ELECTORAL VOTES.

The republicans who accept Congressman Grosvenor's canvass of the electoral vote for 1904 are almost certain to be disappointed when the returns are in. Grosvenor concedes votes from "sure!y republican states" -24 more than a majority-leaving 62 votes in the doubtful column. But makes up as surely republican he has California's 10 votes, which the demcrats carried in 1892 by a plurality nois, 27 votes, which the democrats carried by 26,903; Indiana, 15 votes, consin, 13 votes, which the democrais carried by 6,470. These states give a total of 91 votes. If the democrats make a platform and nominate a candidate in 1904 acceptable to the business interests as well as the agricultural interests of the country, there is every reason to believe that the democrats would do as well as tainly carry several of the states that Congressman Grosvenor sets down
