ROOSEVELT AND CLEVELAND

THEY SPEAK FROM THE SAME PLATFORM.

The Two Men Appear in the Strongest Contrast—Remarkable Demonstration in Honor of the Ex-President.

St. Louis, Mo., April 30.—The dedication of the St. Louis Exposition was a great success, being inaugurated with a magnificent military display and elaborate exercises at which President Roosevelt and ex-President Cleveland were the principal speakers. Undoubtedly the feature of the day was the splendid reception accorded ex-President Cleveland who received the plaudits of the tens of thousands of people along the line of march. His reception in the Liberal Arts building when he arose to speak equalled, if it did not exceed, that of the president. Certainly the attention that he received was the best of the day. President Roosevelt also received a fine demonstration, but it was noisy, and during his speech a number of people created some embarrassment by continual yells of "Sit down."

The splendor and magnificence of the dedicatory exercises caught the fancy of the immense throng, but there is a political aspect of to-day's events that is the principal subject of talk to-night in the hotel lobbies, which are thronged with hundreds of men prominent in the nation, senators, congressmen and governors being included in the number. This talk begins with the splendid reception accorded Grover Cleveland through southern Illinois and Indiana, which have been considered Bryan strongholds. Evidence of this popular favor in which the ex-president is held was made more apparent to-day. While politicians are discussing these facts they do not pretend to say that he is a candidate for the presidency. They rather think that he is not. They do not even say that these demonstrations can be interpreted to mean that his nomination is desired. They argue, however, that one lesson is to be observed, and that is that the Democratic masses are dissatisfied with the present leadership and that a change is desired. That change, they contend, is unmistakably from Bryan towards Cleveland, Gorman or Parker.

Never was the contrast in the character of two men more impressively demonstrated than to-day.

JUDGE W. R. ALLEN.

Ranks Among the Ablest of the State's Superior Court Judges.

It is with great pleasure and gratification that we copy the following comprehensive and accurate estimate of our learned townsman and esteemed friend Judge W. R. Allen from the Public Ledger, of Oxford, the home of Judge Allen's mother—and therefore this high compliment must be the more gratifying to him, who has always been noted for his filial devotion:

"We have known but few judges who, in our opinion, were so well equipped for the high position as Judge Wm. R. Allen, who has held the last two terms of Granville Superior Court. In this opinion we believe both the people and the bar concur, as he is very popular with both. He has a well-balanced legal mind. His thoughts and expressions are never "muddy." His mind is strong, clear and coherent. His diction is finished and yet plain, so that everybody understands him. He never tries to make a show of his learning, but always goes straight to the mark, which is true, we think, of the really good jurists.

He has a mind of his own because he knows the law. While on the bench he seldom refers to the books, but seems to have the law at ready command from memory. The editor was especially impressed with his charge to the grand jury. Every sentence of it was clear and impressive and could not possibly be misunderstood, and yet there was no needless repetition. His charges to the petit jury were comprehensive and covered every point of the evidence and were made without the use of notes. To both sides he was eminently fair, as all the attorneys of our bar will agree.

His demeanor on the bench is always dignified and becoming. While never severe, he maintains the best of order in his court. He does not have to ask for order, but commands the respect which always secures it.

Perhaps his strongest quality is that he thinks for himself and allows no influence to swerve him from the course of justice. While this is true he is never unkind or harsh to attorneys or others, but is glad to give them all a patient hearing. He is sympathetic, but at the same time believes that crime must be punished.

Judge Allen has a number of relatives in Granville, this county being the home of his mother, and also a large host of friends and admirers. He will return to this county again to hold court just before his term of office expires. We shall ever entertain for him the highest esteem and respect, as will the bar here and the good people of Granville county.

With his high character and splendid equipment we believe that the future holds in store for him still greater honors, and in our opinion he will adorn the Supreme Court bench.

In what we have said of our distinguished friend of the county of our birth we have not aimed to be fulsome in our praise of him. We have only tried to express our honest opinion.

ROOSEVELT TO DEWEY.

Sends Congratulations to Admiral George Dewey.

Washington, May 4.—The navy department to-day made public a telegram sent by President Roosevelt to Admiral Dewey, May 1, as follows:

Topeka, Kan., May 1.

Admiral George Dewey, Washington, D. C.

On this anniversary of your great service to the nation, I wish you all possible happiness and a long life.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

CAUSE OF SMALLPOX.

It Is Attributed to the Micro-Organism Representative of the Lowest Form of Animal Life.

Boston, April 28.—The announcement of the discovery of the cause of smallpox was made to-night by Dr. William Councilman, professor of pathology in the Harvard Medical School, at a meeting of the Boston Society of Medical Science. The announcement is the outcome of the investigations conducted by Dr. Councilman, Dr. George Burgess McGrath and Dr. Walter Ramsen Brinckerhoff, the co-operation of the Boston board of health during the recent epidemic of the disease in this city. It has been determined that smallpox is caused by the micro-organism representative of the lowest form of animal life.

This fact serves to show a relation between smallpox and such diseases as malaria and to distinguish it from any other infectious diseases caused by bacteria.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. S. E. White Died Suddenly in a Bath Room.

Concord, N. C., April 30.—Mrs. S. E. White, daughter of the late Mr. R. W. Allison, and sister of Senator J. P. Allison and Mrs. J. M. Odell, has died at Fort Null. She seemed in perfect health and was on the piazza talking to her husband, Capt. S. E. White. She got up, walked into the bath room and fell, her death being almost immediate. She leaves one child, Mrs. Leroy Springs.

FOUND GUILTY.

James Howard Gets Life Imprisonment For Killing Governor Goebel.

Frankfort, Ky., April 30.—In the third trial of James Howard for the killing of Governor William Goebel over three years ago, the prisoner was found guilty. The jury could not agree at first and Judge Cantrill sent them back with instructions to stay until they did agree.

Half an hour later the jury came in with a verdict of murder and fixed the punishment at life imprisonment.

Death was favored by all but juror Burkes, who announced that he would under no circumstances vote for the death penalty, and a verdict for life sentence was agreed upon.

NATURE'S OWN CURE.

Hyomei Cures Catarrh Without Dangerous Drugging of the Stomach.

Not until Hyomei was discovered has it been possible to truthfully say that a remedy for catarrh was known.

This remedy is breathed through the Hyomei inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and during that time every particle of air taken into the air passages and lungs is impregnated with the germ killing and health giving Hyomei. It is the only treatment that cures catarrh.

Stomach drugging often causes disordered digestion or brings on some other diseases and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hyomei not only kills the germs in the throat and nose but penetrates to the minutest air cells in the lungs and enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood. It frees the mucous membrane from poisonous microbes and gives perfect health.

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

J. H. Hill & Son have so much faith in the merit of Hyomei that they agree to return the money to any purchaser who may be dissatisfied.

The plucky fellow who has the courage to face the chances and rely upon his own judgment is very apt to succeed in the long run. He it is that becomes a leader and gains a reputation for enterprise. Extreme timidity never succeeded in business. Results are what count these days, and the world cannot help admiring the man who has done something. It is an age of hero worshippers of all.

Mr. Bryan's frequent and vicious attacks upon Mr. Cleveland have by no means injured the latter in the public estimation. On the contrary, they have only weakened Mr. Bryan himself. These attacks have produced a widespread impression that the Nebraskan has taken his own defeats with a poor grace, and has developed a decidedly vindictive spirit. On the other hand Mr. Cleveland's treatment of Mr. Bryan's thrusts at him have been generally approved, and have raised him in the public estimation. They are two entirely different stamps of man.

Brunswick, Ga., April 30.—The cornerstone of the ten million dollar steel plant of the Mohawk Steel and Wire Company was laid here to-day with appropriate exercises. Thousands of people gathered on the site to hear the addresses and participate in the ceremonies. Former Senator John L. McLaurin of South Carolina, was the principal speaker, Congressman W. C. Brantley, Colonel E. C. Machin, President Umsted of the Mohawk Company, and Mayor Crawford also spoke. The occasion marks the beginning of one of the biggest enterprises ever launched in the South.

It is, indeed, time the Democratic party was doing some good, solid thinking for itself. It is hoped that its past experiences will point out the importance of this, and that the party will not permit itself again to be intoxicated by a spurt of eloquence with catch-phrases and dazzling word pictures. There is no need for a boss. There has already been too much bossism. A sound, conservative leader with a heart full of patriotism is what is needed.

It is a hard job to reform the fool family. It is so large and varied, if not very influential. And it is constantly growing. But when we come to think a-out it, people are so often called fools when they differ with the one sitting in judgment. In the average case the man who cannot make the other fellow agree with him thinks he is a fool. We once heard a man define a crank as a name given to a man by fools who did not understand him.

Richmond, Va., April 29.—The capitol building, which collapsed thirty-three years ago, is believed to be in a dangerous condition. On the upper floor, on which are the offices of the governor and secretary of the commonwealth, a crack three-quarters of an inch wide appeared to-day. The capitol commission, which has been empowered to expend $100,000 for repairs, has been called to meet Friday. Members of the House are considerably worked up over the matter.

TWO HARD CASES.

A Man and His Wife Found Guilty of Selling Whiskey.

Deputy Marshal P. A. Mitchell, of Raleigh, was in the city Friday with several convicts who were sentenced by Judge Purnell at the Federal Court in Newbern last week.

Among the prisoners was an old one-legged man named Joe Harrison, who was being taken to the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. He had been sent to Federal prisons twice before for selling whiskey without license in Beaufort county. His wife and two small children were here with him to-day and the group made a picture that was not pleasant to contemplate.

The wife was also sentenced to 13 months in the Nashville, Tenn., Federal prison, but on account of her condition Judge Purnell suspended judgment and the good people of Newbern contributed the money to pay the cost and to pay her way back home.

She was going along with Deputy Marshal J. A. Potter, who was taking two other white men to the county jail in Washington and one negro to Greenville.

The saddest part of the scene came when old man Harrison hobbled out to the train with his baby in his arms to tell his family good-bye, perhaps for the last time, as he will probably not live to complete his sentence.

Letter to Dr. W. H. H. Cobb, Goldsboro, N. C.

Dear Sir: For your house, no matter what's the matter with it—it isn't a human you know—a prescription; Devco lead and zinc. Apply with a brush, from one to three coats—get a painter to do it.

Your state chemist knows all about Devco; has analyzed it; reports it pure; will analyze it occasionally. He buys it wherever he likes—it is generally in the best paint-store in town.

You know what the color and dryer are for; do you know what the lead and zinc and oil are for? Not being a painter, you may not choose to know; but we'll tell you.

Lead and zinc and oil combine to form a rubbery waterproof coat to keep out dampness. That's the whole business.

The oil would do it alone; lead and oil would do it, without the zinc; zinc and oil without lead; but the three together are best, because they wear best.

We say to you, "get a painter," as we'd say to him "get a doctor"—every man to his trade. Can't all be painters and doctors; don't want to.

You will be more successful in a prosperous looking house; and he in good health. Take good care of one another.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.
