own employees any differences which might arise as to hours or wages. They are now apparently not contending over hours or wages, but are opposed to outside interference, or instruction as to how they shall conduct their mines.

Their proposition to refer the matter in dispute, if any of their employees will bring the matter up, to the highest United States official in the district would seem fair. Under the circumstances President Mitchell should withdraw his personality and stand aside. There are doubtless intelligent and shrewd men among the miners of the anthracite district. These men would present the miners' side of the case, and the matter could be adjusted. The operators want the mines worked, and the miners want work and wages. Therefore, it devolves upon Mr. Mitchell to eliminate himself and let each organization of local miners present its grievances to arbitration before the nearest United States district judge and have the matter of hours and wages settled, and go back to work.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The thirty-sixth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will begin here to-morrow, and, with the meeting of the various auxiliary organizations affiliated with the main body, will continue until next Sunday. Preparations for the gathering are complete. The business houses and private residences along Pennsylvania avenue and the other main thoroughfares of the city have been appropriately decorated for the encampment season. The display of flags and bunting is very generous.

Tuesday the naval parade will occur. Wednesday will occur the big parade of the Grand Army of the Republic.

$150 Reward.

The Board of County Commissioners of Wayne county, in regular session, directed their clerk to advertise that the Board will pay a reward of one hundred and fifty dollars for the arrest and delivery of Frank Winn, indicted for the murder of Charles Winn, to the sheriff of Wayne county. By order of the Board.

INSECTS SCATTER DISEASES.

The latest bulletin of the Marine Hospital Service boldly declares that the history of twenty years in New York does not disclose a single case of yellow fever that arose from the shipment of wearing apparel, bedding and the like to that town from Vera Cruz, Havana, Santiago de Cuba and other fever-infected cities. Enormous quantities of such freight or baggage are landed every year in New York at all seasons, and yet no cases of yellow fever arise from it. Troops by tens of thousands came both to this country and Spain, but no yellow fever cases resulted.

The medical scientists assert, in other words, that all such diseases as yellow fever are conveyed simply and solely by mosquitoes, flies and other insects. The esteemed mosquito inserts the germs directly in the veins, while the flies and like insects carry them on their feet and plant them in the food of their victims. The flies do this unconsciously, and so for that matter do the mosquitoes, but, the work of each is equally deadly. The common house fly is beyond all doubt a disseminator of typhoid germs, and the careless nurse is the fly's working partner in this business. There will be plenty of typhoid until every stool of a typhoid patient is speedily placed beyond the range of the house fly.

Another year should witness marked advances in the prevention of contagious disease. The period of investigation is fairly passed. The old theories that contact of one sort or another creates such diseases are well-nigh exploded, and thus the transmission of such diseases by insects is equally well established. War upon insect life is now in order, together with a war against that careless-ness which gives insects opportunity to accumulate deadly disease germs.

WILL NOT BEVIEW G. A. R. PARADE.

Washington, Oct. 5.—President Roosevelt will not review the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, at which it was expected he would occupy the reviewing stand in front of the White House.

The official statement issued last night that he would have to exercise extreme care indicated that it would be impossible for him to review the parade of the veterans and the direct statement that he will not do so was made on official authority today. The President has not yet been able to rest his foot on the floor and the physicians have forbidden him to again overtax his strength, as he did during the past week.

TOBACCO SALES.

The Official Report For the Past Two Months.

The following is the official report of the Board of Trade on the sales and prices of tobacco sold on this market for the month of August and September as figured out by Mr. W. H. Winstead, President of the Board:

	Pounds	Value	Average
Aug.	1,166,555	$115,509.55	$9.90
Sept.	1,614,056	$177,860.55	11.01
Total	2,780,611	$283,370.11	$10.55

The Royal Month and the Royal Disease.

Sudden changes of weather are especially trying, and probably to none more so than to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great. We never think of scrofula—its bunches, cutaneous eruptions, and wasting of the bodily substance—without thinking of the great good many sufferers from it have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, whose radical and permanent cures of this one disease are enough to make it the most famous medicine in the world. There is probably not a city or town where Hood's Sarsaparilla has not proved its merit in more homes than one, in arresting and completely eradicating scrofula, which is almost as serious and as much to be feared as its near relative—consumption.

SHOES AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Senator Harris, of Kansas, has just returned from Europe, and he has stirred up the sacred tariff animals again by declaring that he bought American shoes of identical make in London 20 per cent below home prices. We are selling shoes to the value of $5,500,000 a year to England, Austria-Hungary, France, Germany, and Belgium. We sell shoes in all the shoe making countries in their own markets, and the inference is plain that we can undersell the manufacturers in those countries although freight and insurance and other selling charges are added.

And yet there is a duty of 25 per cent on foreign made shoes. Does any one believe that foreign made shoes would be imported if there were no duties on shoes? The duty is not kept in the tariff to keep out shoes, but to enable the shoe manufacturer to advance the home price to the tariff limit. This is the long and short of it, and it is but one example gathered from 4,000 that the tariff embraces.

The Republicans are very angry at Senator Harris because he has come home to expose the shoe trade of the country. When American shoes are sold at 20 per cent less in London than they are at home, this means that the American price of shoes has been fully advanced to the tariff limit. This is what the tariff is for. This is what it is maintained for to the point of sacredness. This is what Senator Mark Hanna stands pat on. This is what produces campaign subscriptions, the home consumer paying the whole thing in the last analysis.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL.

To Have a New Building Splendidly Equipped.

There is now no doubt but what Goldsboro will have a hospital which will meet every requirement. A meeting of the supporters and directors of the Emergency Hospital held some time ago it was decided to erect a building for the hospital and Mr. C. F. Herring, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, who by virtue of his office is ex-officio chairman of the directors of the hospital, was directed to appoint a committee to take the whole subject under consideration. Mr. Herring has made the appointment, as will be seen from the following card, which he requests published:

EDITOR ARGUS:—At the last annual meeting of the directors of the Emergency Hospital, a motion was adopted directing the undersigned to appoint a committee to take into consideration the whole interest of the Hospital with the view of securing a suitable building and of providing for its equipment and support etc. In compliance with said motion I have appointed Messrs. Sol. Weil, J. E. Peterson, Geo C. Royal and Dr. Theo. L. Ginn.

WOMEN AND JEWELS.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Bochee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at Goldsboro Drug Co. Get Green's Special Almanac.
