It does seem utterly unfair to require the President of the United States to pay duty of twice as much as the articles themselves are worth on a lot of souvenirs thrust upon his daughter as a compliment to the high office of President of the United States.

While President Roosevelt is on one of his tours it was suspected that the Kaiser would get mixed up in an automobile mishap or do something or other to keep the public from forgetting that he is no small potato in the strenuous life himself.

There is no reason why Iowa's decrease of population should create comment. People who have been to Iowa understand that it is easy for a man to make up his mind to leave there if he has a half-way invitation to go anywhere else.

President Roosevelt told the students of Trinity college, at Durham, a profound truth when he said: "Remember that your having gone through college does not so much confer a special privilege, as it imposes a special obligation, on you."

President Roosevelt is having every opportunity to appreciate Southern hospitality. He is beginning to know the Southern people better, and they, to know him better, and both are desirable.

It is said that Hon. Chauncey Depew is getting serious. Has anybody heard of any select list of jokes from him since his connection with the life insurance business was aired?

They are beginning to have some more warm politics in New York, and the big life insurance companies are in hopes this will induce the public to "forget it" for a while.

If Philadelphia will wake up sufficiently to chase out its army of grannies the public will be willing to stop charging that city with being fast asleep.

New Orleans would give the Honorable Jack Frost as hearty a reception as if he were the President of the United States.

Mr. McCurdy decides he will stick to his job, and the policyholder gets stuck as one of the results of the decision.

CAUSE FOR PRIDE.

Charlotte news.
North Carolina has a lot of things in which she leads, to be proud of. Over a million 310,000 pounds of tobacco are manufactured each year and 18,000,000 pounds of leaf tobacco are sold on the Winston market annually. If that's not a record breaker it comes dangerously near it.

Then only a few paces from Winston-Salem is the second greatest furniture manufacturing town in the United States, High Point, having over 80 furniture factories alone, outside of many other manufacturing establishments, including an electric car plant.

When you take a trip through the eastern part of the State you run up on the greatest strawberry-shipping station in the world, and a back-track trail will carry you to the "Land of the Sky," where some of the rarest jewels of the world are found, and where the mountain scenery surpasses even the grandeur of the Rockies.

These are only a few of the things in which we take the lead. A few minutes reflection will make a man proud he's a son of old North Carolina, if he were not before, and will convince him that he is justly so.

MONEY LOST—Last Saturday,

somewhere between Stone Creek bridge on the A. & N. C. R. R. and Miller's station, $125.00 all in bills: 4 $20 bills, 4 $10 bills and one $5.00 bill. Liberal reward will be paid for the return to the Argus office.

VALUE OF HELPING OURSELVES.

In the September Arena Dr. Agnes Valentine Kelly makes an appeal to Northern friends to contribute to the cause of education among the poorer classes of the South, and says comparatively few people in the North know of the comparative helplessness of many of the Southern states as a result of the Civil war. Dr. Kelly adds: "The people of many of these commonwealths, notably Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi, are poor. The states are poor. The governments are not in a condition as yet to furnish popular education for their people, especially in the rural and outlying districts. I think it is safe to say that no people in the confines of our republic are more eager or anxious for education today than the white citizens of the rural districts of Louisiana, Alabama and adjoining states; and I as fully believe that it is equally true that when the problem of popular education in these rural districts is solved we shall have gone a long way toward solving the race question. These states are potentially rich, but they are paralyzed, and until they are in a position to give good school facilities to industrious, enterprising, home-building people the tide of new life that should be pouring into their borders will pass to other commonwealths."

It will doubtless be many years yet before a good many people in the North and East fully realize that while the South was once poor, as the result primarily of the widespread desolation wrought by the Civil war and the period of reconstruction, the South is today rich and growing richer.

Of the total exports of the country last year 41 per cent came from the South. The total value of the South's exports last year reached the enormous amount of $615,980,911.

With its immense agricultural interests, its unlimited minerals, its great forests, its factories, mines, shippings and varied industries, the South today is one of the richest regions in the world.

The South has fully recovered from the Civil war, and the South's development is a chapter in the industrial field that commands the admiration of the civilized globe. Alabama and Mississippi, states which Dr. Kelly specifies as comparatively helpless in poverty, are rich states, and making more industrial progress than any states of the North or West.

It has come to be a habit among many misinformed people of the North to speak of the South as ground down in poverty. The South is amply able to educate its own children. All that is needed is to arouse public sentiment in the South to the value of education as a factor in the creation of high citizenship. This thing of depending on others to do for us what we can do ourselves is not only unwise but harmful as well.

The whole influence of self-reliance must not be underestimated. The value of local pride, of the consciousness of having performed our duty must be kept in mind.

The interest which self-help stimulates in a great cause should not be lost sight of. This lesson is rapidly being learned by the Southern people.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR

HE IS RECEIVING A GREAT OVAATION IN THE SOUTH.

His Speeches Breathe the True American Spirit, and Thrill His Hearers with Patriotic Impulses and Inspire Them to the Fulfillment of High Civic Duties.

That was a great gathering of North Carolinians—the greatest the State has ever seen—gathered in Raleigh this morning to greet President Roosevelt and welcome him to North Carolina, the best State in the Union, and right royally was he received and with sincere joy beaming from his countenance did the President look out upon the vast gathering and wave them salutations in recognition of their acclamations as he drove through the densely lined streets of the Capital, with Mrs. Roosevelt by his side and Lieut. Governor Winston seated with him, preceded, surrounded and followed by a pageant of the State's marshaled manhood, military and State officials such as Raleigh has never seen before.

And throughout that vast ocean of humanity, representative of our State's best citizenry, from every section and neighborhood of our great Commonwealth, the spirit of Americanism predominated, and with prideful, congenial unity they made the President feel that it was good, indeed, to be the guest of North Carolina, and that he was safe and welcome in the midst of her so patriotic and so noble people.

At the depot, upon the arrival of the presidential special, Mr. Roosevelt and party were received by the specially appointed committee composed of representative citizens from all over the State, with whom he cordially shook hands, and as he did so he had a ready word for each of them individually, until ex-Governor Aycock confronted him, whom he instantly recognized and holding his hand in both of his, restrained him from passing until he could give expression to his personal joy at meeting him again—"and if you should come to Washington," said the President, "during my term, be sure to let me know a day or two ahead, as I want to be there and have a talk with you." The Argus man was next in line, and beside Governor Aycock, when the President thus cordially greeted him.

From the depot the President and party were driven to the hall of the North Carolina Historical Society, where, at the request of Ex-Governor Aycock, the newly elected President of the society, he presented to Mr. Jno. Chas. McNeill a beautiful loving cup, on behalf of the society, the gift of Mrs. Lindsey Patterson, which we are unable to report, as we took the first train out of the crowded city for home before the incident took place.

Owing to the absence of Governor Glenn, in attendance upon his late brother's funeral at Greensboro, Ex-Governor Winston represented his Excellency, and introduced the President at the Fair Ground auditorium, where he was to speak at 11 o'clock, after which, at 1 o'clock, he was to leave on his special to proceed on his tour of the South Atlantic States.

In the parade that reviewed before the President, Goldsboro's Boys' Brigade, in their bright uniforms, and splendid accuracy of march, was the predominant attraction, while our two military companies evinced any other distinctive military organization, except the cadets of the A. & M. College, than which we have never seen a more attractive military exhibition.

Our Fall assortment of suits and overcoats is spread open to make selection easy, and a few minutes with us will influence you to shake your last season's garments for others of our superior make. We show all good kinds at a fair price.

WALTER LETTER.

The Doings and Sayings of a Week In and Around Our Thriving Neighborhood.

ARGUS BUREAU
WALTER, N. C.
Oct. 25, 1905.

Mrs. Geo. Becton and daughter Miss Lizzie spent part of last week near Stantonbury, visiting Mrs. Becton's mother Mrs. Indiana Yelverton.

Mr. Charlie Neal left last week for Spencer, where he goes to enter the railroad service. His many friends wish him much success.

Mrs. Jno. R. Smith and Miss Vanie Smith, of your city, spent Sunday here where we were glad to see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Thedie Hill, from Eureka, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Sasser last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Sasser returned home Saturday from Raleigh, where they were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Jordan.

Messrs. Albert Howell and Geo. Mitchell spent last Saturday in Smithfield on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Aycock returned home yesterday afternoon from Mr. Lon Dails where Mrs. Aycock has been spending several days with her mother.

Many friends will be glad to know that Mrs. Geo. Massey, near Oakland, who has been sick for several weeks, is improving and we hope soon to see her fully restored.

We were glad to meet in your city our friend of boyhood days, Mr. J. D. Birdin, the clever Clerk of Court of Wilson county. He was on his return home from a few days rest and recreation at Morehead City. He is the same clever, genial fellow of old, and we were indeed glad to see him.

Toby has been in a little hard luck today. He says he has had about four or five colics, just the same old-fashioned kind, none of the new issue of gastralgia, appendicitis, etc., of modern architecture, but a regular old timey two by four by sixteen case. That is, it is two minutes coming, four hours staying, and sixteen hours recovering from the effects. At the same time he had two or three backaches, and a pair of headaches. But we are glad he is better.

A negro boy giving his name as Jim Cook, broke into Haywood Whites house, an old colored man, on Mr. Wiley Edmundson's place, last Friday, and stole a coat and vest. Mr. Herbert Pearce saw him come out of the house, and informed the old darkey, and they hurriedly drove to Holt's Mill, and in a few minutes he walked up, and they captured him, and the stolen goods. He was tried before Mr. James Edwards, and bound over to court, and now boards in your city. He belonged to the Circus, and was making his way to Smithfield.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How to Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with water and let it stand twenty-four hours; add a pinch of sediment or sediment indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it floats, your line is all right; if it sinks, it is evidence of kidney trouble; the frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery free of charge, and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., P.O. Box 53, Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Wayne County Appointments.

Mrs. Williams is to speak at Hood Swamp on missions Oct. 30th at 7 o'clock.

PINE BUFF ITEMS.

Jack Frost has visited us. Mrs. R. G. Pittman is improving. Miss Annie Edgerton, who has been attending the school at Genoa, visited her parents her first of the week.

We are all very sorry Mr. Roof Holland continues to be confined to his bed.

A crowd of our young people attended the Association, held at Lower Black Creek Sunday.

Don't forget the Quarterly Meeting at Nahama the 27th, 28th and 29th. Everybody is invited to attend. Bring dinner on Saturday and try for the lecture at 2 o'clock by Prof. Hoff. There will also be a lecture at half-past seven on Foreign Missions, by Anna Edgerton Williams.

COMMUNICATION FROM J. H. HILL & SON.

Offer to Refund Money if Hyomel Does not Cure Catarrh.

To the Editor of the Argus:

We have been asked recently if the advertisements printed in your columns regarding Hyomel were true, where we offer to refund the money if this treatment does not cure catarrh. We wish you would please print this letter in as conspicuous a place as possible in your paper, saying that we absolutely agree to refund the money to any purchaser of a Hyomel outfit if it does not cure catarrh.

This outfit consists of an inhaler of a convenient size to be carried in the vest pocket so that the user can breathe Hyomel four or five times daily. With this is included a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel. The outfit sells for $1.00 and is most economical treatment, for the inhaler lasts a lifetime and there is enough Hyomel for several weeks' use, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

We trust this letter will settle any doubts that may have arisen as to our willingness to refund the money for a Hyomel outfit, in case the purchaser is not perfectly satisfied. Respectfully yours,
J. H. HILL & SON.

Pierce-Montague.

A beautiful home wedding took place Wednesday evening, Oct. 18, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Montague, at Scottsville, in this county, when Mr. Bertie Pierce, a popular and prosperous young farmer of the Seely section, led to the hymeneal altar Miss Blanche Montague, one of Wayne county's most sterling young women, whose admiring friends are legion, whose best wishes clustered round her in her bridal hour and will abide with her through life.

The attendants were, Miss Belle Montague, sister of the bride, with Mr. Willis Thompson; Miss Etta Pierce, sister of the groom, with Mr. Ernest Deans; Miss Caroline Edgerton with Mr. Gilbert Holland; Miss Ellen Ham with Mr. Connet Doss, and the officiating minister was Rev. Whitford Edgerton.

After the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large assemblage of friends of the contracting parties (near and far, the happy young couple and their bridal attendants together with many of their friends), drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Whit Edgerton, where an old time wedding supper was served, with good old Southern hospitality, and where the night was spent.

The Kidneys

When they are weak, torpid, or stagnant, the whole system suffers. Don't neglect them at this time, but heed the warning of the aching back, the bloated face, the sallow complexion, the urinary disorder, and begin treatment at once with Hood's Sarsaparilla which contains the best and safest curative substances.
