

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT.

Along the path of every life, death awaits; none can escape its unsparing stroke. Not only does it claim those who have reached the feebleness of age but also those in the unwasted vigor of youth. Wealth cannot buy it off, nor honor and greatness secure exemption from it. The decree has been issued: "Dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return."

In obedience to the inevitable summons, one of our number has made answer, and crossed the bourne from which there is no return. Allen Moore has been numbered with the dead.

As we meet in council to-night, we desire to pay our tribute of affection and honor to his memory. Wherefore be it

Resolved: That in the death of Bro. Moore, we have lost a member that was true and worthy, and highly esteemed by his brethren for his many good qualities, and his excellent character, whose presence we shall miss, and whose memory we shall delight to cherish.

Resolved further: That a copy of this paper be spread on our minutes; that it be published in our city papers, and a copy be sent to the widow of our deceased brother, with an expression of our deepest sympathy for her in her great loss and sore bereavement.

FRANCE AND MOROCCO.

The new French-English treaty recognizes the possible overlordship of France in Morocco, and the action of the United States in requesting France to use her influence with the sultan of Morocco to induce him to act in securing the liberation of Iron Perdicaris, is of like import. We, too have recognized the possible inclusion of Morocco in a French sphere of influence.

France is practically recognized as the suzerain, and for that reason, if for no other, she is restive under the presence of so many threatening ships at Tangier. She will be glad to see some of them depart, but this is just what they will not do. They are at Tangier to secure the release from the hands of Bandit Rasiuli of Iron Perdicaris, and American citizen. If France by hook or crook secures his release, well and good. The incident would then be ended, but if France cannot accomplish the task then this country will have to take a step that means war. Cavalry and a force of marines would have to be landed, and the bandit hunted down. This would not be an easy task, but now that we have entered upon the business it must be carried to an ending.

It is practically settled that this country will pay no ransom. The ransom paid in the case of Miss Stone probably led up to the capture of Perdicaris. Kidnapping cannot be stopped through the payment of ransoms. It can be promoted in that way, and this government will not enter upon promotion of that sort. Bandit Rasiuli must either give up Perdicaris, or else the government must hunt him down, no matter what the sultan may do, or France may say. The chances are good that France and the sultan of Morocco will between them find a way out of the difficulty.
