Charleston, S. C., Nov. 24.—A special to the News and Courier, from Spartanburg, S. C., says: In a railway wreck on the Southern near Spartanburg this morning, at 1:40, the colored fireman was killed, and engineer Solomons seriously injured about the hips and legs.

New York, Nov. 24.—The Japanese autumn maneuvers have been concluded, according to a Times dispatch from Tokio by way of London. The Emperor exhorted the troops to keep abreast of the rapidly changing times, and decorated 20 foreign military attaches, of whom ten are Chinese.

Superior court is in session in Oxford this week and for the third time the libel suit of Rev. T. J. Gattis against Rev. Jno. C. Kilgo is on the docket, after two new trials have been granted by the Supreme court. It is understood that the trial of the case will be continued till the spring term of the court.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 24.—The suit of H. W. Hawkes, colored, against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for $10,000, will be argued in the Chesterfield county court tomorrow. The plaintiff, who is a negro, who conducts a saloon at Wilson, Va., alleged that he was riding in the Jim Crow car of the defendant company, when the conductor insisted that the passenger belonged in the white coach. Hawkes refused to go into the white coach and was put off the train at Chester.

The first steps in a suit for damages against the Seaboard Air Line were taken yesterday when the plaintiff in the case had a summons issued against the Seaboard. The suit is brought by A. S. Watson, administrator of the estate of James R. Watson, deceased, and as only the summons has been issued no amount is stated, though it is reported that this will be a large sum, possibly $25,000, which will be named in the complaint. Mr. Watson was an engineer on the Seaboard and was killed last summer when his train ran into a switch just north of Raleigh.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The State Department is thoroughly well-informed of the length to which Great Britain, Germany, and other European powers propose to go in their dealings with Venezuela. Great Britain and Germany have, in fact, sounded the department to learn whether any objections would be made to active measures on their part to secure the collection of debts due their citizens on account of violated concessions and the destruction of their property incident to the internal dissensions which have raged in Venezuela for several years past. The department has been extremely cautious in dealing with these inquiries, but the substance of its replies in all cases has been set out in the declaration of President Roosevelt that the United States did not construe the Monroe Doctrine to mean that it should shelter any of the American republics against the results of their own misdeeds or violations of international amenity. The only condition made by the President was that the punishment inflicted upon any of these South and Central American Republics by a European power must not include the seizure by that power of any American soil.

MRS. PEMBROKE JONES.

SHE IS NOW AT THE HEAD OF NEW YORK SOCIETY.

Three Years Ago She Was Practically Unknown; To-Day She is at the Head of the Social Set—Carried Off the Honors at the Horse Show.

Wil. Dispatch.

Last Friday's New York Journal contained the following complimentary reference to Mrs. Pembroke Jones, which her hosts of friends in Wilmington and all over the State will read with great pleasure and no less pride:

"Cathleen Neilson, among the young girls, and Mrs. Pembroke Jones among the married women may be said to have carried off all the honors at the Horse Show—if not in the ring, at any rate in the boxes—and for each of them the week has been one of social triumph.

"That Cathleen Neilson should be a centre of attraction, not only as a remarkably handsome girl, but likewise as the fiancée of Reggie Vanderbilt, was only to be expected, for society always entertains a certain amount of sympathetic interest for lovers, especially when they happen to be endowed with millions. Love in a Fifth Avenue mansion is so much more fascinating than love in a cottage.

"But the triumph of Mrs. Pembroke Jones, while equally deserved, is more surprising, owing the fact that a few years ago she was a stranger to New York, whereas she may now be regarded as one of the leaders of the fashionable set. Her success in three years has been wonderful.

"You must remember that it was about that period when she went to Newport. She had only a few friends. She had that same Southern adaptability. The difference was only that in her own State Mrs. Pembroke Jones, as Miss Greene, had come from a very long line of ancestry. I believe one of her ancestors signed the famous Declaration of Independence, and that means a great deal in the little conservative colonies of North and South Carolina and Georgia. There the aristocracy remains as it was in the Colonial days.

"Mrs. Pembroke Jones had an exceptional position in the South. The North she had to conquer. It was rather a difficult proposition, as, owing to the excellent matches made here by Southerners—the Wilsons having taken in all the best that the matrimonial market afforded—Newport was a bit wary of pretty Southern women with sweet, cooing voices and the manner of another age—that of minutes, powder and patches and chivalry.

"The conquest of Newport by Mrs. Jones, however, was so sudden that the Newporters themselves hardly realized it. The shore of that historic bay is strewn with the skeletons and debris of wrecks of social ambitions. But Mrs. Jones arrived and conquered in a season. People had hardly finished asking who she was than they were demanding and begging from friends who knew her invitations to her entertainments.

"The winter before last Mrs. Pembroke Jones came to New York. She had a box at the opera. On the opening night she began modestly with Mrs. Oelrichs as a guest. Today she is absolutely one of the leaders. Her box has been the centre of attraction at the Horse Show. There you found Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Duncan Elliott, Mrs. Orme Wilson, Mrs. William E. Carter, of Philadelphia, and, in fact, all the stars in the social firmament.

"Mrs. Pembroke Jones possesses the secret of being a perfect hostess. Her success comes naturally to her, and she is the same as she always was."

THE SHIPPERS HEARD.

THE INTER STATE COMMISSION CONVENES IN CHARLOTTE.

Testimony Given to the Effect That the Railroads Are Discriminating in Freight Rates Against Charlotte.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 24.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission convened in this city this morning to hear the complaints of the Charlotte Shippers' Association against the Southern and Seaboard Air Line Railway Companies, on charge of discriminating against Charlotte in freight rates. The presiding judges are: Hon. Judson C. Clements, of Georgia; Hon. Charles A. Prouty, of Vermont; and Hon. Joseph W. Phifer, of Illinois. The Shippers' Association is represented by Messrs. Thomas C. Guthrie, Herriott Clarkson and C. W. Tillett.

M. C. Mayer, of the Mayer Grocery Company; J. J. Adams, of the Adams Grain and Produce Company, and John B. Boss, of John B. Boss & Company, wholesale grocers, were called on to testify. All these witnesses stated that there was discrimination in freight rates against Charlotte. Each witness cited a number of instances that had come under his observation in which the shippers of Charlotte had not been able to get as good freight rates as cities further south than Charlotte.

The hearing of the testimony of Charlotte witnesses was concluded this afternoon and Col. Ed. Baxter, of Nashville, representing the railroads, at once began the examination of witnesses for the two companies, Freight Traffic Manager T. C. Powell, of the Southern, being placed on the stand. It is believed that the testimony for the railroads will be concluded to-morrow.

A BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

Wil. Messenger, Nov. 19.

Last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Captain and Mrs. Haywood Clark, 520 Market street, a beautiful and impressive home wedding was solemnized, the contracting parties being Edmund S. Battle, Esq., of Raleigh, and Miss Della Clark, of this city. The parlor was tastefully decorated with wild smilax and potted plants.

The Rev. Richard W. Hogue, rector of St. James Episcopal church, performed the impressive ceremony, in the presence of the immediate families of the couple and a few intimate friends. The bride was attired in a handsome going-away gown of blue broadcloth and carried a magnificent bouquet of bride roses and maidenhair ferns. The bride's father gave her away.

Among those in attendance upon the wedding were the groom's father and sister, Hon. Richard H. Battle and Miss Rosa Battle, of Raleigh. Misses Placide and Reba Battle, of Tarboro, were also in attendance.

The bride is the grand daughter of the late Governor Henry Clark, of Tarboro, and the groom is the grandson of the late Judge Battle, one of North Carolina's most distinguished jurists. Their host of friends remembered them with many very handsome presents.

After hurried and hearty congratulations, the couple left on the 7 p. m. train for a trip to Florida.

CANAL TREATY HITCH.

STATE DEPARTMENT AND COLUMBIA DISAGREE.

Differences Have Arisen Which Must Be Reconciled Before Treaty Can Be Drawn—Secretary Hay Takes Strong Position.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Differences have arisen between the State Department and the Colombian government which may delay an agreement upon the terms of a canal treaty beyond the term in which it had been expected to conclude the treaty.

Secretary Hay has furnished the Colombian minister, Mr. Concha, with a memorandum setting forth the position of this government, which was prepared by the secretary after he had received a similar memorandum from Mr. Concha, defining the Colombian position.

There are differences between the two which must be reconciled before a treaty can be drawn. It has been believed until now that all was favorable to a speedy conclusion of an understanding between the two governments. It is apparent that Mr. Hay has taken a firm position and did not adopt all the terms proposed by Mr. Concha or some especially desired by the Colombians. It has been understood that the discussions which have been held during the pendency of the negotiations have touched more upon what is regarded by the government as less important matters of consideration than upon the material point involved.

It is assumed that Mr. Concha will refer the points of variance to his government and thus time will be consumed, as it will take several days to get a reply from Bogota to his inquiries.

SENATOR PRITCHARD.

WILL REPLY TO CONGRESS- MAN BLACKBURN.

Will be in Charlotte a Week or Two, and May Write His Reply While There, After Acquainting Himself With the Facts in the Case.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 19.—Senator J. C. Pritchard arrived from Washington this morning and is at the Buford hotel. He is one of the counsel for Major Brees and Mr. Dickerson, the alleged Asheville bank wreckers, which case comes up in the Federal court to-morrow morning.

Senator Pritchard was seen at his hotel this afternoon and was asked if he had read the interview with Congressman Blackburn published in the Raleigh Post. To this inquiry he replied that he had, but did not care to discuss the matter at present. He gave the Post correspondent to understand that during his stay in Charlotte, which would probably cover a period of a week or two, he expected to reply to the Blackburn interview. "You may say," said the Senator, "that until I receive the vote in the recent election, analyze it and make myself acquainted with facts, I shall not talk for publication.

"Yes, I have read Mr. Blackburn's interview, given out at Washington and published in the Morning Post. I have nothing to say just at present. Before I leave Charlotte I may have something for the press, and I will be glad at that time to give it to you."

Senator Pritchard is looking exceedingly well. He was met at the train by several of his friends here and a large number of his political friends have been at the hotel to pay their respects to-day.

In regard to the differences that are said to exist between himself and the President, Senator Pritchard does not care to speak. When his reply to Congressman Blackburn is given out to the press he intimates that his position on the question will be explained.

SUPERIOR COURT.

A one week term of Superior court convened in this city Monday, with Judge Robinson presiding and Solicitor Jones at his post.

His Honor's charge to the Grand Jury was exceedingly full in its presentation of their duty as the grand inquest of the county, and was eloquent in language, admirable in depth of thought, showing careful study, impressive in delivery and so explicit and forceful that no member of the Grand Jury can mistake his obligation nor abuse his trust.

The entire term will be taken up, doubtless, with the trial of criminal cases, there being three capital cases on the docket: that of Winn, colored, for the killing of his cousin at Mt. Olive; Pritchard, white, for the murder of his wife, near Eureka, and that of a negro for assault upon an old colored woman near Fremont.

The following compose the Grand Jury for the term:

Messrs. W. W. Crawford, Foreman, Jackson J. Daniel, W. H. Burch, Joel Rhodes, M. E. Best, T. R. Gurley, Lewis Herring, W. R. Cox, Aaron Winn, J. H. Johnson, W. J. Roberts, Benj. Herring, A. B. Hollowell, G. C. Moore, J. D. Hines, Jack Brown, M. C. Kornegay, S. S. Strother.

Parties holding claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned for payment on or before the 15th day of November 1902, or this notice will be placed in bar of their recovery.

This the 15th day of November 1902.
ANNIE D. OUTLAW, Administratrix.

WILSON POSTMASTERSHIP.

MOVEMENT TO REMOVE THE NEGRO VICK.

Pritchard's Political Future to be Determined by His Fight for Vick's Removal.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 25.—It is learned on good authority that a movement is to be made in the near future that will define pretty thoroughly the position in which the President and Pritchard stand. The crisis of the breach will be in the contest over the postoffice at Wilson, now in charge of the negro, H. S. Vick. Senator Pritchard will return to Washington in a few days, and it is stated that he will at once recommend the removal of Vick, the only negro now in office in the East, and request the appointment of a white man. This will be probably the supreme test. The negroes generally, including Booker Washington, are demanding Vick's retention in office, while Senator Pritchard is demanding his removal. There are no charges of official unfitness against Vick, the issue being his color alone.

The President has often declared that fitness alone is to determine in the matter of filling appointments, and it is difficult to see how Senator Pritchard is to compass Vick's removal. It will readily be understood, however, that should he succeed it will be regarded as a great personal victory and may again establish his supremacy in Southern Republican political matters. Another issue in this connection is the fight colored men of influence are making against District Attorney Harry Skinner and Collector Duncan, of the Eastern District. These, of course, Pritchard will have to defend. The fight, it is claimed, is being made through Jno. S. Clarkson. The charge against Harry Skinner is his speech urging the repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment, which was made several years ago. The opposition to Collector Duncan is based on the claim that four of his deputies threatened bodily harm to four negro delegates at the Republican State convention at Greensboro if they refused to leave the hall.

Your Hair

"Two years ago my hair was falling out badly. I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and soon my hair stopped coming out."
